Learning From The Asian Tigers Studies In Technology And Industrial Policy:

Learning from the Asian Tigers Sanjaya Lall, 1996-11-04 This is a collection of papers on industrial policy the role of governments in promoting industrial development and the particular significance of technology development Two essays deal with the general debate on industrial policy and the nature of technology development two are critical appraisals of the World Bank's approach to the debate on governments and markets four are case studies of policy making on aspects of industrialisation three in Asia and one in Africa The Politics of Trade and Industrial Policy in Africa Charles Chukwuma Soludo, Michael Osita Ogbu, Ha-Joon Chang, 2004 This book maps the process and political economy of policy making in Africa Its focus on trade and industrial policy makes it unique and it will appeal to students and academics in economics political economy political science and African studies Detailed case studies help the reader to understand how the process and motivation behind policy decisions can vary from country to country depending on the form of government ethnicity and nationality and other social factors Industrial Policy Challenges for India Smitha Francis, 2019-03-15 This book looks at the debates on global value chains GVCs and free trade agreements FTAs as springboards for industrial development in developing countries especially India It connects the outcomes in GVC led industrial restructuring and upgrading to industrial policy choices in trade and FDI liberalisation in particular those through FTAs With the share of manufacturing in GDP stagnant at around 15-16% since the 1980s India's policymakers have pinned their hopes on greater integration into GVCs to revitalise the manufacturing sector The multiple FTAs the country has signed over the last few years specifically the ones with the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN South Korea Malaysia and Japan have been sought to be rationalised using the same argument The book argues that failing to factor in the industrial policy causalities involved in sustainable indigenous technology development structural barriers to the entry into GVCs the assessments of the available evidence on the adverse impact of trade and FDI liberalisation as well as existing FTAs on firm level incentives for undertaking domestic production and the industrial policy constraints imposed by FTAs can prove costly for the trajectories of developing country economies including India Rich in data this book will be useful to scholars and researchers of development economics economics in general development studies and public policy as well as government bodies industry experts and policymakers The Politics of African Industrial Policy Lindsay Whitfield, Ole Therkildsen, Lars Buur, Anne Mette Kjær, 2015-07-02 This book engages in the debate on growth versus economic transformation and the importance of industrial policy presenting a comprehensive framework for explaining the politics of industrial policy Using comparative research to theorize about the politics of industrial policy in countries in the early stages of capitalist transformation that also experience the pressures of elections due to democratization this book provides four in depth African country studies that illustrate the challenges to economic transformation and the politics of implementing industrial policies The Battle for Asia Mark T. Berger, 2004-03-01 Asia has long been an ideological battleground between capitalism and communism between nationalism and Westernisation and between the nation state and globalization This book is a history of the Asian region from 1945 to the present day which delineates the various ideological battles over Asia's development Subjects covered include theories of development decolonization US political and economic intervention the effects of communism the end of the Cold War the rise of neo liberalism Asia after the crisis Asia in the era of globalisation Broad in sweep and rich in theory and empirical detail this is an essential account of the growth of Asian miracle and its turbulent position in the global economy of the twenty first century Asia's Free Trade Agreements Masahiro Kawai, Ganeshan Wignaraja, 2011 East Asia is the region of the world that is changing fastest in terms of trade arrangements Dozens of free trade agreements are signed every year turning a complex situation into the East Asian noodle bowl of FTAs This book addresses the crucial question posed by these new agreements how do they affect business While many studies have focused on government to government issues this book gets to the heart of the matter studying what it means for the firms actually doing the trade and investment I recommend this book to any serious student of trade particularly those interested in understanding the rapidly evolving landscape in this most dynamic part of the world Richard Baldwin Professor of International Economics Graduate Institute Geneva Switzerland The pursuit of more than one hundred Free Trade Agreements in East Asia is quietly producing a fundamental change in the global economic architecture This path breaking new volume provides an indispensable guide to the practical effect of such agreements on commercial transactions in the region It is a must read for businessmen and policymakers who seek to both understand the impact of FTAs in the real world and expand their contributions to economic growth and development C Fred Bergsten Director Peterson Institute for International Economics US East Asia needs to think about appropriate measures to overcome the Asian FTA noodle bowl in the future In this vein the study suggests several practical measures including encouraging rationalization and flexibility of rules of origin upgrading origin administration improving business participation in FTA consultations and strengthening institutional support systems for SMEs It is hoped that this study will contribute to strengthening regional trade policies in Asia and compatibilities with global trade rules Haruhiko Kuroda President Asian Development Bank This is a valuable contribution in a crowded field Kawai and Wignaraja have gone beyond familiar arguments about the relative merits of regionalism and multilateralism to ask businesses what it all means to them Policymakers should take note Patrick Low Chief Economist WTO For policymakers in the region the debate is no longer between regionalism and multilateralism The real question is how we should create the model for regionalism that will become the building blocks to a multilateral trading system and avoid raising costs of doing business from the noodle bowl effect Therefore the comparative and micro level research found in this book provides valuable insights on the impact of FTAs on businesses These insights will be relevant input as policymakers forge ahead in implementing regional FTAs thinking of ways to amend and improve on them and most importantly harmonize or consolidate between existing regional FTAs in East Asia Mari Pangestu Minister of Trade Indonesia The spread of Asia's free trade agreements FTAs has sparked an important debate on the impact of such agreements on business activity This pioneering study uses new evidence from surveys of East Asian exporters including Japan the People s Republic of China the Republic of Korea and three ASEAN economies of the Philippines Singapore and Thailand to shed light on the FTA debate Critics are concerned that FTAs erode the multilateral trading process and foster an alarming noodle bowl of overlapping regulations and rules of origin requirements which may be costly to business Asia s Free Trade Agreements makes key recommendations for improving business use of FTA preferences reducing costs of FTAs and creating a region wide FTA This well researched and documented book will appeal to undergraduate and postgraduate students in international business international economics economic development public administration and public policy Academics researchers and members of think tanks around the world will also benefit from this book as will trad

