La France Raciste:

Racism Albert J. Wheeler, 2000 Of all mankind's vices racism is one of the most pervasive and stubborn. Success in overcoming racism has been achieved from time to time but victories have been limited thus far because mankind has focused on personal economic gain or power grabs ignoring generosity of the soul. This bibliography brings together the literature providing access by subject groupings as well as author and subject indexes. Contents: Racial Attitudes, Racism and Poverty, Hate Groups, Racial Justice, Racism and Politics, Race Discrimination, Racial Identity, Racism Around the World.

The French National Front Harvey G Simmons, 2018-03-05 Over the past few decades extreme right political parties have won increasing support throughout Europe. The largest and most sophisticated of these is the French National Front. Led by the charismatic Jean-Marie Le Pen, the Front is now the third most important political force in France after the mainstream right and the socialists. This clear and comprehensive book explores the antecedents for the meteoric rise of the National Front. Beginning with a political history of the extreme right from 1945 to 1995, Harvey Simmons traces links between Le Pen and French neo-fascist and extreme right organizations of the 1950s and 1960s and concludes with analyses of the Front's antisemitism, racism, organization, ideology, language, electorate, and views on women. Simmons argues that the Front is not a party like any other but a major threat to French democracy.

Evil Michel Wieviorka, 2012-06-11 Examining present-day forms of terrorism, violence, racism, and hatred, Wieviorka analyses each aspect from a sociological point of view, showing how these various forms of evil are constituted in day-to-day life.

Blacks and Britannia Danièle Joly, 2020-09-29 This title was first published in 2001. Featuring original research concerning young African Caribbeans in Birmingham, this book addresses complex issues of urban violence and insecurity, racism and discrimination, alienation, resistance, and social networks. Employing the methodology of sociological intervention developed by Alain Touraine, the book explores the experiences of a group of young people who are simultaneously presumed to be victims and perpetrators of violence. It examines their relationship to this violence, its meanings, and effects upon them; how they constitute themselves as social actors and subjects and their capacity for action. The book also addresses the fact that ethnic monitoring and multicultural policies place the question of ethnicity on the British social and political agenda alongside issues of racism and discrimination. Exploring both the perceived and personally experienced position of young people within this context, it sheds important new light upon processes of group identification and action.

Radicalized Loyalties Fabien Truong, 2018-06-11 There is widespread concern today about the radicalization of young Muslim men and the deprived areas of Western cities are believed to have become breeding grounds of home-grown extremism. But how do young Muslims growing up in the cities of the West really live? This book takes us beyond the rhetoric and into the housing estates on the outskirts of Paris to meet Adama Radouane Hassan, Tarik Marley, and a shadowy figure whose name suddenly and brutally became known to the world at the time of the Charlie Hebdo shootings: Amadou Coulibaly. Seeing Amadou through the eyes of close friends and other young Muslim men in the neighbourhoods where they grew up Fabien Truong uncovers a network of competing loyalties and maps the road these youths take to resolve the conflicts they face becoming Muslim For these young men Islam stands often alone as a resource a gateway as if it were the last route to escape without betrayal and to fight in a meaningful and noble way Becoming Muslim does not necessarily lead to the radicalized other It is more like a long distance race a powerful reconversion of the self that allows for introspection and change But it can also lead to a belligerent presentation of the self that transforms a dead end into a call to arms Alain Touraine Jon Clark,Marco Diani,2013-12-19 First published in 2004 The seventeen essays in this volume discuss the work of Alain Touraine and consider his contribution to the social sciences The text includes his most recent thinkings on the market and communities Street Gangs, Migration and Ethnicity Frank van Gemert,Dana Peterson,Inger-Lise Lien,2013-05-13 This book is the third publication from the Eurogang Network a cross national collaboration of researchers from both North America and Europe devoted to comparative and multi national research on youth gangs It provides a unique insight into the influence of migration on local gang formation and development paying particular attention to the importance of ethnicity The book also explores the challenges that migration and ethnicity pose for responding effectively to the growth of such gangs particularly in areas where public discourse on such issues is restricted Chapters in the book are concerned to address both situations where there have been longstanding problems with street gangs as well as areas where such issues have just started to emerge A variety of different research traditions and approaches are represented including ethnographic methods self report surveys and interviews official records data and victim interviews It will be essential reading for anybody interested in the phenomenon of street and youth gangs

Policing race, ethnicity and culture Jan Beek,Thomas Bierschenk,Annalena Kolloch,Bernd Meyer,2023-03-28 How to deal with differences based on culture ethnicity and race has become a key issue of policing This edited collected explores everyday often mundane interactions between police officers and migrantised actors in European countries and asks how both sides deal with perceived differences The contributions reflect that such differences are not just out there but are being situationally re produced in police citizen encounters By taking a comparative approach the book develops a distinctly European perspective on these questions The book contains 12 ethnographies from ten European countries based on new and often innovative empirical research two theoretical contributions an introduction and a postface The Politics of Migration and Immigration in Europe Andrew Geddes,Peter Scholten,2016-08-09 Migration and immigration are high on any nation s agenda but have particular resonance in Europe in light of recent events The new edition of this book has been fully updated in this respect and explores Immigration policy in individual EU nations The treatment of migrants including immigrant policies The development and effects of the Shengen agreement The movement towards common EU policies It looks specifically at the contexts of Britain France Germany The Netherlands Sweden Italy Spain Greece and Turkey as well as a examining the changing nature of migration dynamics in central and Eastern Europe This book is a significant and this major new reading of Sartre's life and work Paige Arthur traces the relationship between the philosopher's decades long commitment to decolonization and his intellectual positions Where other commentators have focused on the tensions between Sartre's Marxism and his account of existential freedom usually to denigrate one in favor of the other Arthur shows how Sartre's political engagement with global liberation movements and his philosophical framework developed alongside one another Closely following the postwar movements for decolonization and then supporting the war of independence in Algeria Sartre proposed an influential and uncompromising view of imperialism Analyzing the Western attitude to the subhuman colonial subject he offered an account of the social constraints that applied to both ruler and ruled and came to argue that political violence on both sides was a systematic consequence of the colonial order Arthur's rich and nuanced book locates Sartre within the political discussions of his time whilst also looking forward to contemporary debates about new forms of imperialism and resistance      Racism, 1950      New Racial Missions of Policing Paul Amar, 2013-09-13 This book identifies new formations of race racism and ethnicity at the intersection of neoliberalism security urban governance and the law through a comparative international analysis of police organizations and practices It pushes analytical and theoretical boundaries by examining racialization and ethnicization in locations where the topic is politically taboo such as in China India and France and where racial and ethnic hierarchies have supposedly been banished to the past as in Bosnia and South Africa This book also examines police and security services not as mere artefacts of state authority or the prerogatives of capitalist development but as relatively autonomous and uniquely productive intersections of new kinds of state social and cultural formations that are remaking race embodiment fear and control on their own terms This book was published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies      The Changing International Community Charles Boasson, Max
