Gender, Migration and Domestic Service Janet Henshall Momsen, 2003-09-02 This book examines a wide range of migration patterns which have arisen and exposes the tensions and difficulties including legal and empowerment issues cultural and language diversities and barriers the impact of live in employment The book features case studies taken from Europe South and North America the Caribbean Asia and Africa and uses original fieldwork using quantitative and qualitative methods

Gender, Migration and Domestic Service Jacqueline Andall, 2017-03-02 The book examines the experiences of Black women in Italy from the 1970s to the 1990s Although Italy is still perceived as a recent immigration country the book demonstrates how Black women were among the first groups of new migrants to the country Black women migrating to Italy were employed almost exclusively as live in domestic workers and detailed attention is paid to the history and political organization of this sector Unlike much published work in Italian this book adopts an integrated form of analysis where gender ethnicity and class are seen to be interconnected constructs The book also situates Black women within the framework of the national constituency of gender This approach challenges the ideology surrounding the Italian family and demonstrates that while live in domestic work created specific forms of social marginality for Black women it paradoxically allowed Italian women to express their new social identities within and outside the family The book concludes that Italian women have largely failed in their attempts to transform the division of labour within the home and that the decision to employ other migrant women to fulfill household tasks is a trend which sits uneasily within the framework of an inclusive feminist project for women

Gender, Migration and Domestic Service R. Devi Laishram, 2014 Gender, Migration and Domestic Work M. Kilkey, D. Perrons, A. Plomien, 2013-02-21 Based on studies conducted in the UK and USA this book investigates the experiences of suppliers and consumers of masculinized domestic services exploring issues such as increasing inequality migration the rise of commoditized domestic services contemporary masculinities and the gendering of paid work

Migration and Domestic Work Helma Lutz, 2016-04-22 Domestic work has become highly relevant on a local and global scale Until a decade ago domestic workers were rare in European households today they can be found working for middle class families and single people for double or single parents as well as for the elderly Performing the three C s cleaning caring and cooking domestic workers offer their woman power on a global market which Europe has become part of This global market is now considered the largest labour market for women world wide and it has triggered the feminization of migration This volume brings together contributions by European and US based researchers to look at the connection between migration and domestic work on an empirical and theoretical level The contributors elaborate on the phenomenon of domestic work in late modern societies by discussing different methodological and theoretical approaches in an interdisciplinary setting The volume also looks at the gendered aspects of domestic work it asks why the re introduction of domestic workers in European households has become so popular and will argue that this phenomenon is challenging gender theories This is a timely book and will be of interest to academics and students in the fields of migration gender and European studies

Migration and Domestic Work Gaye Yilmaz,Sue Ledwith,2017-04-18 With female migrants dominating low paid and ever expanding domestic work worldwide this book brings together the voices of 120 migrating women of 28 national identities and 10 different religious affiliations Together they tell how patriarchal and religious gender codes in the family and at work shape their new lives in London Berlin and Istanbul Through their own accounts the study explores the intersecting multiple and gendered identities women carry from their home countries and how these are reshaped challenged changed or not as they encounter different structures traditions and cultural codes in their new countries With women s propensity for collective organising whether via community social movements or trade unions as a central theme the authors also bring together issues of migration work and identity with trade union and community organizing Migration and Domestic Work is an important source for scholars and practitioners in each of these fields

Migration and Domestic Work Sabrina Marchetti,2022-08-24 This open access short reader offers a systematic overview of the scholarly debate on the experiences of migrant domestic workers at a global level in the past as well as in present time It tackles the nexus between migration and domestic work with a multi layered approach The book looks into the issue of paid domestic work in migratory contexts by investigating the feminization of migration thereby considering the larger framework within which this specific phenomenon takes place The author explains notions such as the international division of reproductive labor or global care chains which emphasize the inequality in the way care and domestic tasks are distributed today between middle class women in receiving nations and migrant domestic workers Moreover the book shows how women migrating to work in the domestic work and private care sector are facing a complex landscape of migration and labor regulations that are extremely difficult to navigate At the same time this issue also addresses employers households who cannot find appropriate or affordable care among declining welfare states and national workers reluctant to take the job whilst legal regulations make difficult to hire a domestic worker who is a third country national As such this book offers an interesting read to academics policy makers and all those working in the field

