Learning To Teach In An Age Of Accountability:

Learning To Teach in an Age of Accountability Arthur T. Costigan, Karen Kepler Zumwalt, Margaret Smith Crocco, 2004-09-10 This book documents the brave new world of teacher administrator school and student accountability that has swept across the United States in recent years Its particular vantage point is the perspective of dozens of new teachers trying to make their way through their first months and years working in schools in the New York City metropolitan area The issues they grapple with are not however unique to this context but common problems found today in urban suburban and rural schools across the United States The stories in this book offer a compelling portrait of these teachers encounters with the new culture of accountability and the strategies they develop for coping even succeeding within such demanding settings Learning to Teach in an Age of Accountability introduces research on teaching and engages the big ideas concerning teacher research highlighting what we know and where that leads us offers a rich set of teacher narratives that are organized to widen the angle of vision from biography to classrooms schools and society and includes questions and activities to encourage discussion and further research about the ideas raised and addresses the possibilities for best practice and curricular decision making in light of the issues and ideas presented in the book This volume unique in its portrayal of new teachers encounters with issues of accountability makes a singular contribution to the educational literature on new teachers It is relevant to everyone interested in the contemporary world of teaching and is particularly appropriate as a text for preservice and in service students All readers who believe that the key to a good school lies in attracting and keeping good teachers will find the issues presented here both personally engaging and deeply troubling

Teaching College in an Age of Accountability Richard E. Lyons, Meggin McIntosh, Marcella L. Kysilka, 2003 This book provides professors with the insights and tools necessary to achieve higher levels on accountability assessment outcomes while preparing students for enhancing their own career success in a more complex future In recent years many initiatives have been implemented by a number of state legislatures and boards of trustees to increase institutional effectiveness These measures have made colleges and universities aware that practices once accepted as sacrosanct within the culture will from this time forward be assessed regularly for their contribution to achieving more accountable outcomes This book equips professors to address outcome goals in a proactive manner

Research, Practice, and Innovations in Teacher Education During a Virtual Age Zimmerman, Aaron Samuel, 2022-11-18 Decades of research have shown that early career teachers face a number of challenges and hold an increasingly wide set of responsibilities Teacher educators therefore must think carefully about how to prepare early career teachers for the profession Additionally however the work of teaching and teacher education has become increasingly complex within the context of the current virtual age including the prominent reality of social media and the significant possibilities of online teaching and learning Research Practice and Innovations in Teacher Education During a Virtual Age makes a significant contribution to the scholarship on teacher education by presenting a variety of evidence based methods that can be used to develop and improve aspects of teacher education within this virtual age including the curriculum and pedagogy of online teacher education as well as effective ways to prepare preservice teachers for the realities of online teaching and online learning Covering topics such as virtual caring learning material adaptation and instructional coaching this premier reference source is a dynamic resource for teacher educators pre service teachers administrators and educators of both K 12 and higher education government officials policymakers researchers and academicians Special Education in Contemporary Society Richard M. Developing Teachers' Assessment Capacity Christopher DeLuca,Sandra Johnson,2019-12-13 Given the academic benefits of assessment driven teaching and the growing accountability context of educational systems around the world there is a rapidly developing need to educate teachers in effectively using assessments to promote monitor and report on student learning However assessment has historically been a neglected area in teacher education programmes and empirical research has consistently shown assessment as an area of challenge for many teachers While there is an increased focus across teacher education and professional literature on enhancing the assessment capacity of educators there remains little empirical research on innovative and data based strategies to effectively achieve this goal The purpose of this text is to consolidate existing research on assessment education and to provoke innovative and effective approaches to educating teachers and teachers in training about assessment Given the dearth of relevant research this text also considers the matter of retention and extension of initial assessment learning into teaching careers Combined the articles in this text provide a foundation for novel thinking about developing teachers assessment capacity from pre service to in service contexts This book was originally published as a special issue of Assessment in Education

Special Education in Contemporary Society Richard M. M. Gargiulo,Richard M. Gargiulo - Professor Emeritus,Emily C. Day,2023-04-26 This edited book provides a critical re reading of the concept of teacher education in addition to a re thinking of the sole focus on Initial Teacher Education ITE with implications for education policy theory and practice This book presents new investigations that explore the concept of teacher education from ITE to retirement and how this is being enacted within the various distinct European and international education contexts It demonstrates teaching and teacher education as a deeply contested field within European education and within the different national contexts of Europe Contributions in this book expose teacher education as a continuum of teacher learning that is set off from the beginning of the teachers own schooling and continues throughout their entire teaching career The chapters deal with various issues namely teacher induction and mentoring teacher agency teachers as researchers the role of the head teacher schools as learning communities and distinct ITE practices It is intended for postgraduate students and researchers with an interest in teaching and teacher education educational policies and politics and educational philosophy as well as practitioners Wise Social Studies in an Age of High-Stakes Testing Elizabeth Anne Yeager,O. L. Davis,2005-08-01 The chapters in this volume illustrate how teachers are bringing creativity higher order thinking and meaningful learning activities into particular school settings despite pressures of standards and testing We chose the word wise for the title of this book and we use it frequently to describe the pedagogical practices we have identified The words powerful and ambitious are used as well The larger point as Keith C Barton makes in his chapter is that there is no necessary connection between content standards and high stakes tests on the one hand and lowlevel rote instruction on the other He reminds us as Thornton 1991 and Wiggins 1987 previously have argued that teachers play a crucial role in mediating educational policy and their intentions and interpretations have at least as much influence on classroom practice as does the content of standards and highstakes tests Barton also asserts that this makes it all the more crucial to identify the wisdom of practice that enables teachers to engage students in powerful educational experiences Transnational English Language Assessment Practices in the Age of Metrics Osman Z. Barnawi, Mohammed S. Alharbi, Ayman A.
