

What Causes Wind?

Wind is the movement of air from a region of high pressure to a region of low pressure.

Temperature drives air pressure, so ultimately wind comes from unequal heating of the Earth.

Theoretical and Experimental Aerodynamics Mrinal Kaushik,2018-12-15 This book is intended as a text for undergraduate and graduate courses in aerodynamics typically offered to students of aerospace and mechanical engineering programs. It covers all aspects of aerodynamics. The book begins with a description of the standard atmosphere and basic concepts, then moves on to cover the equations and mathematical models used to describe and characterize flow fields as well as their thermodynamic aspects and applications. Specific emphasis is placed on the relation between concepts and their use in aircraft design. Additional topics of interest to the reader are presented in the Appendix, which draws on the teachings provided in the text. The book is written in an easy-to-understand manner with pedagogical aids such as chapter overviews, summaries, and descriptive and objective questions to help students evaluate their progress. Atmospheric and gas tables are provided to facilitate problem solving. Lastly, a detailed bibliography is included at the end of each chapter to provide students with further resources. The book can also be used as a text for professional development courses in aerodynamics.