Towards a Global History of Domestic and Caregiving Workers ,2015-05-26 Domestic and caregiving work has been at the core of human existence throughout history Poorly paid or even unpaid this work has been assigned to women in most societies and occasionally to men often as enslaved indentured adopted workers While some use domestic service as training for their own future independent households others are confined to it for life and try to avoid damage to their identities Part One Employment conditions are even worse in colonizer colonized dichotomies in which the subalternized have to run the households of administrators who believe they are running an empire Part Two Societies and states set the discriminatory rules those employed develop strategies of resistance or self protection Part Three A team of international scholars addresses these issues globally with a deep historical background Contributors are Ally Shireen Eileen Boris Dana Cooper Jennifer Fish David R Goodman Mary Gene De Guzman Jaira Harrington Victoria Haskins Dirk Hoerder Elizabeth Hordge Freeman Majda Hrenjak Elizabeth Hutchison Dimitris Kalantzopoulos Bela Kashyap Marta Kindler Anna Kordasiewicz Ms Lokesh Sabrina Marchetti Robyn Pariser Jessica Richter Magaly Rodriguez Garcia Raffaella Sarti Ad la Souralov Yukari Takai and Andrew Urban

Home economics Sacha Hepburn, 2022-08-16 Domestic service has long been one of the largest forms of urban employment across southern Africa Home economics provides the first comprehensive history of this essential sector in the decades following independence and the end of apartheid Focusing on Lusaka and drawing wider comparisons the book traces how Black workers and employers adapted existing models of domestic service as part of broader responses to changing gendered employment patterns economic decline and endemic poverty It reveals how kin based domestic service gradually displaced wage labour and how women and girl workers came to dominate kin based and waged domestic service with profound consequences for labour regulation and worker organising Theoretically innovative and empirically rich the book provides essential insights into debates about gender work and urban economies that are critical to understanding southern Africa's post colonial and post apartheid history

Paid Migrant Domestic Labour in a Changing Europe Berit Gullikstad, Guro Korsnes Kristensen, Priscilla Ringrose, 2016-07-13 This book analyses the changing face of work gender equality and citizenship in Europe Drawing on in depth research conducted in nine different countries it focuses on the discourses social relations and political processes that surround paid domestic labour In doing so it rethinks the vital relationship between this kind of employment the formal and informal citizenship of migrant workers and their employers and the cultural and political value of gender equality Approaching these as fluid complex and interrelated phenomena that change according to local context it will appeal to sociologists political scientists geographers anthropologists and gender studies scholars

Handbook Global History of Work Karin Hofmeester, Marcel van der Linden, 2017-11-20 Coffee from East Africa wine from California chocolate from the Ivory Coast all those everyday products are based on labour often produced under appalling conditions but always involving the combination of various work processes we are often not aware of What is the day to day reality for workers in various parts of the world and how was it in the past How do they work today and how did they work in the past These and many other questions comprise the field of the global history of work a young discipline that is introduced with this handbook In 8 thematic chapters this book discusses these aspects of work in a global and long term perspective paying attention to several kinds of work Convict labour slave and wage labour labour migration and workers of the textile industry but also workers organisation strikes and motivations for work are part of this first handbook of global labour history written by the most renowned scholars of the profession Colonialism and Male Domestic Service across the Asia Pacific Julia Martínez, Claire Lowrie, Frances Steel, Victoria Haskins, 2018-11-29 Examining the role of Asian and indigenous male servants across the Asia Pacific from the late 19th century to the 1930s this study shows how their ubiquitous presence in these purportedly humble jobs gave them a degree of cultural influence that has been largely overlooked in the literature on labour mobility in the age of empire With case studies from British Hong Kong Singapore Northern Australia Fiji and British Columbia French Indochina the American Philippines and the Dutch East Indies the book delves into the intimate and often conflicted relationships between European and American colonists and their servants It explores the lives of houseboys cooks and gardeners in the colonial home considers the bell boys and waiters in the grand colonial hotels and follows the stewards and cabin boys on steamships travelling across the Indian and Pacific Oceans This broad conception of service allows Colonialism and Male Domestic Service to illuminate trans colonial or cross border influences through the mobility of servants and their employers This path breaking study is an important book for students and scholars of colonialism labour history and the Asia Pacific region Colonization and Domestic Service Victoria K. Haskins, Claire Lowrie, 2014-12-05 This book brings together two key themes that have not been addressed together previously in any sustained way domestic service and colonization Existing studies of domestic service rarely make mention of colonization but colonization offers a rich and exciting new paradigm for analysing the phenomenon of domestic labour by non family workers paid and otherwise Scholars in diverse fields and disciplines here share new and stimulating insights on the various connections between domestic employment and the processes of colonization both past and present in a range of original essays Proletarian and Gendered Mass Migrations , 2013-05-02 Proletarian and Gendered Mass Migrations connects the 19th and 20th century labor migrations and migration systems in global transcultural perspective It emphasizes macro regional internal continuities or discontinuities and interactions between and within macro regions The essays look at migrant workers experiences in constraining frames and the options they seize or constraints they circumvent It traces the development from 19th century proletarian migrations to industries and plantations across the globe to 20th and 21st century domestics and caregiver migrations It integrates male and female migration and shows how women have always been present in mass migrations Studies on historical development over time are supplemented by case studies on present migrations in Asia and from Asia A systems approach is combined with human agency perspectives Contributors include Rochelle Ball Shelly Chan Dennis D Cordell Michael Douglass Christiane Harzig Dirk Hoerder Muhamad Nadratuzzaman Hosen Hass ne Kassar Kamel Kateb Amarjit Kaur Kiranjit Kaur Gijs Kessler Akram Khater Elizabeth A Kuznesof Vera Mackie Adam McKeown Tomoko Nakamatsu Ooi Keat Gin Aswatini Raharto Marlou Schrover and Patcharawalai Wongboonsin

