during September 22-24, 2023. The 52 full papers and 14 short papers presented in these two volumes were carefully reviewed and selected from 244 submissions. The papers are organized in the following topical sections: Part I: Applications of Data Science, Big Data Management and Applications, Big Data Mining and Knowledge Management, Data Visualization, Data-driven Security Infrastructure for Data Science, Machine Learning for Data Science and Multimedia, Data Management and Analysis; Part II: Data-driven Healthcare, Data-driven Smart City, Planet Social Media and Recommendation Systems and Education using big data, intelligent computing or data mining, etc. 王德胜, 2001:10-4. Motivational Regulation in Foreign Language Learning Kun Li, 2017-04-14. This text focuses on the motivational regulation in English language learning of Chinese college students. Considering the importance and necessity of motivational regulation study in foreign language learning, it systematically explores strategies used by Chinese college students to regulate motivation, taking into account student gender, specialty and English proficiency. The book considers self-regulated language learning, pointing out the impact that motivation, language learning strategies and motivational regulation have on academic learning and achievement. Based on surveys of motivational regulation strategies used by Chinese college students as well as the differences in using motivational regulation strategies between high and low English achievers, the volume introduces models of self-regulated learning and provides a theoretical foundation for the study of motivational regulation. Reflective Teaching in Second Language Classrooms Jack C. Richards, Charles Lockhart, 1994-03-25. This text introduces teachers to techniques for exploring their own classroom experiences. The paperback edition introduces teachers to techniques for exploring their own classroom experiences. Numerous books deal with classroom observation and research, but this is the first to offer a carefully structured approach to self-observation and self-evaluation. Richards and Lockhart aim to develop a reflective approach to teaching, one in which teachers collect data about their own teaching, examine their attitudes, beliefs and assumptions, and use the information they obtain as a basis for critical reflection on teaching practices. The approach is not linked to a particular method but rather can be applied to a variety of methodologies and teaching situations. Each chapter includes questions and activities appropriate for group discussion or self-study. Second or foreign language learning and cognitive development Dingfang Shu, Jinfen Xu, Hui Zhang, 2024-01-11. New Perspectives on the Development of Communicative and Related Competence in Foreign Language Education Izumi Walker, Daniel Kwang Guan Chan, Masanori Nagami, Claire Bourguignon, 2018-08-21. Nearly half a century has passed since Hymes proposed the concept of communicative competence to describe the knowledge and skills required for the appropriate use of language in a social context. During these decades, a number of scholars have applied and refined this concept. In language education, communicative competence has been identified as a major objective of learning. This book will inform readers about communicative competence as a highly complex construct encompassing an array of sub-competencies such as linguistic skills and proficiencies, knowledge of socio-cultural and socio-pragmatic codes, and the ability to engage in textual and conversational discourse. Findings from research in related disciplines have pointed to the significance of factors that can contribute to the attainment of communicative competence Various teaching practices and relevant Information and Communication Technology ICT tools will be also introduced and discussed to achieve communicative competence as a complex ability It is a timely contribution to current research on key areas in the teaching learning and acquisition of second foreign languages Resources in Education