The End of the Asian Model? Holger Henke,Ian Boxill,2000-03-15 With the economic crisis in Asia which unfolded in recent years the development model on which the phenomenal earlier success of several countries in the region was built requires increasing scrutiny This anthology questions the validity of the notion promoted by some observers and international financial organizations that there is a universally applicable model of industrialization common to Asian countries A number of senior and highly regarded Asia specialists are taking a critical look at the various development experiences of several and some often neglected Asian countries and evaluate their experiences in a comparative perspective Comparing the analyses of countries such as Mongolia the Pacific Islands or Sri Lanka with Singapore South Korea and other countries of the region

leads the editors of this volume to the conclusion that the fashionable talk about a model is not justified and that the picture is much more complex Acquisition of Technological Capability in Small Firms in Developing Countries H.

Romijn,1998-11-18 An authoritative examination of how small firms in developing countries acquire technological capability the knowledge and skills required to operate technology effectively and to adapt it to local conditions It fills a gap in the established literature on technological capability which has neglected the small scale sector in spite of the important role it plays in employment generation The author develops a methodology for a quantitative assessment of the learning process using case material from the small scale capital goods sector in Pakistan s Punjab Province

Perspectives on the Sources of Heterogeneity in Indian Industry Somik V. Lall,G. Chris Rodrigo,2000 A study on variations in technical efficiency across four industrial sectors in India shows that managerial effectiveness significantly influences efficiency and that considerable benefits derive from locations within established industrial clusters for particular industries

Liberalization and globalization are likely to bring significant productivity gains even in low technology industries as managers gearup to meet the challenges of competition

Innovation under the Radar Xiaolan Fu,2020-12-17 Investigating the nature drivers and sources of innovation in Africa this book examines the channels for effective diffusion of innovation in and to Africa under institutional resource and affordability constraints Fu draws on almost a decade of research on innovation in Africa to explore these issues and unpack the process combining a rigorous statistical analysis of a purposely designed multi wave multi country survey with in depth studies of representative cases Building on this research Fu argues that African firms are innovative but unsupported Those under the radar innovations that widely exist in Africa as a result of the constraints are not sufficient to enable Africa to leapfrog the innovation gap in the era of the fourth Industrial Revolution This is the first comprehensive analysis of the creation and diffusion of innovation in low income countries It also provides the first survey based analysis of innovation in the informal economy

Going Multinational Frédérique Sachwald,2013-01-11 At the beginning of the 1990s Korean firms embarked on an impressive wave of direct investment abroad This dramatic multinationalization was considered as yet another sign of Korea s remarkable economic performance especially as a high proportion of the foreign ventures were located in advanced countries But this unbalanced quest for globalization actually tested the Korean model to its limits after the 1997 crisis a new policy prepared the way for a surge of inward investment Using empirical tests and case studies this collection shows that Korean groups have invested in developed countries to jump over trade barriers but also to source advanced technology and marketing capabilities Moreover their ambitious strategies have been stimulated by oligopolistic rivalry among the chaebols From a policy perspective the book provides an original discussion of national ownership by questioning the substitutability between inward and outward foreign investment and its relationship with the evolution of the national innovation system By shedding light on the pattern of Korea s internationalization these essays make a valuable contribution to the theory of international production and provide important insights for the current policy debates on globalization and innovation led growth International Investment and Climate Change Timothy Forsyth, 2014-04-08 This study based on fieldwork and case studies of southeast Asian countries shows how privatization investment and new energy technologies can be integrated to combat climate change and provide the maximum return for investors The author explains what incentives and regulatory structures are needed that do not damage local competitiveness Asserting that technology transfer is fundamental to effective policies for climate change and for economic development the text examines how the benefits can be maximized Encyclopedia of International Development Tim
