Pantheon,
Rome, Italy. 125-128 AD HIGH EMPIRE

With the new Emperor Hadrian in power, work on a new temple dedicated to all the gods began. This temple became known as the Pantheon.

Excluding the use of an eight Corinthian column facade, the temple was completely revolutionary for its time.

The dome of the Pantheon steadily decreases in thickness from the base to the top. In the very middle there is an open "Oculus" that is used as a skylight, and the only lighting of the building.

The "Oculus" measures 30 feet in diameter.

This is the oldest domed building in the World that still has its original roof.

Information Please Mark Poster, 2006-08-30 Mark Poster considers how new media from TiVO to digital file sharing affects society and he traces its implications for cultural theory and progressive political change Empires of God Linda Gregerson, Susan Juster, 2011 Focusing on the formative period of European exploration settlement and conquest in the Americas from roughly 1500 to 1760 Empires of God brings together literary scholars and historians of the English French and Spanish Americas to demonstrate the power of religious ideas and narratives to create kingdoms both imagined and real

Trade, Commerce, and the State in the Roman World Andrew Wilson, Alan Bowman, 2017-10-27 This volume presents eighteen papers by leading Roman historians and archaeologists discussing trade in the Roman Empire during the period c 100 BC to AD 350 It focuses especially on the role of the Roman state in shaping the institutional framework for trade within and outside the empire in taxing that trade and in intervening in the markets to ensure the supply of particular commodities especially for the city of Rome and for the army As part of a novel interdisciplinary approach to the subject the chapters address its myriad facets on the basis of broadly different sources of evidence historical papyrological and archaeological They are grouped into three sections covering institutional factors taxation legal structures market regulation financial institutions evidence for long distance trade within the empire in wood stone glass and pottery and trade beyond the frontiers with the east as far as China India Arabia the Red Sea and the Sahara Rome's external trade with realms to the east emerges as being of particular significance but it is in the eastern part of the empire itself where the state appears to have adapted the mechanisms of taxation in collaboration with the elite holders of wealth to support its need for revenue On the other hand the price of that collaboration which was in effect a fiscal partnership ultimately led in the longer term in slightly different forms in the east and the west to a fundamental change in the political character of the empire National

Defense and Direct Student Loan Program Directory of Designated Low-income Schools for Teacher Cancellation Benefits for ..., 1982 Urban Craftsmen and Traders in the Roman World Andrew Wilson, Miko Flohr, 2016-02-12 This volume featuring sixteen contributions from leading Roman historians and archaeologists sheds new light on approaches to the economic history of urban craftsmen and traders in the Roman world with a particular emphasis on the imperial period Combining a wide range of research traditions from all over Europe and utilizing evidence from Italy the western provinces and the Greek speaking east this edited collection is divided into four sections It first considers the scholarly history of Roman crafts and trade in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries focusing on Germany and the Anglo Saxon world and on Italy and France Chapters discuss how scholarly thinking about Roman craftsmen and traders was influenced by historical and intellectual developments in the modern world and how different national research traditions followed different trajectories throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The second section highlights the economic strategies of craftsmen and traders examining strategies of long distance traders and the phenomenon of specialization and presenting case studies of leather working and bread baking In the third section the human factor in urban crafts and trade including the role of apprenticeship gender freedmen and professional associations is analysed and the volume ends by exploring the position of crafts in urban space considering the evidence for artisanal clustering in the archaeological and papyrological record and providing case studies of the development of commercial landscapes at Aquincum on the Danube and at Sagalassos in Pisidia

Coinage and Identity in the Roman Provinces Christopher Howgego, Volker Heuchert, Andrew Burnett, 2005-05-05 Coins were the most deliberate of all symbols of public communal identities yet the Roman historian will look in vain for any good introduction to or systematic treatment of the subject Sixteen leading international scholars have sought to address this need by producing this authoritative collection of essays which ranges over the whole Roman world from Britain to Egypt from 200 BC to AD 300 The subject is approached through surveys of the broad geographical and chronological structure of the evidence through chapters which focus on ways of expressing identity and through regional studies which place the numismatic evidence in local context

Military Service and the Integration of Jews into the Roman Empire Raúl González-Salineró, 2022-02-28 According to Raúl González Salineró the plurality of religious expressions within Judaism prior to the predominance of the rabbinical current disproves the assumption according to which some Jewish customs and precepts especially the Sabbath prevented Jews from joining the Roman army without renouncing their ancestral culture The military exemption occasionally granted to the Jews by the Roman authorities was compatible with their voluntary enlistment as it was in the Hellenistic armies in order to obtain Roman citizenship As the sources attest Judaism did not pose any insurmountable obstacle to integration of the Jews into the Roman world They achieved a noteworthy presence in the Roman army by the fourth century CE at which time the Church's influence over imperial power led to their exclusion from the militia armata

Mergers, Acquisitions and Global Empires Ko Unoki, 2013 In this book the author weaves a unique narrative that looks at both empires of business created from mergers and acquisitions and global empires from world history in an attempt to answer the question why do certain empires endure for long periods while others collapse in a short space of time

The Scottish Nation at Empire's End B. Glass, 2014-06-02 The rise and fall of the British Empire profoundly shaped the history of modern Scotland and the identity of its people From the Act of Union in 1707 to the dramatic fall of the British Empire following the Second World War Scotland's involvement in commerce missionary activity cultural dissemination emigration and political action could not be dissociated from British overseas endeavours In fact Scottish national pride and identity were closely associated with the benefits bestowed on this small nation through its access to the British Empire By examining the opinions of Scots towards the empire from numerous professional and personal backgrounds Scotland emerges as a nation inextricably linked to the British Empire Whether Scots categorized themselves as proponents opponents or victims of empire one conclusion is clear they maintained an abiding interest in the empire even as it rapidly disintegrated during the twenty year period following the Second World War In turn the end of the British Empire coincided with the rise of Scottish nationalism and calls for Scotland to extricate itself from the Union Decolonization had a major impact on Scottish political consciousness in the years that followed 1965 and the implications for the sustainability of the British state are still unfolding today
