From Conflict To Peace In A Changing World Oxfam Working Papers Series:

From Conflict to Peace in a Changing World Deborah Eade, 1998 This Working Paper reproduces articles and essays which first appeared in the quarterly journal Development in Practice The first part features papers by scholars agency representatives practitioners and policy makers on the ethical and legal dimensions of humanitarian endeavour The second part comprises a collection of original essays which were commissioned from some of the highly experienced practitioners in the field of development and conflict who attended the 1996 Symposium entitled Building Bridges in Southern Africa Conflict Reconstruction and Reconciliation in Times of Change which was co sponsored by the Centre for the Study of Violence and Reconciliation CSV and Oxfam's South Africa Office The two sections address conflict related themes from a range of perspectives and together paint an informative picture of the moral and practical complexities of crisis and intervention Contributors include Michel Chossudovsky Jenny Pearce Hugo Slim Juan Somavia and Derek Summerfield The paper concludes with an annotated bibliography listing current and classic publications on the subject of development work in the context of crisis and armed conflict

Civil Society and Politics in Central Asia Charles E. Ziegler, 2015-02-27 The five Central Asian states of Kazakhstan Uzbekistan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan and Turkmenistan constitute an area of increasing importance in global politics The region currently serves as the main route for transporting American and NATO supplies and personnel into Afghanistan Its Turkic Muslim peoples share ethnic and religious roots with China's Uighurs in neighboring Xinjiang where some Uighurs have connections to the Taliban in Afghanistan and Pakistan fueling Beijing's already acute fears of terrorism and separatism Perhaps most importantly the Caspian basin holds immense reserves of oil and natural gas Countries rich in hydrocarbons like Kazakhstan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan can benefit greatly from this wealth but often they must rely on foreign companies usually backed by foreign governments to develop these resources Revolts in Kyrgyzstan in 2005 and 2010 and Uzbekistan in 2005 Tajikistan's civil war in the 1990s and continued terrorist incidents 2010 2011 strikes and suicide bombings in Kazakhstan in 2011 have contributed to concerns about stability in the region In Civil Society and Politics in Central Asia a prominent group of scholars assesses both the area's manifold problems and its emerging potential examining the often uneasy relationship between its states and the societies they govern A meticulously in depth study the volume demonstrates the fascinating cultural complexity and diversity of Central Asia Small landlocked and surrounded by larger powers Central Asian nations have become adept at playing their neighbors against each other in order to maximize their own abilities to maneuver The essays in this book look beyond the surface of Central Asian politics to discover the forces that are working for political change and continuity in this critical region of the world

Internal Conflict and the International Community Roderic Alley, 2017-07-05 This insightful book debates whether conflict within states has emerged as the Achilles Heel of the international community It covers a wide range of issues including the roots of internal conflict small arms supplies intervention human rights and international humanitarian law refugees and post conflict reconstruction Internal Conflict and the International Community provides supplementary reading for third level undergraduates post graduates and scholars of international relations comparative politics development studies international law and security and defence studies Working with Conflict Simon Fisher, 2000-08 Provides a range of tools ideas methods techniques for tackling conflict Humanitarian Work Psychology S. C Carr, M. MacLachlan, A. Furnham, 2012-04-11 Contextualizing Humanitarian work in history justice methods and professional ethics this book articulates process skills for transformational partnerships between diverse organizations motivating education organisational learning and selecting the disaster workforce Conflict, climate change, food security, and mobility in the Karamoja Cluster Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, IGAD, InterPeace, 2023-11-03 This report presents the findings of a study commissioned by FAO IGAD CEWARN IGAD CBDFU and Interpeace and undertaken between November 2021 and April 2022 The study was aimed at analysing resource based conflicts in the Karamoja Cluster in order to generate evidence on their causes and drivers major parties impacts and trends with a view to recommending strategies for conflict sensitive and peace responsive programming that will address the root causes and drivers of conflict so as to strengthen food and nutrition security address the drivers of displacement and enhance the capacity of communities to adapt to climate change Borders among Activists Sarah S. Stroup, 2012-04-06 In Borders among Activists Sarah S Stroup challenges the notion that political activism has gone beyond borders and created a global or transnational civil society Instead at the most globally active purportedly cosmopolitan groups in the world international nongovernmental organizations INGOs organizational practices are deeply tied to national environments creating great diversity in the way these groups organize themselves engage in advocacy and deliver services Stroup offers detailed profiles of these varieties of activism in the United States Britain and France These three countries are the most popular bases for INGOs but each provides a very different environment for charitable organizations due to differences in legal regulations political opportunities resources and patterns of social networks Stroup's comparisons of leading American British and French INGOs Care Oxfam Médecins sans Frontières Human Rights Watch Amnesty International and FIDH reveal strong national patterns in INGO practices including advocacy fund raising and professionalization These differences are quite pronounced among INGOs in the humanitarian relief sector and are observable though less marked among human rights INGOs Stroup finds that national origin helps account for variation in the transnational advocacy networks that have received so much attention in international relations For practitioners national origin offers an alternative explanation for the frequently lamented failures of INGOs in the field INGOs are not inherently dysfunctional but instead remain disconnected because of their strong roots in very different national environments Challenges and Change in Middle America Katie Willis, Cathy McIlwaine, 2014-09-25 A comprehensive introduction to the important economic social and political processes and development issues in this extremely popular region The Central American nations and those of the Caribbean including Guyana Surinam and French

