

Immigration, Industry, and the American Dream

Overview

In this game, formatted as a mystery party, students will role-play representative figures of the immigration boom and second industrial revolution (1850–1920). Some, like Andrew Carnegie, are famous figures from United States history, while others will represent recent immigrants. Students have scripted questions, answers, and clues to use while trying to solve the “Mystery of the Golden Key.” This fun game provides an overview of period issues and attitudes while offering students the opportunity to express their inner hams. Depending on your desired level of involvement, you can run this game with very little prep, or can have students dress up, bring food, and have a well-planned class party.

The total class time to complete the activity should be about two, 50-minute periods. You will assess student learning through discussion and by collecting their finished character sheets at the end of the activity.

Objectives

- Students will describe the way national/cultural roots affect individual development. (NCSS)
- Students will meet the personalities that shaped the early 1900s and will experience the contrasting viewpoints of industry vs. unions and immigrations vs. xenophobia.

Materials

- copies of reproducibles (pages 160–174) as described below
- index cards
- colored markers

Preparation

Total preparation time should be about 15 minutes.

1. Make one copy of the Crime Scene Report (page 160) for Inspector Jones.
2. Make a copy of the Guest List (page 161) for each student.
3. Make two copies of the Character Sheets (page 162–173).
4. Make an overhead of the Habits of Mind Discussion (page 174).

Fingerprints of God: His Hand in History and in Human Hearts Franklin S.

Nauman, 2008-01-25 Fingerprints of God is drawn from the authors experience during 50 years of parish ministry to a broad spectrum of worshippers from teen agers to senior citizens from farmers to physicists from blue collar workers to PhDs All shared a common hunger to know God as an eternal reality in a world of change and pursued a quest to find reasons for faith Evidence for the presence of God can be found in history human experience and in Holy Scripture Fingerprints of God relates contemporary situations to biblical precedents and personalities from Genesis to Revelation in search of Truth The author follows the footsteps of others who found the fingerprints of God's hand in their lives. With illustrations from literature, biography, and his own personal experience, he shares insights of pastors and teachers who guided his own faith journey. The reader follows the foibles and faith of Old Testament characters leading to the person and work of Jesus Christ, the finger of God among us. Luke 11:20. The significance of his life and death and resurrection as the foundation for our faith are the focus of the concluding chapters. The author makes no claim to be profound or prophetic. Each chapter is a simple attempt to answer some question or address a current issue or need in the life of ordinary people. None of the featured topics purport to be the last word on the subject under consideration. Like the words and works of Jesus, much more could be said, which is not recorded in this book, but these are written that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that by believing you may have life in his name. John 20:30-31.

History, Memory and Public Life Anna Maerker, Simon Sleight, Adam Sutcliffe, 2018-07-06. History, Memory and Public Life introduces readers to key themes in the study of historical memory and its significance by considering the role of historical expertise and understanding in contemporary public reflection on the past. Divided into two parts, the book addresses both the theoretical and applied aspects of historical memory studies. Approaches to history and memory introduces key methodological and theoretical issues within the field, such as postcolonialism, sites of memory, myths of national origins, and questions raised by memorialisation and museum presentation. Difficult Pasts looks at history and memory in practice through a range of case studies on contested, complex or traumatic memories, including the Northern Ireland Troubles, post-apartheid South Africa, and the Holocaust. Examining the intersection between history and memory from a wide range of perspectives and supported by guidance on further reading and online resources, this book is ideal for students of history as well as those working within the broad interdisciplinary field of memory studies.

Hand Drawn Victoria Emma FitzGerald, 2024-04-23. For locals and visitors alike, these sketches and stories highlight both the historic monuments and everyday moments that make Victoria shine. You never know quite what you'll come across in British Columbia's capital city. With its unmissable landmarks that attract people from around the world, Victoria is also rich in forested beauty, charming houses, and curious people and is steeped in local history. Following the charm of her previous book Hand Drawn Vancouver, in this memorable book Emma FitzGerald captures the coastal city of Victoria and its surrounding communities in over 100 sketches of iconic landmarks. It wouldn't be a visit to Victoria without stopping by the Empress Munro's or Butchart Gardens. Local favourites, the long-standing Beacon Drive-In and James Bay's Birdcage Confectionary, are some beloved spots honoured within these pages. Beautiful Architecture Journey back in time by admiring historic buildings like Queen Anne style homes and the spiraling Belfry Theatre Stunning West Coast Landscape Explore natural wonders from culturally significant fields of camas flowers to Mystic Beach's stunning shoreline Overheard Conversations What really makes a city are the people who live there Emma documents snippets of passersby's conversations as she sketches Structured by neighbourhood Hand Drawn Victoria is a beautiful keepsake for both locals and visitors and a lovely way to celebrate the city its buildings its people and its essence
