Handbook of Chinese Economics Zhuoyuan Zhang, 2023-06-30 This book reviews the development of Chinese economics since the reform and opening up associated with the history and experience of China's economic growth This book makes a systematic study of the direction of reform the method of reform the path of reform the main body of reform and the motive force of reform accumulates more experiences that can be used for reference for the exploration of new reforms to be opened and probes into the way of reform in the next period The topics cover all key concepts and theories relating to the China's economic reform Contemporary Chinese Marxism Chengbing

Wang, 2023-08-22 This book provides a comprehensive and in depth survey of the foundational research orientations of contemporary Chinese Marxism The chapters in this book not only attach importance to the exploration of classic Marxist texts but also explore the challenges posed on classic Marxist texts by modernity and in doing so highlight the relationship between Marxism and the traditional Chinese culture As a school of thought Marxism has exerted tremendous influence on fields of humanities and social sciences over the course of its introduction dissemination and development Through this volume well established Chinese scholars from Mainland China also discuss contemporary Chinese Marxism in an interdisciplinary context Further this volume facilitates dialogues exchanges and collisions of ideas between researchers of contemporary Chinese Marxism on one side and the researchers of Western Marxism on the other This book will be a great resource for academics researchers and advanced students of Marxism philosophy and sociology The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Educational Philosophy and Theory Islamic Liberalism Leonard

Binder, 1988-08-15 The resurgence of Islamic fundamentalism in the 1980s influenced many in the Islamic world to reject Western norms of liberal rationality and to return instead to their own tradition for political and cultural inspiration This rejection of foreign thought threatens to end the centuries long dialogue between Islam and the West a dialogue that has produced a nascent Middle Eastern liberalism along with many less desirable forms of discourse With Islamic Liberalism Leonard Binder hopes to reinvigorate that dialogue asking whether political liberalism can take root in the Middle East without a vigorous Islamic liberalism But Binder asks is an Islamic liberalism possible The Islamic political community presents special problems to the development of an indigenous liberalism That community is conceived of as divinely ordained and its notions of the good are to be derived from scriptural revelation not arrived at through rational discourse Liberal politics would seem to stand little chance of surviving in such an atmosphere let alone thriving Binder responds to the challenge of Edward Said's critique of Orientalism of a range of neo Marxian development theorists of Sayyid Qutb's fundamentalist vision of Samir Amin's vision of Egypt's role in the Arab awakening of Tariq al Bishri's new populism of Zaki Najib Mahmud's pragmatism and the structuralism of Arkoun and Laroui The deconstruction of these varied texts produces a number of persuasive hermeneutical conclusions that are sequentially woven together in a critical argument that refocuses our attention on the central question of political freedom and democracy In the course of constructing this argument Binder reopens the dialogue between Western modernity and Islamic authenticity and reveals the surprising extent to which there is a convergent interest in liberal democratic civil society Finally in a concluding chapter he addresses the prospects for liberalism in the three major bourgeois states of Islam Egypt Turkey and Iran Transitions: Methods, Theory, Politics

Tom Brass,2022-08-22 The focus of this volume is on political discourse about the pattern and desirability of economic development and how why historical interpretations of social phenomena connected to this systemic process alter It is a trajectory pursued here with reference to the materialism of Marxism via the mid nineteenth century ideas about race through the development decade the cultural turn debates about modes of production and their respective labour regimes culminating in the role played by immigration before and after the Brexit referendum Also examined is the trajectory followed by travel writing and how many of its core assumptions overlap with those made in the social sciences and development studies The object is to account for the way concepts informing these trajectories do or do not alter

Routledge Encyclopedia of International Political Economy R. J. Barry Jones,2002-09-11 This three volume Encyclopedia offers the first comprehensive and authoritative survey of the rapidly developing field of international political economy Its entries cover the major theoretical issues and analytical approaches within the field The set also provides detailed discussion of the contributions of key individuals and surveys a wide range of empirical conditions and developments within the global political economy including its major institutions The Encyclopedia has been designed to be eclectic in approach and wide ranging in coverage Theoretical entries range from discussions of the definition and scope of the field through core methodological questions such as rationalism and the structure agent problem to surveys of the major theories and approaches employed in the study of the international political economy

