the way we teach,
maybe we should teach

Being and Learning Eduardo M. Duarte, 2012-10-17

Education is not an art of putting sight into the eye that can already see but one of turning the eye towards the proper gaze of Being That's what must be managed Plato insists This claim is the take off point for Eduardo Duarte's meditations on the metaphysics and ontology of teaching and learning In Being and Learning he offers an account of learning as an attunement with Being's dynamic presencing and unconcealment which Duarte explores as the capacity to respond and attend to the matter that stands before us or in Arendtian terms to love the world and to be with others in this world This book of poetic thinking is a chronicle of Duarte's ongoing exploration of the question of Being a philosophical journey that has been guided primarily through a conversation with Heidegger and which also includes the voices of Plato Aristotle Heraclitus Nietzsche as well Lao Tzu and the Buddha among others In Being and Learning Duarte undertakes a phenomenology of the original a writing that consciously and conspicuously interrupts the discursive field of work in philosophy of education As the late Reiner Schurmann described this method it recalls the ancient beginnings and it anticipates a new beginning the possible rise of a new economy among things words and actions Being and Learning is a work of parrhesia a composition of free thought that disrupts the conventional practice of philosophy of education and thereby open up gaps and spaces of possibility in the arrangement of words concepts and ideas in the field With this work Eduardo Duarte is initiating new pathways of thinking about education

Christian Faith and Christian Learning Clare

Watkins, James Butler, 2025-07-31 Following a critical analysis of the pedagogical theology and practice of Christian learning this book develops a radical alternative account of faith learning Recognising the ways in which institutionally anxious churches are turning to processes of education and disciplining it takes the reader through a theological action research journey to offer a practical theological response to the question of how Christian faith is learnt and handed on in ways that really make a difference Through close engagement with the practicalities of one declining denomination British Methodism the authors offer a distinctive vision of Christian learning and enable fresh thinking and practice There is a call for a move beyond educational courses towards a more profound engagement with the complexities of real life as not only the place but the matter of faith learning Theologically the book offers a vision which pursues questions of divine and human agency the work of the Spirit in learning the role of normative tradition and the important place of Christian lay people and their daily lives in learning Ultimately it seeks to give substance to a fresh concept of faith learning which is holistic integrative and inductively achieved and finds its fulfilment in lives lived in faith hope and love Education and Science Christopher K.