Guiana on the mainland share many historical processes as well as experiencing similar development problems today These include European colonialism structural adjustment small size reliance on primary production influence of the United States and moves towards democratisation While Mexico is obviously a much larger country in area economy and population terms it is included in this volume because of its close ties to the other countries in the region through processes such as trade and migration

Everyday Revolutionaries Irina Carlota Silber,2011 Silber provides one of the first rubrics for understanding and contextualizing postwar disillusionment drawing on her ethnographic fieldwork and research on immigration to the United States by former insurgents With an eye for gendered experiences she unmasks how community members are asked contradictorily and in different contexts to relinquish their identities as revolutionaries and to develop a new sense of themselves as productive yet marginal postwar citizens via the same participation that fueled their revolutionary action Book Jacket

The Rise Of The New Economic Powers And The Changing Global Landscape Haico Ebbers,2022-12-19 This book explores the catching up process of a group of large emerging markets the New Economic Powers This process is extremely robust and should be considered as the defining trend of our age resulting in a pivotal change in world economics and politics The outcome is that the West cannot dominate the world as it did in the previous 200 years Today s world is pluralistic and the larger emerging markets are becoming increasingly influential That is the new reality which at times caused and will cause further discomfort and uncertainty in the West In the eight chapters the viewpoints on globalization of nine New Economic Powers are discussed Each chapter is an essential element in understanding the process of globalization and the role the New Economic Powers play in it Essentially their views are guided by a fundamental different look about the role of the market and the government in society compared to what we see in the West The New Economic Powers understand the power of the market to create prosperity but at the same time emphasize the need for government interference This delicate balance is particularly visible with respect to their international trade and investment policies which bring them in conflict with Western countries and multilateral institutions such as the WTO and the IMF The book helps the reader to understand the fundamental choices made by policymakers in the New Economic Powers Victims, perpetrators or actors? : gender, armed conflict and political violence Caroline O. N. Moser, Fiona C. Clark, Caroline O. N. Moser, 2005 Machel Study 10-year Strategic Review, 2009 The organisation of this report aims to heighten our understanding of the myriad ways in which armed conflict affects children and how children regard their participation not only in war but in programmes aimed at preventing violence against them and in promoting their recovery and reintegration The central message of this 10 year strategic review is that war violates every right of the child The report thus frames its findings within three categories political and diplomatic actions and responsibilities system wide international policies standards and architectures and prevention and response Infrastructures for Peace in Sub-Saharan Africa Mediel Hove, Geoff Harris, 2019-06-14 Cultures of violence are characteristic of many countries in sub Saharan Africa and attempts to move towards cultures of peace have often proved difficult and ineffectual And yet the wide variations in levels of violence within and between countries show that it is not inevitable rather it is the result of choices made at individual community and societal levels This book examines the potential of peace infrastructures as vehicles to strengthen and spread progress towards cultures of peace Peace infrastructures vary hugely in sophistication and level The examples examined in this book range from tiny structures which help resolve conflicts between individuals and within community organisations peace committees which serve local communities peace education and peace club programmes in schools mediation mechanisms to prevent election violence and to ministries of peace to coordinate government and non government efforts in peacemaking and peacebuilding The overall finding is that the development of peace infrastructures at all levels has great potential to build cultures of peace 1 It is the only book available which documents the experience and potential of nonviolence in post independence sub Saharan Africa 2 It makes a persuasive case for the development of various peace infrastructures in order to make peace sustainable 3 It explains how strategic planning can be utilised both to bring about change and to institutionalise it The Atlas of World Hunger Thomas J. Bassett, Alex Winter-Nelson, 2010-05-15 Earlier this year President