Technological Retrogression Sylvi B. Endresen,2021-06-08 The aim of this book is to broaden our understanding of technological change by adopting the concept of technological retrogression With reference to concrete cases of technological retrogression a new conceptual framework is developed The book s exposition aims at contrasting retrogressive economic dynamics of technological change to progressive dynamics as developed by Schumpeter At one extreme in the dimension of technological change capital strong production units innovate their way out of the recession through technological progress adopting more advanced production equipment that improves productivity Following Schumpeterian progressive dynamics virtuous spirals of growth result At the other end we find the producers that resort to technological retrogression which secures survival but which result in low labour productivity diminishing the possibility of capital accumulation and thus modernization that could form an escape from poverty Vicious spirals of decline result which is the book s main object of analysis The theory is thus a contribution to understanding the anatomy of recessions

Translations from Ta Kung Pao, Peking ,1961 The New Development Politics James Petras,2017-07-05 A critique of current conceptions of international political economy the role of the state and contemporary social movements The New Development Politics challenges the dominant paradigms in the field of development studies Raising fundamental theoretical and empirical questions it provides a coherent response to the increasing militarization of inter state relations increasing protectionism and inter state rivalries and the growing age of state intervention in political economic and social life The study presents a critical analysis of US empire building the role of dirty money and political power as opposed to technological change It features a discussion of neo mercantilism as a new mode of empire and examines the role of new movements of unemployed and landless peasants in key Third World countries

Rationality and the Environment Bo Eling, 2012-05-04 Environmental assessment and management involve the production of scientific knowledge and its use in decision making processes The result is that within these essentially rational political assessment frameworks experts are creating and applying scientific knowledge for decision and management purposes that actually have strong ethical and aesthetic dimensions Yet these rational political frameworks lack the tools to provide guidance on ethical and aesthetic issues that affect the wider public This revolutionary work argues that ethical and aesthetic dimensions can only be brought into environmental politics and policies by citizens actively taking a stand on the specific matters in question The author draws on Habermas trisection of rationality as cognitive instrumental moral practical and aesthetic expressive to suggest that truly effective environmental policy needs to activate all three approaches and not favour only the rational To achieve this objective the author argues that public participation in environmental policy and assessment is necessary to counteract the dictatorship of technical and economic instrumentality in environmental policy the failure to take ethical and aesthetic rationalities into account and more importantly how such policy is applied on the ground to shape our natural and material world

The Study of International Relations Hugh C. Dyer, Leon Mangasarian, 1989-10-16 This wide ranging study surveys the present state of international relations as an academic field It locates and assesses recent developments in the field in short what is being done where by whom and why The editors have focused on some central and controversial theoretical issues and included surveys of principal sub fields as well as the various approaches to the study of international relations in different countries The book provides a comprehensive overview of an important and fast growing area of academic endeavour and is essential reading for teachers and students of international politics and the social sciences at large

Marxist Historiographies Q. Edward Wang, Georg G. Iggers, 2015-07-16 Marxist Historiographies is the first book to examine the ebb and flow of Marxist historiography from a global and cross cultural perspective Since the eighteenth century few schools of historical thought have exerted a more lasting impact than Marxism and this impact extends far beyond the Western world within which it is most commonly analysed Edited by two highly respected authors in the field this book deals with the effect of Marxism on historical writings not only in parts of Europe where it originated but also in countries and regions in Africa Asia North and South America and the Middle East Rather than presenting the chapters geographically it is structured with respect to how Marxist influence was shown in the works of historians in a particular area This title takes a dual approach to the subject some chapters are national in scope addressing the Marxist impact on historical practices within a country whereas others deal with the varied expressions of Marxist historiography throughout a wider region Taking a truly global perspective on this topic Marxist Historiographies demonstrates clearly the breadth and depth of Marxism s influence in historical writing throughout the world and is essential reading for all students of historiography
