La Parola Del Testo Letteratura Come Storia:

Legitimizing the Artist Luca Somigli, 2003-12-15 In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the production of literary and cultural manifestoes enjoyed a veritable boom and accompanied the rise of many avant garde movements. Legitimizing the Artist considers this phenomenon as a response to a more general crisis of legitimation that artists had been struggling with for decades. The crucial question for artists confronted by the conservative values of the dominant bourgeoisie and the economic logic of triumphant capitalism was how to justify their work in terms that did not reduce art to a mere commodity. In this work Luca Somigli discusses several European artistic movements: decadentism, Italian futurism, vorticism and imagism, and argues for the centrality of the works of F. T. Marinetti in the transition from a fin de siècle decadent poetics exemplified by the manifestoes of Anatole Baju to a properly avant garde project aiming at a complete renewal of the process of literary communication and the abolition of the difference between producer and consumer. It is to this challenge that the English avant garde artists and Ezra Pound in particular responded with their more polemical pieces. Somigli suggests that this debate allows us to rethink the relationship between modernism and post modernism as complementary ways of engaging the loss of an organic relationship between the artist and his social environment.

Italian Modernism Luca Somigli, Mario Moroni, 2004-12-15 Italian Modernism was written in response to the need for an historiographic and theoretical reconsideration of the concepts of Decadentismo and the avant garde within the Italian critical tradition. Focussing on the confrontation between these concepts and the broader notion of international modernism, the essays in this important collection seek to understand this complex phase of literary and artistic practices as a response to the epistemes of philosophical and scientific modernity at the end of the nineteenth century and in the first three decades of the twentieth. Intellectually provocative, this collection is the first attempt in the field of Italian Studies at a comprehensive account of Italian literary modernism. Each contributor documents how previous critical categories employed to account for the literary, artistic and cultural experiences of the period have provided only partial and inadequate descriptions, preventing a fuller understanding of the complexities and the interrelations among the cultural phenomena of the time.
