Course in General Semantics Alfred Korzybski (count), 1937 General Semantics Bulletin, 2007 Manhood of Humanity Alfred Korzybski, 1994-03 Science under Fire Andrew Jewett, 2020-12-08 Americans have long been suspicious of experts and elites This new history explains why so many have believed that science has the power to corrupt American culture Americans today are often skeptical of scientific authority Many conservatives dismiss climate change and Darwinism as liberal fictions arguing that tenured radicals have coopted the sciences and other disciplines Some progressives especially in the universities worry that science's celebration of objectivity and neutrality masks its attachment to Eurocentric and patriarchal values As we grapple with the implications of climate change and revolutions in fields from biotechnology to robotics to computing it is crucial to understand how scientific authority functions and where it has run up against political and cultural barriers Science under Fire reconstructs a century of battles over the cultural implications of science in the United States Andrew Jewett reveals a persistent current of criticism which maintains that scientists have injected faulty social philosophies into the nation's bloodstream under the cover of neutrality This charge of corruption has taken many forms and appeared among critics with a wide range of social political and theological views but common to all is the argument that an ideologically compromised science has produced an array of social ills Jewett shows that this suspicion of science has been a major force in American politics and culture by tracking its development varied expressions and potent consequences since the 1920s Looking at today's battles over science Jewett argues that citizens and leaders must steer a course between on the one hand the naive image of science as a pristine value neutral form of knowledge and on the other the assumption that scientists' claims are merely ideologies masquerading as truths Dare to Inquire Bruce I.

Kodish, 2003 Confusing Discourse K. Janicki, 2009-12-18 We easily hear and see when people are talking and writing but we often do not understand what they are talking or writing about This book addresses some sources of confusion in discourse and offers suggestions for diminishing it General Semantics; Papers from the First American Congress for General Semantics, 1940 Science and Sanity Alfred Korzybski, 1958 Drive Yourself Sane Susan Presby Kodish, Bruce I. Kodish, 2001 General Semantics in Psychotherapy Isabel Caro, Charlotte Schuchardt Read, 2002 Communication, Meaning and Misconceptions Karol Janicki, 2024-06-21 This book covers several related topics anchored in the idea of how meaning is created The central focus in the book is however on how language awareness may help us communicate smoothly and solve social problems The book takes up language misconceptions and their social significance and promotes the view that regarding meaning and language in general as open and flexible rather than closed and rigid may lead to critical thinking innovation and creativity The book covers topics such as words and things words and emotions fake news and hate speech and it has been written in the form of short informal dialogues to engage readers and make linguistic concepts accessible

The Fire Robin Blaser, 2006-09-29 Spanning four decades of meditation on the avant garde in poetry art and philosophy the essays collected in The Fire reveal Robin Blaser's strikingly fresh perspective on New American poets deconstructive philosophies current events and the state of humanities now The essays gathered in one volume for the first time include commentaries on Jack Spicer Charles Olson Robert Duncan Mary Butts George Bowering Louis Dudek Christos Dikeakos and J S Bach Blaser emerged from the Berkeley Renaissance of the 1940s and 1950s having studied under legendary medieval scholar Ernst Kantorowicz and having been a major participant in the burgeoning literary scene His response to the cultural and political events of his time has been to construct a poetic voice that offers a singular perspective on a shareable world and to pose that voice alongside others as a source of countermemory and potential agency Conceived as conversations these essays brilliantly reflect that ethos as they re-read the cultural events of the past fifty years
