

Final Night

Short Stories

A surrealist painting of a boat on a dark, reflective water. The boat's hull and interior are composed of various geometric shapes and colors, including white, grey, and black. Several faces are integrated into the boat's structure: a large, pale face with dark eyes and a black mouth is prominent on the side; another face with large, dark eyes is visible inside the boat; and a third face with a single large eye is on the right side. The background is a dark, purple-hued sky with distant, dark mountains. The overall style is abstract and dreamlike.

The Anchor Book of Modern Arabic Fiction Denys Johnson-Davies, 2010-03-31. This dazzling anthology features the work of seventy-nine outstanding writers from all over the Arab-speaking world, from Morocco in the west to Iraq in the east, Syria in the north to Sudan in the south. Edited by Denys Johnson-Davies, called by Edward Said the leading Arabic to English translator of our time, this treasury of Arab voices is diverse in styles and concerns but united by a common language. It spans the full history of modern Arabic literature from its roots in western cultural influence at the end of the nineteenth century to the present-day flowering of Naguib Mahfouz's literary sons and daughters. Among the Egyptian writers who laid the foundation for the Arabic literary renaissance are the great Tawfik al-Hakim, the short-story pioneer Mahmoud Teymour and Yusuf Idris, who embraced Egypt's vibrant spoken vernacular. An excerpt from the Sudanese writer Tayeb Salih's novel Season of Migration to the North, one of the Arab world's finest, appears alongside the Libyan writer Ibrahim al-Koni's tales of the Tuaregs of North Africa, the Iraqi writer Mohamed Khudayir's masterly story Clocks Like Horses, and the work of such women writers as Lebanon's Hanan al-Shaykh and Morocco's Leila Abouzeid.

Cognitive Approach to Ernest Hemingway's Short Fiction Gabriela Tucan, 2021-04-09 How do readers make sense of Hemingway's short stories How is it possible that the camera like quality of his narrative can appeal to our senses and arouse our emotions How does it capture us With reserved narrators and protagonists engaged in laconic dialogs his texts do not seem to say much This book consciously revisits our responses to the Hemingway story a belated response to his invitation to discover what lies beneath the surface of his iceberg What this pioneering critical endeavor seeks to understand is the thinking required in reading Hemingway's short fiction It proposes a cognitively informed model of reading which questions the resources of the reader's imaginative powers The cognitive demonstrations here are designed to have potentially larger implications for the short story's general mode of knowing Drawing from both cognitively oriented poetics and narratology in equal measure this book explains what structures our interaction with literary texts
