Learning from Milan Andrea Branzi, 1988 Learning from Milan begins where his previous discourses on the sources and traditions of Italian design leave off and draws on the Italian experience to address issues of international significance

Design Discourse Victor Margolin, 1989-09-15 The editor has gathered together a body of writing in the emerging field of design studies The contributors argue in different ways for a rethinking of design in the light of its cultural significance and its powerful position in today's society The collection begins with a discussion of the various expressions of opposition to the modernists' purist approach toward design Drawing on postmodernist theory and other critical strategies the writers examine the relations among design technology and social organization to show how design has become a complex and multidisciplinary activity The second section provides examples of new methods of interpreting and analysing design ranging from rhetoric and semiotics to phenomenology demonstrating how meaning is created visually A final section related to design history shifts its emphasis to ideological frameworks such as capitalism and patriarchy that establish boundaries for the production and use of design

Quotations and Sources on Design and the Decorative Arts Paul Greenhalgh, 1993

The Politics of the Artificial Victor Margolin, 2018-01-11 Emerging from the world of commercial art and product styling design has now become completely integrated into human life Its marks are all around us from the chairs we sit on to the Web sites on our computer screens One of the pioneers of design studies and still one of its most distinguished practitioners Victor Margolin here offers a timely meditation on design and its study at the turn of the millennium and charts new directions for the future development of both fields Divided into sections on the practice and study of design the essays in The Politics of the Artificial cover such topics as design history design research design as a political tool sustainable design and the problems of design's relation to advanced technologies Margolin also examines the work of key practitioners such as the matrix designer Ken Isaacs Throughout the book Margolin demonstrates the underlying connections between the many ways of reflecting on and practicing design He argues for the creation of an international interdisciplinary field of design research and proposes a new ethical agenda for designers and researchers that encompasses the responsibility to users the problems of sustainability and the complicated questions of how to set boundaries for applying advanced technology to solve the problems of human life Opinionated and erudite Victor Margolin's The Politics of the Artificial breaks fresh ground in its call for a new approach to design research and practice Designers engineers architects anthropologists sociologists and historians will all benefit from its insights Making Design Theory Johan

Redstrom, 2017-09-01 A new approach to theory development for practice driven research proposing that theory is something made in and through design Tendencies toward academization of traditionally practice based fields have forced design to articulate itself as an academic discipline in theoretical terms In this book Johan Redstrom offers a new approach to theory development in design research one that is driven by practice experimentation and making Redstrom does not theorize from the outside but explores the idea that just as design research engages in the making of many different kinds of things theory might well be one of those things it is making Redstrom proposes that we consider theory not as stable and constant but as something unfolding something acted as much as articulated inherently fluid and transitional Redstrom describes three ways in which theory in particular formulating basic definitions is made through design the use of combinations of fluid terms to articulate issues the definition of more complex concepts through practice and combining sets of definitions made through design into programs These are the building blocks for creating conceptual structures to support design Design seems to thrive on the complexities arising from dichotomies form and function freedom and method art and science With his idea of transitional theory Redstrom departs from the traditional academic imperative to pick a side theory or practice art or science Doing so he opens up something like a design space for theory development within design research Design Research

Lucia Rampino, 2012 Design, Empathy, Interpretation Ilpo Koskinen, 2023-09-12 A new empathic approach to design research drawn from the informed experiences of a leading design research program in Finland Design Empathy Interpretation tells the story of empathic design a design research program at Aalto University in Helsinki Finland that has developed an interpretive approach to design over the past twenty years As one of the leaders of the Helsinki group Ilpo Koskinen draws on his own experiences to offer readers a general intellectual and professional history of design research and argues for what he calls an interpretive approach Design Empathy Interpretation shows how the group has created connections all across the globe and how a seemingly soft approach to design research can be useful in both industry and government Koskinen follows design research's transformation from questions of usability in the 1980s through to the revolution in personal electronics and the user centered turn of the 1990s Using the research community in Helsinki as a case study and moving between specific projects and theoretical debates he offers readers a focused introduction to the major methodological and intellectual challenges as well as the opportunities of design research He argues that all design tasks however simple or complex begin with understanding the way humans ascribe meaning both as individuals and as actors in complex societies Thus all design research must be interpretive at its core A new empathic approach to design research drawn from the informed experiences of a leading design research program in Finland

Is Landscape... ? Gareth Doherty, Charles Waldheim, 2015-10-08

Is Landscape surveys multiple and myriad definitions of landscape Rather than seeking a singular or essential understanding of the term the collection postulates that landscape might be better read in relation to its cognate terms across expanded disciplinary and professional fields The publication pursues the potential of multiple provisional working definitions of landscape to both disturb and develop received understandings of landscape architecture These definitions distinguish between landscape as representational medium academic discipline and professional identity Beginning with an inquiry into the origins of the term itself Is Landscape features essays by a dozen leading voices shaping the contemporary reading of landscape as architecture and beyond
