Interrogating the development and conceptual framework of economic thought in the Islamic tradition pertaining to ethical philosophical and theological ideas this book provides a critique of modern Islamic economics as a hybrid economic system From the outset Sami Al Daghistani is concerned with the polyvalent methodology of studying the phenomenon of Islamic economic thought as a human science in that it nurtures a complex plentitude of meanings and interpretations associated with the moral self By studying legal scholars theologians and Sufis in the classical period Al Daghistani looks at economic thought in the context of Shar a s moral law Alongside critiquing modern developments of Islamic economics he puts forward an idea for a plural epistemology of Islam s moral economy which advocates for a multifaceted hermeneutical reading of the subject in light of a moral law embedded in a particular cosmology of human relationality metaphysical intelligibility and economic subjectivity

Islamic finance is one of the fastest growing sectors of the finance industry due to a number of factors including the technology boom fintech blockchain and higher oil and commodity prices but also in particular its demand by 1.5 billion Muslims around the globe It enjoys sustainably higher positive returns compared to its conventional finance counterparts specifically during financial

Medieval Islamic Economic Thought S.M. Ghazanfar, 2004-06-02 This book is a collection of papers on the origins of economic thought discovered in the writings of some prominent Islamic scholars during the five centuries prior to the Latin Scholastics who include St Thomas Aquinas This period of time was labelled by Joseph Schumpeter as representing the great gap in economic history Unfortunately this gap is well embedded in most relevant literature However during this period the Islamic civilization was one of the most fertile grounds for intellectual developments in various disciplines including economics and this book attempts to fill that blind spot in the history of economic thought Islamic Economic Alternatives K.S. Jomo,2016-07-27 The global Islamic resurgence of the last two decades has spawned parallel intellectual efforts to articulate an alternative Islamic way of life This volume critically assesses much of what is said to be Islamic economics today its theories assumptions concepts and the alternatives it claims to offer While critical of much of contemporary Islamisation and the interests such economic policies protect the current relevance of progressive policy alternatives inspired by Islamic economic morality is also analyzed Makers of Contemporary Islam John L. Esposito,John Obert Voll,2001 This book examines the biographies of nine major activist intellectuals whose work provides the core of what the Islamic resurgence became in the 1990s and is an important foundation for what it can become in the 21st century Nine figures are covered Ismail al Faruqi Khurshid Ahmad Maryam Jameelah Hasan Hanafi Anwar Ibrahim and Abdurrahman Wahid Islamic Economics and the Final Jihad David Jonsson,2006-05 Jonsson presents the history and Islamist strategy for achieving world domination without terrorism through gradual Islamization of the West by controlling currency oil resources free trade zones transportation media and financial markets Social Issues , Limits of Islamism Maidul Islam,2015-03-09 The book examines the dynamics from the formation of Islamist politics for the struggle for hegemony to failure to become a hegemonic force in Bangladesh The contradiction between Islamic universalism Islamist populism on one hand and a politics of Muslim particularism in India on the other is revealed in this study Islam and Mammon Timur Kuran,2010-12-16 The doctrine of Islamic economics entered debates over the social role of Islam in the mid twentieth century Since then it has pursued the goal of restructuring economies according to perceived Islamic teachings Beyond its most visible practical achievement the establishment of Islamic banks meant to avoid interest it has promoted Islamic norms of economic behavior and founded redistribution systems modeled after early Islamic fiscal practices In this bold and timely critique Timur Kuran argues that the doctrine of Islamic economics is simplistic incoherent and largely irrelevant to present economic challenges Observing that few Muslims take it seriously he also finds that its practical applications have had no discernible effects on efficiency growth or poverty reduction Why then has Islamic economics enjoyed any appeal at all Kuran s answer is that the real purpose of Islamic economics has not been economic improvement but cultivation of a distinct Islamic identity to resist cultural globalization The Islamic subeconomies that have sprung up across the Islamic world are commonly viewed as manifestations of Islamic economics In reality Kuran demonstrates they emerged to meet the economic aspirations of socially marginalized groups The Islamic enterprises that form these subeconomies provide advancement opportunities to the disadvantaged By enhancing interpersonal trust they also facilitate intragroup transactions These findings raise the question of whether there exist links between Islam and economic performance Exploring these links in relation to the long unsettled question of why the Islamic world became underdeveloped Kuran identifies several pertinent social mechanisms some beneficial to economic development others harmful
