Ismaili Heresiography:

Ismaili Literature Farhad Daftary, 2005-03-23 Ismaili Studies represents one of the most recent fields of Islamic Studies Much new research has taken place in this field as a result of the recovery of a large number of Ismaili texts Ismaili Literature contains a complete listing of the sources and secondary studies including theses written by Ismailis or about them in all major Islamic and European languages It also contains chapters surveying Ismaili history and developments in modern Ismaili Studies

Fatimid History and Ismaili Doctrine Paul E. Walker, 2023-05-31 The thirteen studies in this volume explore critical problems in Fatimid history and historiography many specifically focused on the content of doctrinal writings produced by the Ismaili supporters and agents of this caliphate who worked on behalf of the dynasty both within the empire and outside Several concern issues in disputes that separated the various factions of Medieval Islam and served to distinguish the Ismailis from the rest often branding the Fatimids with the charge of heterodoxy Others deal with the consequence of Shiite rule over a largely non Shiite populace Yet others involve the relationship between religious ideology and the administration of government Among the themes featured in this collection there are separate investigations of institutions of learning of succession to the imamate the da wa the judiciary relations with the Byzantines and with the Abbasids and works on heresiography doctrines of time and the accusation that the Ismailis upheld the metempsychosis of the human soul The latter topics help to situate the Ismailis and hence the Fatimids within the broader context of Islamic thought

An Ismaili Heresiography Wilferd Madelung, Paul Walker, 2021-09-06 Presents the Chapter on Satan Bab al shaytan from a long unrecognized Ismaili work called the Kitab al shajara by the 4th 10th century Khurasani Abu Tammam The satans of Abu Tammam's Chapter are the founders and instigators of the seventy two heretical sects of Islam Each sect has been accorded a relatively lengthy description as perceived from a generally Shi'i and Mutazili point of view Most entries offer new information about these sects and in several cases the account given is for a sect almost completely unknown in the existing Islamic heresiographical literature The volume contains both a critical edition of the Bab al shaytan and a complete English translation of it

Wilferd Madelung, Paul Ernest Walker, 1991 This book presents the Chapter on Satan Bab al shaytan from a long unrecognized Ismaili work called the Kitab al shajara by the fourth tenth century Khurasani Abu Tammam The satans of Abu Tammam's Chapter are the founders and instigators of the seventy two heretical sects of Islam Each sect has been accorded a relatively lengthy description as perceived from a generally Shi'i and Mutazili point of view Most entries offer new information about these sects and in several cases the account given is for a sect almost completely unknown in the existing Islamic heresiographical literature The volume contains both a critical edition of the Bab al shaytan and a complete English translation of it

Historical Dictionary of the Ismailis Farhad Daftary, 2012 The Ismaili Muslims who belong to the Shia branch of Islam live in over 25 different countries around the world mainly in Asia Africa and the Middle East Their history has typically been linked to the history of the various countries in which they live but the worldwide community is united under Prince Karim Aga Khan the spiritual leader and 49th Imam of the Ismaili Muslims Few fields of Islamic studies have witnessed as drastic a change as Ismaili studies due in part to the recent discovery of numerous historical texts and author Farhad Daftary makes extensive use of these new sources in the Historical Dictionary of the Ismailis This comprehensive new reference work is the first of its kind on the Ismailis and presents a summary of the findings of modern scholarship on the Ismaili Shia Muslims and different facets of their heritage The dictionary covers all phases of Ismaili history as well as the main doctrines of the community It includes an introductory chapter which provides a broad historical survey of the Ismailis followed by alphabetical entries on all major aspects of the community such as key figures institutions traditions and doctrines It also contains a chronology genealogical tables a glossary and a substantial bibliography This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Ismailis

Ismailis in Medieval Muslim Societies Farhad Daftary, 2005-12-20 I B Tauris in association with the Institute of Ismaili Studies A comprehensive treatment of Ismaili medieval history in its entirety It will have great appeal to all scholars of medieval Islam Farhad Daftary is one of the world s leading authorities on Ismaili history and literature This important book by an internationally acknowledged expert in Ismaili studies introduces Ismaili history and thought in medieval times Discussing the different phases in Ismaili history it describes both the early Ismailis as well as the contributions of the later Ismailis to Islamic culture A number of chapters deal with key Ismaili individuals such as Hasan i Sabbah Other chapters contextualise the Ismailis within the early Muslim societies in addition to investigating the Ismaili Crusader relations and the resulting legends on the Ismaili secret practices Over the course of the work it becomes clear that Ismaili historiography and the perception of the Ismailis by others in both Muslim and Christian milieus have had a fascinating evolution During their long history the Ismailis have often been accused of various heretical teachings and practices and at the same time a multitude of myths and misconceptions have circulated about them Farhad Daftary here separates myth from fact propaganda from actuality in a work characterised by his customary mastery of the sources and literature

