

A painting by Thomas Kinkadee depicting a charming street scene. On the left, a multi-story brick building with arched windows and a small balcony. The ground floor features a dark wooden entrance with a sign above the door. To the right of the entrance, there's a small outdoor seating area with white tables and chairs, some covered by blue umbrellas. A large, leafy tree stands on the right side of the street, casting a shadow over the area. The overall atmosphere is warm and inviting, typical of Kinkadee's style.

Marcel Duchamp and the Art of Life Jacquelynn Baas, 2019-11-19 A groundbreaking reading of Duchamp's work as informed by Asian esoterism, energetic spiritual practices, identifying creative energy with the erotic impulse. Considered by many to be the most important artist of the twentieth century, the object of intensive critical scrutiny and extensive theorizing, Marcel Duchamp remains an enigma. He may be the most intellectual artist of all time and yet toward the end of his life he said, "If you wish, my art would be that of living; each second, each breath is a work which is inscribed nowhere, which is neither visual nor cerebral." In Marcel Duchamp and the Art of Life, Jacquelynn Baas offers a groundbreaking new reading of Duchamp, arguing in particular that his work may have been informed by Asian esoterism, energetic spiritual practices that identify creative energy with the erotic impulse Duchamp drew on a wide range of sources for his art from science and mathematics to alchemy Largely overlooked until now have been Asian spiritual practices including Indo Tibetan tantra Baas presents evidence that Duchamp s version of artistic realization was grounded in a western interpretation of Asian mind training and body energetics designed to transform erotic energy into mental and spiritual liberation She offers close readings of many Duchamp works beginning and ending with his final work the mysterious shockingly explicit tant donn s 1 la chute d eau 2 le gaz d clairage Given 1 The Waterfall 2 The Illuminating Gas Generously illustrated with many images in color Marcel Duchamp and the Art of Life speculates that Duchamp viewed art making as part of an esoteric continuum grounded in Eros It asks us to unlearn what we think we know about both art and life in order to be open to experience The Writers Directory ,2013

See You is a life affirming multi generational tale Some parts are made up while combining with a realistic memoir of a real person long involved in the art world far from being a family memoir though it is that these are luminous fragmentary tales of strong women and how they reacted to the men in their lives sometimes disastrously but often strengthening Plus a vivid journey back into 18th century colonial life in Virginia and a visit told with great immediacy to a small Ohio town in the 19th century which are intricately intertwined The writing carries the freshness of watercolor paintings with warm hearted view of life itself with all its fragility losses triumphs and happiness     Best Friends Jean Fischer, 2002 A collection of stories that describe different kinds of friendship taken from familiar novels and from the lives of such people as Harriet Tubman and Helen Keller
