Lena And Leopold:

Lena and Leopold Wiltrud Roser, 1988-10-01 Lena finally finds out why her cat Leopold won't play with his new toy mouse Regina of Warsaw: Love, Loss and Liberation Geri Spieler, Inspired by Real Events Regina Anuszewicz looked forward to visiting her sister in Bialystok for a late afternoon stroll along the Bialy River It was June 1906 and it should have been an exciting time to stay overnight in the women's boarding house However a violent pogrom blasted those plans as a rage of violence shook the town and Regina's hopes Russian soldiers swarmed the streets and homes stomping up to her sister's boarding house forcing Regina to hide inside the wardrobe barely able to breathe as she heard screams and people begging for their lives The trauma of that day shaped Regina's life and every decision she made as she moved through the days and years coloring her approach to every event that took her from Poland to the United States and the four children she sought to protect Pogroms rip at the hearts and minds of all of us yet the stories of those who fought for survival must continue to be told In Regina's story seen through the revelations of her granddaughter Spieler takes the reader through an intimate look at Regina's trials and travails and reveals the consequences of her decisions that impacted the generations that followed A triumph for the soul Carole Bumpus Author The Whispering Roots Cecil Day Lewis, 1970 *New York Court of Appeals. the dangerous reality that comes with fighting the enemy Miriam is a young Jewish violinist who immigrated for the safety she thought Holland would offer She finds love in her new country but as her family settles in Leiden the events that follow will test them in ways she could never have imagined The Nazi invasion propels these women onto paths that cross in unexpected sometimes heartbreaking ways Yet the story that unfolds illuminates the surprising endurance of the human spirit and the power of faith and love to carry us through
