Sandgathe, 2017-10-24 This book provides comprehensive information on the materials excavated at Pech de l'Azé IV both by the original excavator François Bordes in the 1970s and more recently by the authors and their scientific team Applying a range of new excavation and analytical techniques it presents detailed material on the formation of the site its chronology and the nature of the hominin occupations Pech de l'Azé IV is part of a complex of Lower and Middle Paleolithic cave sites in the Dordogne Valley of southwestern France Although this region is well known for its rich concentration of Paleolithic sites since the mid 19th century and many of the sites have been repeatedly excavated no detailed studies have fully documented the stone tool technology and faunal remains or the changes in them over time The site was regularly occupied by groups of Neanderthals from approximately 100 000 to 40 000 years ago during which time global scale changes transformed the region from a relatively warm climate similar to today's to a very cold glacial one The site provides valuable insights into changes in Neanderthal behavior that reflect at least in part their adaptation to changes in the environment and the availability of important resources such as prey species Taxonomic Tapestries Alison M Behie, Marc F Oxenham, 2015-05-26 This volume explores the complexity diversity and interwoven nature of taxonomic pursuits within the context of explorations of humans and related species It also pays tribute to Professor Colin Groves whose work has had an enormous impact on this field Recent research into that somewhat unique species we call humankind through the theoretical and conceptual approaches afforded by the discipline of biological anthropology is showcased The focus is on the evolution of the human species the behaviour of primates and other species and how humans affect the distribution and abundance of other species through anthropogenic impact Weaving together these three key themes through the considerable influence of Colin Groves provides glimpses of how changes in taxonomic theory and methodology including our fluctuating understanding of speciation have recrafted the way in which we view animal behaviour human evolution and conservation studies The Middle Paleolithic Site of Combe-Capelle Bas (France) Harold L. Dibble, Michel Lenoir, 1995-01-29 This report presents the new excavations at Combe Capelle Bas a Middle Paleolithic site in southern France The site is situated directly on a source of good quality flint and recent theories suggest that such a setting may have certain predictable effects on the lithic industries These effects and others relating to current models of raw material procurement and use are discussed This book will appeal to anyone interested in Paleolithic archaeology lithic analysis raw material use and site formation and taphonomy University Museum Monograph 91
