La Da Composition Roman:

Institution & Innovation, 2020-12-07 Usually the term innovation is used in connection with artists and authors themes and techniques What we see in most studies about innovation is that its problematic aspects are related to problems in literary or artistic history and that scholars try to solve those problems in work oriented research Some scholars however especially emperical sociologists claim that problems with respect to innovation cannot be solved without analyzing the cultural area where those problems arise The major question that this book discusses concerns the role of art committees literary art and film critics art collectors museum directors academic writers and other gatekeepers with regard to different forms of art in the interbellum period as well as after World War II Joseph Et Aséneth Marc Philonenko, 1974 ,

Creative Actions and Organizations Simone D'Alessandro, 2020-12-09 This book details a 15 year theoretical and practical research study that destroys the clichés of creative processes and inaugurates a reflective sociology on serendipity In today's highly innovative organizations creative processes are proceduralized in the form of techniques and give rise to routine phenomena This text hybridizes paradigms such as Donati's relational sociology the Luhmanian systemic approach Von Foerster's radical constructivism Sennett's ideas on the craftsman the ideas of Wittgenstein and Searle on language and the ideas of Dummett and Goedel on logic as well as Hofstadter's on artificial intelligence Drawing on over 600 works including essays and articles the currents of thought of scholars who have dealt with the topic are identified here The 200 techniques surveyed present common elements such as common meta rules of opposition combination and separation that determine creative behavior and are triggered by a recursive but paradoxical relationship between thought and language The Modern Language Journal, 1929 Includes section Reviews Proust, the Body and Literary Form Michael R.

Laporte, Mireille Piot, Max Silberztein, 2004-07-29 Maurice Gross who died in December 2001 was a pioneer and leading thinker in the field of modern linguistics Long before computers could facilitate large scale lexically based language study he and his team began building an exhaustive empirically based inventory of the lexicon grammar of French which thirty years later still remains the most complete syntax based lexicon available Researchers all over the world have adopted the Gross model of description which serves as a computational model for any language As can be seen in the contributions in this volume it has been applied to languages as different as Arabic Chinese English Greek or Korean as well as the major Romance languages of course In this volume the reader will also find a number of articles by eminent linguists who were close friends of Maurice Gross and frequently in dialogue with him on linguistic issues No matter whether they shared his theoretical views or his particular empirical methods of description they each had great respect for his work especially for the close grained linguistic analysis which has set a benchmark for future generations Orality and Performance in Early French Romance Evelyn Birge Vitz, 1999 This book proposes a fundamental revision of the history of early French romance it argues that oral and performed traditions were far more important in the development of romance than scholars have recognised Starting with issues of orality and literacy it is argued that the form in which romances were composed was not the invention of clerics but was rather an oral form The second part of the book looks at performance and shows that romances such as those of Chretien invited voiced presentation moreover they were frequently recited from memory sung and acted out in dramatic fashion Romances can and should still be performed today The English Review Ford Madox Ford, 1909 Catalog of Copyright Entries.
