BREATHE ARCHITECTURE

Jeremy McLeod is the founding director of Breathe Architecture, a Melbourne-based studio that believes humanity and the planet matter and use design as a weapon for good to build a better future. Recognised with over 20 Australian Institute of Architects (AIA) awards, Breathe are change agents, advocating for the people in the cities where they live and work, creating meaningful and accessible spaces.

Lectures are printed as far as possible just as they were delivered Here and there a sentence which seemed obscure has been mended and the passages which had not been previously written have been of course imperfectly supplied from memory But I am well assured that nothing of any substantial importance which was said in the lecture room is either omitted or altered in its signification with the exception only of a few sentences struck out from the notice of the works of Turner in consequence of the impossibility of engraving the drawings by which they were illustrated except at a cost which would have too much raised the price of the volume Some elucidatory remarks have however been added at the close of the second and fourth Lectures which I hope may be of more use than the passages which I was obliged to omit About the Publisher