Language and Heresy in Ismaili Thought Jamal Ali, 2008 The heretofore unpublished Kitab al Zina virtually unknown in western scholarship is a glossary of important Islamic terms by the 9th 10th century Ismaili polymath Abu Hatim al Razi Some lament that Razi s historical approach to etymology failed to catch on and that had it done so the face of Arabic dictionary writing might have been altered for the better His organization of material was uniquely Ismaili as he took pains to synthesize contradictory information into a harmonious whole This study examines sections of Razi s work with a view towards his contributions to the field of grammar and linguistics

Mediaeval Isma'ili History and Thought Farhad Daftary, 2001-02-22 This volume presents scholarship on Isma ili history and thought from leading authorities in the field

The Caliph and the Imam Toby Matthiesen, 2023-02-07 The authoritative account of the sectarian division that for centuries has shaped events in the Middle East and the Islamic world In 632 soon after the prophet Muhammad died a struggle broke out among his followers as to who would succeed him The majority argued that the new leader of Islam should be elected by the community s elite Others believed only members of Muhammad s family could lead This dispute over who should guide Muslims the appointed Caliph or the bloodline Imam marks the origin of the Sunni Shii split in Islam Toby Matthiesen explores this hugely significant division from its origins to the present day Moving chronologically his book sheds light on the many ways that it has shaped the Islamic world outlining how over the centuries Sunnism and Shiism became Islams two main branches particularly after the Muslim Empires embraced sectarian identity It reveals how colonial rule institutionalised divisions between Sunnism and Shiism both on the Indian subcontinent and in the greater Middle East giving rise to pan Islamic resistance and Sunni and Shii revivalism It then focuses on the fall out from the 1979 revolution in Iran and the US led military intervention in Iraq As Matthiesen shows however though Sunnism and Shiism have had a long and antagonistic history most Muslims have led lives characterised by confessional ambiguity and peaceful co existence Tensions arise when sectarian identity becomes linked to politics Based on a synthesis of decades of scholarship in numerous languages The Caliph and the Imam will become the standard text for readers looking for a deeper understanding of contemporary sectarian conflict and its historical roots

The Fatimids Paul Walker,2023-08-28 The chapters of this volume contain a series of detailed studies of various aspects of Fatimid rule in the regions of its Mediterranean and Near Eastern empire 909 to 1171 AD including separately the role of the imam caliph waz r chief q and d and other political and public offices of this Sh caliphate Geographically it covers North Africa Sicily the Levant Hijaz Cairo and Egypt in the medieval period with special attention to books science and libraries court society festivals intellectual traditions and Ismaili doctrines its religious appeal military enemies and rivals among them the Abbasids Umayyads and Ibadis

Shurat Legends, Ibadi Identities Adam R. Gaiser,2016-10-15 An analysis of a variety of early Islamic texts to understand processes of identity formation and community In Shurat Legends Ibadi Identities Adam Gaiser explores the origins and early development of Islamic notions of martyrdom and of martyrdom literature He examines the catalogs or lists of martyrs martyrologies of the early shur t Kh rijites in the context of late antiquity showing that shur t literature as it can be reconstructed shares continuity with the martyrologies of earlier Christians and other religious groups especially in Iraq and that this powerful literature was transmitted by seventh century shur t through their successors the Ib iyya Gaiser examines the sources of poems and narratives as quasi historical accounts and their application in literary creations designed to meet particular communal needs in particular the need to establish and shape identity Gaiser shows how these accounts accumulated traits such as all night prayer vigils stoic acceptance of death and miracles of a wider ascetic and apocalyptic literature in the eighth century including martyrdom narratives of Eastern Christianity By establishing focal points of piety around which a communal identity could be fashioned such accounts proved suitable for use in missionary activity in North Africa and the Arabian Peninsula Gaiser also documents the reshaping of these narratives for more quietist purposes emphasizing moderated rather than violent action diplomacy and respect for other Islamic sects as also being monotheistic rather than condemning them as sinful Along with refashioning narratives Gaiser details the Ib efforts to compile collections into genealogies both biographical dictionaries and lineages of the true faith linking individuals and communities to local saints and martyrs He also shows how this more nuanced history led to the formation of rules and authorities governing the shur t Employing rarely examined manuscript materials to shed light on such processes as identity formation and communal boundary maintenance Gaiser traces the course by which this martyrdom literature and its potentially dangerous implications came to be institutionalized contained and controlled

God's Rule Patricia Crone,2004 Patricia Crone s God's Rule is a fundamental reconstruction and analysis of Islamic political thought focusing on its intellectual development during the six centuries from the rise of Islam to the Mongol invasions Based on a wide variety of primary sources including some not previously considered from the point of view of political thought this is the first book to examine the medieval Muslim answers to questions crucial to any Western understanding of Middle Eastern politics today such as why states are necessary what functions they are meant to fulfill and whether or why they must be based on religious law The character of Muslim political thought differs fundamentally from its counterpart in the West The Christian West started with the conviction that truth both cognitive and moral and political power belonged to separate spheres Ultimately both power and truth originated with God but they had distinct historical trajectories and regulated different aspects of life The Muslims started with the opposite conviction truth and power appeared at the same time in history and regulated the same aspects of life In medieval Europe the disagreement over the relationship between religious authority and political power took the form of a protracted controversy regarding the roles of church and state In the medieval Middle East religious authority and political power were embedded in a single divinely sanctioned Islamic community a congregation and state made one The disagreement therefore took the form of a protracted controversy over the nature and function of the leadership of Islam itself Crone makes Islamic political thought accessible by relating it to the contexts in which it was formulated analyzing it in terms familiar to today s reader and where possible comparing it with medieval European and modern political thought By examining the ideological point of departure for medieval Islamic political thought Crone provides an invaluable foundation for a better understanding of contemporary Middle Eastern politics and current world events

