The Human in the Plan - Incorporating Human Preferences and Expertise in Scheduling Processes Laura Maria Poreschack,2025-07-15 Incorporating human preferences and unique domain knowledge into scheduling processes enhances both efficiency and employee well being However careful planning to ensure effective and employee friendly use of human resources and their expertise is both essential and challenging By aligning work schedules with individual preferences employers can boost job satisfaction reduce staff turnover and enhance job attractiveness which is critical amid today s skilled labor shortages Additionally accommodating preferences improves productivity reduces workplace stress and promotes better mental and physical health Beyond preferences human expertise is a valuable yet often underutilized resource in scheduling decisions In complex domains humans bring context specific knowledge and years of experience that cannot be easily quantified or encoded in algorithms By combining this tacit domain specific understanding with data driven optimization and machine learning techniques organizations can achieve more effective scheduling outcomes while making optimal use of limited human resources This thesis presents innovative methods to harmonize human centered and data driven approaches and demonstrates their effectiveness for railway crew scheduling and surgery scheduling The resulting methods not only improve operational performance but also ensure more employee friendly workforce management practices with relevant implications for academia and industry Understanding Jonestown and Peoples Temple Rebecca

Moore,2018-07-06 This in depth investigation of Peoples Temple and its tragic end at Jonestown corrects sensationalized misunderstandings of the group and places its individual members within the broader context of religion in America Most people understand Peoples Temple through its violent disbanding following events in Jonestown Guyana where more than 900 Americans committed murder and suicide in a jungle commune Media coverage of the event sensationalized the group and obscured the background of those who died The view that emerged thirty years ago continues to dominate understanding of Jonestown today despite the dozens of books articles and documentaries that have appeared This book provides a fresh perspective on Peoples Temple locating the group within the context of religion in America and offering a contemporary history that corrects the inaccuracies often associated with the group and its demise Although Peoples Temple had some of the characteristics many associate with cults it also shared many characteristics of black religion in America Moreover it is crucial to understand how the organization fits into the social and political movements of the 1950s 1960s and 1970s race class colonialism gender and other issues dominated the times and so dominated the consciousness of the members of Peoples Temple Here Rebecca Moore who lost three family members in the events in Guyana offers a framework for U S social cultural and political history that helps readers to better understand Peoples Temple and its members

Aviation Resource Management Andrew R. Lowe, Brent J. Hayward, 2016-12-05 This two volume set presents the reader with new strategies for the contributions of psychology and Human Factors to the safe and effective functioning of aviation organizations and systems The volumes comprise the edited contributions to the Fourth Australian Aviation Psychology Symposium The chapters within are orientated towards presenting and developing practical solutions for the current and future challenges facing the aviation industry Each volume covers areas of vital and enduring importance within today's complex aviation system Volume 2 covers Selection Training Human Machine Interface Air Traffic Control Maintenance and Situational Awareness Invited chapters include contributions from Capt Da iel Maurino ICAO Professor Bob Helmreich University of Texas Jean Pari s and Dr Ashleigh Merritt D dale Professor Ron Westrum Eastern Michigan University Capt Azmi Radzi Malaysian Airlines Nicole Sv tek Virgin Atlantic Professor Patrick Hudson Leiden University Dr Sherry Chappell Delta Technology Dr Nick McDonald Trinity College Dublin Professor Jan Davies University of Calgary Capt John Bent Cathay Pacific Airways Dr Carol Manning FAA Dr Manfred Barberino and Dr Anne Isaac EUROCONTROL Dr Drew Dawson University of South Australia Rebecca Chute and Professor Earl Wiener NASA Ames Dr Gavan Lintern AMRL Bert Ruitenberg IFATCA and Dr Mica Endsley SA Technologies Utilitiesman 1 ,1989 Creating Healthy Workplaces Prof Sir Cary L Cooper CBE, Professor Caroline Biron, Professor Ronald J Burke, 2014-02-28 The contributions in Creating Healthy Workplaces include a number of interventions that relate the efforts undertaken by researchers and organizations together to reduce stress and improve the mental and physical health of employees through positive change initiatives Those working in the field of occupational stress have received criticism that too much emphasis has been placed on negative issues and that positive initiatives have been largely ignored With the growing influence of the positive movement this book explores the implications of using a positive approach as opposed to a stress management one and compares the types of interventions they each require From a positive perspective there is a need to understand the characteristics of healthy thriving and flourishing people and organizations This book explores the implications of using a positive approach as opposed to a stress management one Some of the interventions described in Creating Healthy Workplaces target individuals and their attitudes and behaviours others target workplace relationships work units and the wider organization Outcomes such as reduced occurrences of smoking obesity depression elevated blood pressure accidents and workplace injuries presenteeism absence and staff turnover are reported The factors associated with the success of these interventions are identified and advice is given as to how interested individuals and organizations might proceed to develop worksite interventions on their own
