account the perspectives and experiences of those who have been targeted by an ambitious higher education expansion process The most distinctive feature of this work would be its methodological contribution to the field of higher education research One could also argue that the ethnographic account of the Bolivarian Missions of education in Chavez s Venezuela is both original and unprecedented Furthermore the writing approach bridges the interests of both academics practitioners of the field and members of the general public Higher Education Management and Policy, Volume 20 Issue 2 Higher Education and Regional Development OECD,2008-07-28 Includes articles on engagement of universities in regional development innovation and regional development and case studies from the US Lapland North East England Australia and Finland Annual Report - National Advisory Committee on Black Higher Education and Black Colleges and Universities United States. help identify and resolve problems The model consists of six components that ensure that all constituencies are heard and that alternative solutions recognize the key variables necessary to guide a leader's final choices The six model components are strategic thinking as an organizational mentality maximizing the amounts and quality of data and information for comprehensive reporting scanning the future globally implementing comprehensive strategic planning supporting transparency of process and decision making and using a framework to consistently assess all planning issues strategies and outcomes