The Epistle of Salim Ibn Dhakwan Salim Ibn Dhakwan,2001-03-15 The epistle ascribed to Salim Ibn Dhakwan is a tract against wrong doctrines regarding the classification and treatment of opponents Written by an Ibadi before AD 800 and taking issue with both Kharijite extremists and Murji ites it was brought to the attention of Western Islamicists in the early 1970s by Amr Khalifa Ennami and is here edited translated and discussed in full for the first time The early centuries of Islamic religious thought have become a dynamic field in the last few years and there is renewed interest in the attempt to use the early literature of the Muslim sects as windows onto the wider scene of doctrinal discussion in the period before the mainstream tradition becomes plentiful In addition to making available a new source this study seeks to open up the Ibadi tradition for future research on early Islamic thought partly by making heavy use of Ibadi sources in its interpretation of Salim's epistle and by partly by offering systematic information about the Ibadi figures and literary works involved in the appendices and bibliography

The Iranian Reception of Islam: The Non-Traditionalist Strands Patricia Crone, 2016-06-10 Patricia Crone's Collected Studies in Three Volumes brings together a number of her published unpublished and revised writings on Near Eastern and Islamic history arranged around three distinct but interconnected themes Volume 2 The Iranian Reception of Islam The Non Traditionalist Strands examines the reception of pre Islamic legacies in Islam above all that of the Iranians Volume 1 The Qur'anic Pagans and Related Matters pursues the reconstruction of the religious environment in which Islam arose and develops an intertextual approach to studying the Qur'anic religious milieu Volume 3 Islam the Ancient Near East and Varieties of Godlessness places the rise of Islam in the context of the ancient Near East and investigates sceptical and subversive ideas in the Islamic world The Qur'anic Pagans and Related Matters Islam the Ancient Near East and Varieties of Godlessness

Counsel for Kings: Wisdom and Politics in Tenth-Century Iran Louise Marlow, 2016-04-12 This book studies the Counsel for Kings as an illuminating commentary on the milieu and polity in which it was written and as a composition that seeks to persuade by drawing allusions between the diverse repertoire of wisdom literature available to the author and his audience and the circumstances of the author's time and place

The Development of Early Sunnite Ḥadīth Criticism Eerik Dickinson, 2001 This book examines the life and works of the important Sunnite ḥadīth critic Ibn Abī Ḥatīm al-Rāzī 240-854/327-938 with emphasis on his famous Taqḍīm This study defines his vision of the ḥadīth critic and analyses the nature of ḥadīth criticism

End-Timers Martin Ballard, 2011-08-17 This fascinating history surveys apocalyptic religion through time setting it within a political and social context End Timers Three Thousand Years of Waiting for Judgment Day examines the high and low points of millennial expectation across the centuries It shows how and why such beliefs first developed in antiquity and it explores how end timers influenced events as varied as the persecutions of Hellenistic ruler Antiochus Epiphanes and Roman Emperor Nero the Crusades the settlement of North America and the 20th century debacles at Jonestown and Waco Suggesting that anyone who wishes to understand the Middle East today needs to penetrate the background of modern fundamentalism within the three Semitic religions the author illuminates the part played by Christian Zionists in promoting the return of the Jews to the promised land and the resulting formation of the state of Israel as well as subsequent fundamentalist reactions within both Judaism and Islam He also follows the birth of the Christian Right in 19th century Britain and its development and growing influence in the United States Finally the book examines how religious end timers confront the four horsemen of the 21st century apocalypse world population increase depletion of natural resources advanced weaponry and global warming

From Kavād to al-Ghazālī Patricia Crone, 2020-12-20 This volume brings together twelve articles by Patricia Crone dealing with pre Islamic and Islamic religion law and political thought The first section focuses on the centuries before Islam with studies on Mazdakism in Iran and on Islam as the key factor behind the outbreak of Iconoclasm in Byzantium The second group of studies looks at problems in legal history including the codification of the Qur'an while the third investigates questions of political thought amongst them a study of early Muslim anarchists and an examination of the authorship of a work ascribed to al Ghazali The Legend of Sergius BahĖLiĖ,,raĖ,, Barbara Roggema,2009 This book offers editions and translations of the Syriac and Christian Arabic versions of the originally ninth century Legend of Sergius Baa ArA which portrays Islama TM s political might as predestined but finite and its scripture and religion as derivative of Christianity Counsel for Kings: Wisdom and Politics in Tenth-Century Iran L.
