Rosett, Austin Hagerty, 2021-06-14

This book directly addresses the explosion of literature about leveraging analytics with employee data and how organizational psychologists and practitioners can harness new information to help guide positive change in the workplace In order for today's organizational psychologists to successfully work with their partners they must go beyond behavioral science into the realms of computing and business acumen Similarly today's data scientists must appreciate the unique aspects of behavioral data and the special circumstances which surround HR data and HR systems Finally traditional HR professionals must become familiar with research methods statistics and data systems in order to collaborate with these new specialized partners and teams Despite the increasing importance of this diversity of skill many organizations are still unprepared to build teams with the comprehensive skills necessary to have high performing HR Analytics functions And importantly all these considerations are magnified by the introduction and acceleration of machine learning in HR This book will serve as an introduction to these areas and provide guidance on building the connectivity across domains required to establish well rounded skills for individuals and best practices for organizations when beginning to apply advanced analytics to workforce data It will also introduce machine learning and where it fits within the larger HR Analytics framework by explaining many of its basic tenets and methodologies By the end of the book readers will understand the skills required to do advanced HR analytics well as well as how to begin designing and applying machine learning within a larger human capital strategy PC Mag ,1983-09 PCMag.com is a leading authority on technology delivering Labs based independent reviews of the latest products and services Our expert industry analysis and practical solutions help you make better buying decisions and get more from technology Computer Chess Compendium D. LEVY,2013-06-29 For many years I have been interested in computer chess and have collected almost every learned paper and article on the subject that I could find My files are now quite large and a considerable amount of time effort and expense has been required to build up this collection I have often thought how difficult it must be for many computer chess enthusiasts to acquire copies of articles that they see referenced in some other work Unless one has access to a good reference library the task is almost impossible I therefore decided to try to make available in one volume as many as possible of the most interesting and important articles and papers ever written on the subject Such a selection is naturally somewhat subjective and I hope that I will not offend authors whose works have been excluded In particular I have decided to exclude any material which has appeared in the Journal of the International Computer Chess Association ICCA or in its precursor the ICCA Newsletter The reason is simply that the ICCA itself is in the process of compiling a compendium containing the most important material published in those sources For further information on ICCA membership and publications the reader is invited to contact Professor H 1 van den Herik or Dr Jonathan Schaeffer University of Limburg Computing Science Department Department of Computer Science University of Alberta 6200 MD Maastricht Edmonton Netherlands Alberta Canada T6G 2H1
