Lectures On The Present Position Of Catholics In England:

Lectures on the Present Position of Catholics in England John Henry Newman, 2000 The Lectures on the Present Position of Catholics in England is John Henry Newman's brilliant satirical attack on anti Catholic prejudice and propaganda. The lectures appeared at a time of national uproar the Papal Aggression crisis of 1850-51 and they landed Newman in court for libel. Aimed at a popular audience they are supremely readable at times shocking and certainly the most humorous of any of Newman's writings. Yet they are less well known today than his other works and until now have only been intermittently available. Newman himself thought they were his best written work and the leading Newman scholar Ian Ker has called them a neglected satirical masterpiece. Lectures on the Present Position of Catholics in England John Henry Newman, 1889

Excerpt from Lectures on the Present Position of Catholics in England Addressed to the Brothers of the Oratory Lecture III Fable the Basis of the Protestant View This was the point at which I stopped last week now I shall continue my investigation and I shall introduce what I have to say by means of an objection It may be objected then to the conclusions at which I have arrived that I on my part have simply ignored the fact of the innumerable multitude of independent testimonies which every one of the divines the scholars the lawyers the men of letters the statesmen the men of the world who have made the last three centuries glorious in Britain has borne in his turn in favour of Protestantism and to the disadvantage of the Catholic Religion About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Lectures: On the Present Position of Catholics in England Blessed John Henry Newman, Aeterna Press, THERE is a well known fable of which it is to my purpose to remind you my Brothers of the Oratory by way of introducing to you the subject of the Lectures which I am proposing to deliver I am going to inquire why it is that in this intelligent nation and in this rational nineteenth century we Catholics are so despised and hated by our own countrymen with whom we have lived all our lives that they are prompt to believe any story however extravagant that is told to our disadvantage as if beyond a doubt we were every one of us either brutishly deluded or preternaturally hypocritical and they themselves on the contrary were in comparison of us absolute specimens of sagacity wisdom uprightness manly virtue and enlightened Christianity I am not inquiring why they are not Catholics themselves but why they are so angry with those who are Protestants differ amongst themselves without calling each other fools and knaves Nor again am I proposing to prove to you or to myself that knaves and fools we are not not idolaters not blasphemers not men of blood not profligates not steeped in sin and seared in conscience for we know each other and ourselves Aeterna Press
