Industrialization in Turbulent Times Gerald K. Helleiner, 1994 With the relationship between trade policy and industrialization coming in for increasingly close scrutiny this book assesses how far trade policy has promoted economic growth in fourteen developing countries in the 1970s and 1980s

The Institutional Foundations of East Asian Economic Development Y. Hayami, M. Aoki, 1998-12-13 The International Economic Association was foremost in reviving professional economists' concern with institutions and their impact in publications such as Economic Institutions in a Dynamic Society 1989 This volume concentrates on the states whose development has been characterised as the East Asian miracle in the light of the performance of other economies starting from similarly low income levels including India China African states especially Nigeria and Latin American countries including Brazil This comprehensive comparative survey in economic history demonstrates the external shocks and interacting domestic forces which constituted the growth dynamic Nobel Laureates Kenneth Arrow and Douglass North and past President of the IEA the late Michael Bruno are among the thirty four highly distinguished specialist contributors

The Economic Rise of East Asia Linda Glawe, Helmut Wagner, 2022-01-01 In light of the growing global economic importance of East Asia this book analyzes and compares the extraordinary development paths and strategies of Japan South Korea and China It examines both the factors that enabled these countries prolonged periods of high speed economic growth and the reasons for their subsequent cool downs In addition the book illustrates how their development strategies served as role models for one another and what current and future developing countries can learn from the East Asian success stories This book will appeal to scholars and students of economics and development studies with an interest in the East Asian development model

Trade Policy and Industrialization in Turbulent Times Gerry Helleiner, 2002-09-11 The relationship between trade policy and industrialization has provoked much controversy Can trade policy promote economic growth in developing countries Those actively working in the area are becoming increasingly sceptical about the conventional advice given by international policy advisors and organizations This volume builds upon earlier theoretical and empirical research on trade policy and industrialization but is the first cross the board attempt to review developing country experiences in this realm for twenty years The experience of fourteen developing countries in the 1970s and 1980s is assessed by the contributors each of whom have a detailed understanding of their country's recent experience

Korea's Political Economy Lee-Jay Cho, 2019-03-07 Over the past three decades South Korea has moved along a path of strong economic growth and political democratization attracting worldwide attention and providing valuable lessons for other developing economies Yet Korea still must grapple with many intractable problems fueled by its rapid industrialization and uneven growth including unbalanced distribution of wealth concentrated economic power and adversarial relationships between management and labor Within the context of these sweeping changes this volume explores options for economic and social institutional reform in Korea Drawing on models of economic development from Japan the United States and Europe a distinguished group of Asian and Western scholars relates the experiences of previously industrialized economies to each facet of Korea's economic system including national management, taxation and banking, land ownership and use, trade and industrial strategy and relations among business ownership, management and labor. In so doing, the contributors provide valuable insights and fresh proposals for a viable model of social and economic modernization. Throughout the volume, the contributors emphasize the importance of Korea's cultural heritage not only in explaining the nation's recent growth but also as a key element of its continued success. By providing an overview of the evolution and interaction of Korean economic, political and sociocultural institutions, the contributors make clear how these structures mediate the movement between cultural values and economic progress.

The Newly Industrializing Economies of East Asia Anis Chowdhury, Iyanatul Islam, 2005-08-09 Offers a careful synthesis of a vast and disparate literature and makes it accessible to student readership. Points to the need to take a closer look at the future evolution of the East Asian NIEs in an era of democratisation.

Institutional Economics and National Competitiveness Young Back Choi, 2011-07-29 This book offers a strong contribution to the growing field of institutional economics, going beyond the question of why institutions matter and examines the ways in which different types of institutions are conducive to the enhancement of competitiveness and economic development. Adopting a variety of approaches ranging from New Institutional Economics, Public Choice, Constitutional Political Economy and Austrian Economics to more traditional economic approaches, contributors examine the important issues of interest to development economics. This book asks whether democracy is a pre-condition for economic development, what the proper role of government is in the age of globalization and whether successful government-led policies were the cause of South Korea's economic development. As well as these key questions, the book covers the issues of whether the government should rely on the market process to encourage economic development or must they interfere and by what criteria one can judge a proposal for policies for economic prosperity. The book tries to make a contribution by introducing a variety of perspectives; some argue in favour of industrial policies while others argue for a lesser role for the government and a greater entrepreneurial freedom. Some question the wisdom of promoting democracy as a necessary condition for economic development while others argue that political liberalization is the basis of lasting competitive edge of an economy. The book should be of great interest to students and researchers in need of a multi-perspective collection covering several approaches to the issues of institutional economics and national competition.

