into the origin and historical development of these institutions and how they have been influenced by informal learning theory museum education and early childhood education while providing case studies of children s museums in China and the learning that takes place in them This research analyses the process of informal learning and provides guidance on ways of elevating children s cognitive and noncognitive development in the informal space Different stakeholders of children s museums including parents and educators practitioners and designers researchers of informal education early childhood education and policy makers will benefit from the insights provided in this book

Families as Learning Environments for Children Luis M. Laosa, Irving E. Sigel, 1982-11 The chapters in this volume reflect the work and thoughts of a group of researchers interested in studying families as learning environments for children As we proceed in our quest to identify and understand with some specificity the familial factors associated with the intellectual and social development of children the time is ripe for the reintroduction of families as units of study in psychological and educational research With the increasing focus on the changing organization of the modern family it is of more than academic interest to identify those variables that play a significant role in the child s development Such knowledge certainly should help in the planning and design of appropriate and credible applications These chapters representing a broad spectrum of research derive from papers presented and discussed at a working conference on families as learning environments sponsored by Educational Testing Service in Princeton New Jersey Following the conference the papers were revised and edited for inclusion in this volume We are indebted to a number of people whose contributions helped make the conference a success Samuel J Messick and Winton H Manning for their support Jan Flaughner Jessie Cryer Linda Kozelski and Betty Clausen for assistance with local arrangements and William Nemceff Kathleen Lingle and Kalina Gonska for help with the audio recording of the proceedings LUIS M LAOSA IRVING E SIGEL vii Contents Introduction XI Luis M Laosa Chapter 1 Families as Facilitators of Children s Intellectual Development at 3 Years of Age A Causal Analysis Learning Environments for Young Children Sandra
