La Forjathe Forge:

Memory and Trauma in the Postwar Spanish Novel Sarah Leggott, Ross Woods, 2013-12-11 In recent years much Spanish literary criticism has been characterized by debates about collective and historical memory stemming from a national obsession with the past that has seen an explosion of novels and films about the Spanish Civil War and Franco dictatorship. This growth of so called memory studies in literary scholarship has focused on the representation of memory and trauma in contemporary narratives dealing with the Civil War and ensuing dictatorship. In contrast the novel of the postwar period has received relatively little critical attention of late despite the fact that memory and trauma also feature in different ways and to varying degrees in many works written during the Franco years. The essays in this study argue that such novels merit a fresh critical approach and that contemporary scholarship relating to the representation of memory and trauma in literature can enhance our understanding of the postwar Spanish novel. The volume opens with essays that engage with aspects of contemporary theoretical approaches to memory in order to reveal the ways in which these are pertinent to Spanish novels written in the first postwar decades with studies on novels by Camilo Jos Cela, Carmen Laforet, Arturo Barea and Ana Mar a Matute. Its second section focuses on the representation of trauma in specific postwar novels drawing on elements from trauma studies scholarship to discuss neglected works by Mercedes Salisachs, Dolores Medio and Ignacio Aldecoa. The final essays continue the focus on the theme of trauma and revisit works by women writers namely Carmen Laforet, Rosa Chacel, Ana Mar a Matute and Mar a Zambrano that foreground the experiences of female protagonists who are seeking to deal with a traumatic past. The essays in this volume thus propose a new direction for the study of Spanish literature of 1940s, 1950s and early 1960s enhancing existing approaches to the postwar Spanish novel through an engagement with contemporary scholarship on memory and trauma in literature.

Spanish Women Writers and Spain's Civil War Maryellen Bieder, Roberta Johnson, 2016-12-01 The Spanish Civil War 1936-1939 pitted conservative forces including the army, the Church, the Falange fascist party, landowners and industrial capitalists against the Republic installed in 1931 and supported by intellectuals, the petite bourgeoisie, many campesinos, farm laborers and the urban proletariat. Provoking heated passions on both sides, the Civil War soon became an international phenomenon that inspired a number of literary works reflecting the impact of the war on foreign and national writers. While the literature of the period has been the subject of scholarship, women's literary production has not been studied as a body of work in the same way that literature by men has been and its unique features have not been examined. Addressing this lacuna in literary studies, this volume provides fresh perspectives on well known women writers as well as less studied ones whose works take the Spanish Civil War as a theme. The authors represented in this collection reflect a wide range of political positions. Writers such as Maria Zambrano, Merc Rodoreda and Josefina Aldecoa were clearly aligned with the Republic whereas others including Mercedes Salisachs and Liberata Masoliver sympathized with the Nationalists Most however are situated in a more ambiguous political space although the ethics and character portraits that emerge in their works might suggest Republican sympathies Taken together the essays are an important contribution to scholarship on literature inspired by this pivotal point in Spanish history

Aesthetics After Metaphysics Miguel de Beistegui, 2012 This book focuses on a dimension of art which the philosophical tradition from Plato to Hegel and even Adorno has consistently overlooked such was its commitment explicit or implicit to mimesis and the metaphysics of truth it presupposes De Beistegui refers to this dimension which unfolds outside the space that stretches between the sensible and the supersensible the space of metaphysics itself as the hypersensible and show how the operation of art to which it corresponds is best described as metaphorical The movement of the book then is from the classical or metaphysical aesthetics of mimesis Part One to the aesthetics of the hypersensible and metaphor Part Two Against much of the history of aesthetics and the metaphysical discourse on art he argues that the philosophical value of art doesn't consist in its ability to bridge the space between the sensible and the supersensible or the image and the Idea and reveal the sensible as proto conceptual but to open up a different sense of the sensible His aim then is to shift the place and role that philosophy attributes to art
