Leni Riefenstahl And Olympia:

Leni Riefenstahl and Olympia Cooper C. Graham, 1986 Leni Riefenstahl's four hour film Olympia deals with the major propaganda achievement of Nazi Germany in the 1930's the Eleventh Olympic Games that were held in Berlin in 1936. Graham has scrutinized the history of the film and shows that it was deeply involved with the regime both in its stages of production and in its later distribution. He also argues that the film can be regarded as a masterpiece of propaganda and further that virtually any work of this nature is bound to have a propaganda effect whether intended or not. The author relates the film's subsequent history against the background of the worsening political situation in Europe. The book will be of value to film historians, sports scholars and those interested in the history and culture of Nazi Germany. Olympia Taylor Downing, 2012 Leni Riefenstahl's Olympia 1938 is one of the most controversial films ever made. Capitalising on the success of Triumph of the Will 1935 her propaganda film for the Nazi Party, Riefenstahl secured Hitler's approval for her grandiose plans to film the 1936 Berlin Olympics. The result was a work as notorious for its politics as celebrated for its aesthetic power. This revised edition includes new material on Riefenstahl's film making career before Olympia and her close relationship with Hitler. Taylor Downing also discusses newly available evidence on the background to the film's production that conclusively proves that the film was directly commissioned by Hitler and funded through Goebbels's Ministry of Propaganda and not as Riefenstahl later claimed commissioned independently from the Nazi state by the Olympic authorities. In writing this edition Taylor Downing has been given access to a magnificent new restoration of the original version of the film by the International Olympic Committee. Bloomsbury publishing Leni Riefenstahl and "Olympia" : Brilliant Film Maker Or Nazi Propagandist? Stéphane Pekala Colles, 2017 The Films of Leni Riefenstahl David B. Hinton, 2000 With access to Leni Riefenstahl's personal archives and film collection the author explores the controversial filmmaker's career. Leni Riefenstahl Jürgen Trimborn, 2008-01-22 Dancer, actress, mountaineer and director Leni Riefenstahl's uncompromising will and audacious talent for self promotion appeared unmatched until 1932 when she introduced herself to her future protector and patron Adolf Hitler. Known internationally for two of the films she made for him, Triumph of the Will and Olympia, Riefenstahl's demanding and obsessive style introduced unusual angles, new approaches to tracking shots and highly symbolic montages. Despite her lifelong claim to be an apolitical artist, Riefenstahl's monumental and nationalistic vision of Germany's traditions and landscape served to idealize the cause of one of the world's most violent and racist regimes. Riefenstahl ardently cast herself as a passionate young director who caved to the pressure to serve an all powerful Führer so focused on reinventing the cinema that she didn't recognize the goals of the Third Reich until too late. Jürgen Trimborn's revelatory biography celebrates this charismatic and adventurous woman who lived to 101 while also taking on the myths surrounding her. With refreshing distance and detailed research Trimborn presents the story of a stubborn and intimidating filmmaker who refused to be held accountable for her role in the Holocaust but continued to inspire countless photographers and filmmakers with her artistry.

in complex relationships with their stars and directors Here Bill Niven offers a powerful argument for reconsidering Hitler s fascination with film as a means to further the Nazi agenda In this first English language work to fully explore Hitler s influence on and relationship with film in Nazi Germany the author calls on a broad array of archival sources Arguing that Hitler was as central to the Nazi film industry as Goebbels Niven also explores Hitler s representation in Third Reich cinema personally and through films focusing on historical figures with whom he was associated and how Hitler s vision for the medium went far beyond straight propaganda He aimed to raise documentary film to a powerful art form rivaling architecture in its ability to reach the masses Imagining Blackness in Germany and Austria Sabrina K.

Rahman,Michael Saman,Charlotte Szilagyi,2020-05-15 Imagining Blackness in Germany and Austria offers a breadth of fresh and provocative perspectives on the ways that blackness has been configured and instrumentalized in cultural productions from around the modern German speaking world The essays collected here examine material ranging from eighteenth century literary and philosophical landmarks to Viennese modernist art from colonial missionary literature to twentieth century sculpture film and music from National Socialist ideology to Leftist counterdiscourse Spanning a range of literary visual and theoretical discourses these essays identify crucial moments within radical paradigm shifts in the ways the concept of blackness has been employed by European intellectuals One shift can be observed within the notion of blackness itself which progresses from a state that precedes political articulation to one that is negotiated discursively Another shift sees conservative notions of race give way to a recodification of blackness as American rather than African In this way blackness becomes linked to the advent of a hegemonic power A further shift can be discerned in the ways nationalist discourses of colonial supremacy and of an impending darkening of Europe progress toward the perception of blackness as an entry point into the cultural complex known as Amerika into mass culture and into European modernity itself With an introduction by Werner Sollors this collection provides valuable compelling and timely material and insight for scholars and students interested in modern German speaking culture African American and African Diaspora studies and their intersections The Influence of Hellenic Philosophy on the Contemporary World John G.