Obama declared one of his top priorities to be making sure that people are able to get enough to eat. The United States spends about five billion dollars on food aid and related programs each year but still both domestically and internationally millions of people are hungry. In 2006 the Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations counted 850 million hungry people worldwide but as food prices soared an additional 100 million or more who were vulnerable succumbed to food insecurity. If hunger were simply a matter of food production no one would go without. There is more than enough food produced annually to provide every living person with a healthy diet yet so many suffer from food shortages, unsafe water and malnutrition every year. That's because hunger is a complex political, economic and ecological phenomenon. The interplay of these forces produces a geography of hunger that Thomas J. Bassett and Alex Winter Nelson illuminate in this empowering book. The Atlas of World Hunger uses a conceptual framework informed by geography and agricultural economics to present a hunger index that combines food availability, household access and nutritional outcomes into a single tool, one that delivers a fuller understanding of the scope of global hunger, its underlying mechanisms and the ways in which the goals for ending hunger can be achieved. The first depiction of the geography of hunger worldwide, the Atlas will be an important resource for teachers, students and anyone else interested in understanding the geography and causes of hunger. This knowledge, the authors argue, is a critical first step toward eliminating unnecessary suffering in a world of plenty.

Preventing War and Promoting Peace William H. Wiist, Shelley K. White, 2017-12-14. Preventing War and Promoting Peace: A Guide for Health Professionals is an interdisciplinary study of how pervasive militarism creates a propensity for war through the influence of academia, economic policy, the defense industry and the news media. Comprising contributions by academics and practitioners from the fields of public health, medicine, nursing, law, sociology, psychology, political science and peace and conflict studies, as well as representatives from organizations active in war prevention, the book emphasizes the underlying preventable causes of war, particularly militarism, and focuses on the methods health professionals can use to prevent war. Preventing War and Promoting Peace provides hard-hitting facts about the devastating health effects of war and a broad perspective on war and health, presenting a new paradigm for the proactive engagement of health professions in the prevention of war and the promotion of peace.

The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Peace and Conflict Studies Oliver P. Richmond, Gözüm Visoka, 2022-06-21. This encyclopaedia provides a comprehensive overview of major theories and approaches to the study of peace and conflict across different humanities and social sciences disciplines. Peace and conflict studies (PCS) is one of the major sub-disciplines of international studies, including political science and international relations, and has emerged from a need to understand war-related systems and concepts and how to respond to it afterward. As a living reference work, easily discoverable and searchable, the Palgrave Encyclopedia of Peace and Conflict Studies offers solid material for understanding the foundational, historical and contemporary themes, concepts, theories, events, organisations and frameworks concerning peace, conflict, security, rights, institutions and development. The Palgrave Encyclopaedia of Peace and Conflict Studies brings together leading and emerging scholars from different disciplines to provide the most comprehensive and up to date resource on peace and conflict studies ever produced

Region-Building in Southern Africa Chris Saunders, Gwinyayi Albert Dzinesa, Dawn Nagar, 2013-07-04 How successful have Southern African states been in dealing with the major issues that have faced the region in recent years What could be done to produce more cohesive and effective region building in Southern Africa In this original and wide ranging volume which draws on an interdisciplinary team of mainly African and African based specialists the key political socio economic and security challenges facing Southern Africa today are addressed These include the various issues confronting the Southern African Development Community SADC and its institutions such as HIV AIDS migration and xenophobia land grabbing and climate change and the role of the main external actors involved with the region including the United Nations the European Union the United States and China The book also looks at the Southern African Customs Union and Southern African Development Finance Institutions including the Development Bank of Southern Africa and Industrial Development Corporation and issues of gender and peacebuilding In doing so the book goes to the heart of analyzing the effectiveness of SADC and other regional organisation suggesting how region building in Southern Africa may be compared with similar attempts elsewhere in Africa and other parts of the world
