Learning to Teach English and the Language Arts Peter Smagorinsky, 2020-04-16 Drawing together Smagorinsky's extensive research over a 20 year period Learning to Teach English and the Language Arts explores how beginning teachers' pedagogical concepts are shaped by a variety of influences. Challenging popular thinking about the binary roles of teacher education programs and school based experiences in the process of learning to teach, Smagorinsky illustrates through case studies in the disciplines of English and the Language Arts that teacher education programs and classroom school contexts are not discrete contexts for learning about teaching nor are each of these contexts unified in the messages they offer about teaching. He explores the tensions not only between these contexts and others but within them to illustrate the social, cultural, contextual, political, and historical complexity of learning to teach. Smagorinsky revisits familiar theoretical understandings including Vygotsky's concept development and Lortie's apprenticeship of observation to consider their implications for teachers today and to examine what teacher candidates learn during their teacher education experiences and how that learning shapes their development as teachers.

Handbook of Research on Teaching and Learning in K-20 Education Wang, Viktor, 2013-06-30 While the general agreement in education remains that the more senses involved in learning the better we learn, the question still remains as to the distinction between the education of children and the education of adults. Handbook of Research on Teaching and Learning in K-20 Education provides well rounded research in providing teaching and learning theories that can be applied to both adults and children while acknowledging the difference between both. This book serves as a comprehensive collection of expertise, research, skill, and experiences which will be useful to educators, scholars, and practitioners in the K-12 education, higher education, and adult education field. 1991-92
