

The book cover features a stylized illustration. A large, yellow horse with a black mane and tail is the central figure, wearing a brown halter with white floral patterns and a metal ring. It is positioned on the left side of the cover. In the foreground, a young girl with dark hair, wearing a red and white checkered shirt and grey shorts, sits on a yellow surface. In the background, a small figure of a person in a red dress sits on a wooden bench against a dark, solid background. The overall style is painterly and somewhat surreal.

Cinema's Doppelgänger Doug Dibbern, 2021-06-14 Cinema s Doppelg ngers is a counterfactual history of the cinema or perhaps a work of speculative fiction in the guise of a scholarly history of film and movie guide That is it s a history of the movies written from an alternative unfolding of historical time a world in which neither the Bolsheviks nor the Nazis came to power and thus a world in which Sergei Eisenstein never made movies and German filmmakers like Fritz Lang never fled to Hollywood a world in which the talkies were invented in 1936 rather than 1927 in which the French New Wave critics didn t become filmmakers and in which Hitchcock never came to Hollywood The book attempts on the one hand to explore and expand upon the intrinsically creative nature of all historical writing like all works of fiction its ultimate goal is to be a work of art in and of itself But it also aims on the other hand to be a legitimate examination of the relationship between the economic and political organization of nations and film industries and the resulting aesthetics of film and thus of the dominant ideas and values of film scholarship and criticism Doug Dibbern s first book Hollywood Riots Violent Crowds and Progressive Politics in American Film won the 2016 Peter Rollins Prize He has published scholarly essays on classical Hollywood filmmakers film criticism for The Notebook at Mubi com and literary essays for journals like Chicago Quarterly Review and Hotel Amerika He has a Ph D in Cinema Studies from New York University where he teaches now in the Expository Writing Program