Migration, Domestic Work and Affect Encarnación Gutiérrez-Rodríguez, 2010-12-22 Domestic and care work in private households is now the largest employment sector for migrant women This book sheds light on these households through its focus on the interpersonal relationships between Latin American undocumented migrant domestic workers and employers in Austria Germany Spain and the UK The personal experiences of these women form the basis for Gutierrez's decolonial analysis of the feminization of labor in private households and cultural analysis of domestic work as affective labor This book will be a necessary voice in the debates on citizenship cosmopolitanism and migrant workers rights

Gender and Development Janet Henshall Momsen, 2004 Extrait de la couverture Since the classic Women and development in the Third World was published over a decade ago a new awareness of the importance of gender roles in development has grown Globalization international migration refugees and conditions of war have brought these issues of gender and development to the public attention At the same time gender perspectives have become central to the many United Nations meetings on development including the Beijing Women's Conference This book focuses on these new challenges and the efforts to overcome them though the empowerment of women and men This accessible textbook provides an introduction to the topic that is based on the author's wide field experience Topical and up to date information and analysis are used throughout It contains a wealth of student friendly features including boxed case studies drawn from around the world

Employers, Agencies and Immigration Anna Triandafyllidou, Sabrina Marchetti, 2017-03-02 Exploring the performance by immigrants of domestic and care work in European households this book places the employer centre stage examining the role of the employer and his or her agents in securing the balance between work family and welfare needs as well as investigating both who the employers are and the nature of their relationships with migrant workers With attention to the dynamics of inequality as class ethnicity and gender become intertwined in a location that is at once home and workplace this volume is organised into sections that deal with the subjectivities of employers and their relationships with their employees in the home the re organisation of welfare and care arrangements at state level and the wider area of migrant domestic and care work with the transformation of the au pair scheme Bringing together the latest empirical work from across Europe Employers Agencies and Immigration will appeal to social scientists with interests in migration ethnic and class relations immigrant labour and domestic work and the sociology of the family

Gendered Work in Asian Cities Ann Brooks, 2016-04-15 Do the new Asian economies encourage gender equality Ann Brooks provides a unique insight into this question by assessing the impact of the new economy and the changing labour market on women in Asia Theoretical debates around globalization gender and social change are combined with empirical research on professional women in two cosmopolitan cities Hong Kong and Singapore The author's research shows that even in such cosmopolitan cities where women tend to have a strong advantage there is a new dynamic of inequality This makes the examination of women's labour market participation and ambition in these environments very different to previous research The research is set against the backdrop of Southeast Asia more generally and international comparisons are also drawn It will be of interest to scholars in sociology economics gender studies business studies and Asian studies

Everyday Transgressions Adelle

Blackett, 2019-04-15 The book's breadth and grounding in labor law make it most accessible and useful to a professional audience but even nonspecialists and lay readers will appreciate Blackett's insights about law and domestic work and provocative issues such as social stratification and immigration. Choice Adelle Blackett tells the story behind the International Labour Organization's ILO Decent Work for Domestic Workers Convention No 189 and its accompanying Recommendation No 201 which in 2011 created the first comprehensive international standards to extend fundamental protections and rights to the millions of domestic workers laboring in other people's homes throughout the world. As the principal legal architect, Blackett is able to take us behind the scenes to show us how Convention No 189 transgresses the everyday law of the household workplace to embrace domestic workers' human rights claim to be both workers like any other and workers like no other. In doing so, she discusses the importance of understanding historical forms of invisibility, recognizes the influence of the domestic workers themselves, and weaves in poignant experiences infusing the discussion of laws and standards with intimate examples and sophisticated analyses. Looking to the future, she ponders how international institutions such as the ILO will address labor market informality alongside national and regional law reform. Regardless of what comes next, Everyday Transgressions establishes that domestic workers' victory is a victory for the ILO and for all those who struggle for an inclusive transnational vision of labor law rooted in social justice.