Han Unbound John Lie, 1998 Because the author sees South Korean development as contingent on a variety of particular circumstances, he ranges widely to include not only the information typically gathered by sociologists and political economists but also insights gained from examining popular tastes and values, poetry, fiction and ethnography, showing how all of these aspects of South Korean life help elucidate his main themes.

Korea and Globalization James B. Lewis, Amadu Sesay, 2013-07-04 Korea faces two challenges in the twenty-first century: unification and globalization. Both entail problems of economic, political and cultural integration. In the past, Koreans successfully unified in various forms and globalized in many ways This book is a study of the theme of globalization addressing various aspects of Korea s integration into the global community from a social scientific or humanistic perspective This investigation begins with a focus on contemporary South and North Korea the globalized southern daily life South Korean labour as a global player the southern development state and the cultural division that poses the greatest threat to reunification Moving outwards in concentric circles chapters address Korea s connections with its region and Koreans contributions to the wider world Relations with Japan Korea s most difficult bi lateral relationship are surveyed to identify both patterns and images The thirteenth century Tripitaka Koreana is the most complete collection of Buddhist scripture in Chinese and its recent digitization points towards a renaissance of this world religion South Korea s pursuit of a Nobel Prize in Literature is put in perspective when one considers Korean contribution to the pre modern Sinitic literary world South Korea may owe its existence to the United Nations but since entering the UN in 1991 it has taken to heart the altruistic urge of global peacekeeping

Changes by Competition Hyeong-ki Kwon,2021-02-11 By tracing the evolution of South Korean state led capitalism and comparing it with other economies this book critiques prevalent theories including neoliberalism the developmental state and institutionalism and proposes a theoretical alternative focusing on endogenous changes through elites competition within and outside the state Unlike the arguments of neoliberals this volume asserts that the state can still play an active role in reconstituting the national economy through globalization The Korean state successfully fosters economic growth by nurturing industrial commons through globalization rather than by adopting a neoliberal free market system This volume asserts that the Korean economy has successfully grown over the past 50 years because it has moved toward a new version of state led developmentalism In order to better account for the evolution of state led developmentalism this book proposes changes by competition within as well as outside the state in order to bring about changes in developmentalism and the ability to adjust to new contexts Unlike prevalent accounts of developmental state theory Changes by Competition argues that the state is neither unitary nor cohesive but a locus of competition

Capital Mobility and Distributional Conflict in Chile, South Korea, and Turkey Kurtuluş Gemici,2020-05-04 Why did many emerging countries pursue risky financial opening policies in a reckless manner even after the painful example of the Latin American debt crisis Unlike trade liberalization which has mostly been beneficial in emerging countries the removal of capital controls has led to boom bust patterns in many countries It is not simply driven by class or sectoral interests nor is it just a result of ideational changes in policy making circles or international pressure Gemici argues that to fully understand the motivation for these policies we need to take into account distributional struggles prior to their enactment In this book Gemici shows that conflictual distributional relations significantly increase the likelihood of capital account liberalization Through in depth comparative case studies he also demonstrates that countries which liberalize in the most comprehensive manner tend to be the countries characterized by a high degree of distributional conflict The case studies Argentina Chile South Korea and

Turkey have been chosen to maximise variation in distributional relations and to escape regional clustering showing quite different trajectories of capital account liberalization This will be of great interest to readers in sociology international political economy and heterodox economics as well as specialists in the countries examined Experimental Learning, Inclusive Growth and Industrialised Economies in Asia Chan-Yuan Wong, 2022-07-05 This book explores how small nations can mobilise and use productive activities to generate inclusive growth and rapidly move up the economic ladder In this study Dr Wong explores how Korea and Taiwan came to balance between commanding critical technological competencies and driving inclusive economic agendas and ultimately culminates decades of moving up the value chain for the two Asian dynamos In a world dominated by superpowers Dr Wong demonstrates how agile nimble mid sized economies can move fast innovate and achieve post industrial catch up development This book will interest scholars of the Asian manufacturing sector those with an interest in the role semiconductors play in the global economy and scholars of Asian development Credit Policies and the Industrialization of Korea Yoon-Je Cho, Joon-Kyung Kim, 1995-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 286 This report was commissioned as part of a project on the effectiveness of credit policies in East Asian countries In the Republic of Korea the government has played a pervasive role in promoting industrializati
