Higher Education And The Lifecourse:

EBOOK: Higher Education And The Lifecourse Maria Slowey, David Watson, 2003-10-16 key arguments for policy and practice for lifelong learning in higher education Higher Education Digest At the beginning of the 21st century it is increasingly clear to professionals at all levels of formal and informal education that we need to refresh the concept of lifelong learning Most importantly the concept needs to be expanded so that it is lifelong and lifewide concerned not just with serial requirements of those already engaged but also with the creation of opportunities for those who have not found the existing structures and processes accessible or useful This book discusses resulting arguments about policy and practice in three parts Part One focuses on the lifelong dimension addressing in particular the changing nature of the student population Part Two investigates the lifewide connections between higher education and other areas of social and economic life Part Three offers a structural analysis based on research on changing needs of learners and setting out some key implications for higher education Higher Education and the Lifecourse provides a timely analysis of the higher education sector and will be an important resource for graduate students researchers policy makers and senior managers within the fields of higher and post compulsory education Higher Education And The Lifecourse Slowey, Maria, Watson, David, 2003-10-01 Annotation

How can the concept of lifelong learning be refreshed and expanded to provide an effective focus for higher education development at the start of the 21st century What kinds of changes in the student population require what kinds of response from institutions This volume is structured around resulting arguments Higher Education and the Reproductive Life Course Sarbani Banerjee, 2006 This study examines the impact of higher educational attainment on the changing lives of women both at the individual and the societal level The study focusses on the cross cultural contexts in one of the states in South India and the Netherlands Karnataka in the recent times is experiencing fertility transition while the Netherlands has already achieved fertility transition The two cultural contexts are both diverse and unique in character The author explores both the uniqueness as well as the similarities hence studying the impact of higher education on the changing lives of women as a continuum across cultures and societies Changes at the individual level are captured by distinguishing women into older and younger generations while changes at the societal level are captured through social change At the individual level we distinguish between the lived life course and the perceived life course At the societal level we focus on how higher educational attainment has enhanced women's position in the society The study uses secondary data from the National Family Health Survey 1998 1999 for the state of Karnataka and the Netherlands Family Fertility Survey OG 98 In addition to the secondary data in depth interviews were also conducted amongst women in Bangalore and Groningen Theory and Method in Higher Education Research Jeroen Huisman, Malcolm Tight, 2022-11-23 This volume of Theory and Method in Higher Education Research explores several timely topics including transnational approaches to higher education policy universities contributions to society data collection in higher education virtual and blended research and more The

Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Inequalities and the Life Course Magda Nico, Gary Pollock, 2021-12-30 Drawing upon perspectives from across the globe and employing an interdisciplinary life course approach this handbook explores the production and reproduction of different types of inequality across a variety of social contexts Inequalities are not static easily measurable and essentially quantifiable circumstances of life They are processes which impact on individuals throughout the life course interacting with each other accumulating attenuating reproducing or distorting themselves along the way The chapters in this handbook examine various types of inequality such as economic gender racial and ethnic inequalities and analyse how these inequalities manifest themselves within different aspects of society including health education and the family at multiple levels and dimensions The handbook also tackles the global COVID 19 pandemic and its striking impact on the production and intensification of inequalities The interdisciplinary life course approach utilised in this handbook combines quantitative and qualitative methods to bridge the gap between theory and practice and offer strategies and principles for identifying and tackling issues of inequality This book will be indispensable for students and researchers as well as activists and policy makers interested in understanding and eradicating the processes of production reproduction and perpetuation of inequalities

A Life Course Perspective on Chinese Youths Sandra V. Constantin, 2024-05-28 This open access book investigates from a life course perspective the individualization process and the challenges faced by young adults in post collectivist China where people are enjoined to liberate jiefang their individual capacities to rely on themselves kao ziji and to no longer depend on the state kao guojia Based on unique quantitative and qualitative data this book provides a solid empirical portrait of Chinese youths and transformation of social policies in post collectivist China This book will be a great resource to students academics as well as social scientists and policy makers who wish not only to understand how in such a short period of time young adults and their families have managed to navigate from a relatively egalitarian society to one of the most unequal but also how the articulation between socialist and neoliberal ideologies is reconfiguring social and economic relations as well as women s and men s life course The basis of the English translation of this book from its French original manuscript was done with the help of artificial intelligence A subsequent human revision and rewriting of the content was done by the author

Family Dynamics over the Life Course Janeen Baxter, Jack Lam, Jenny Povey, Rennie Lee, Stephen R. Zubrick, 2022-10-19 This open access book examines how families and other social institutions interact to shape outcomes over the life course It considers how to use research evidence to reduce social disadvantage through translation of evidence to support public policies and programs The chapters focus on key life course stages such as early child development adolescence emerging adulthood parenting marriage relationships and ageing as well as examining experiences and outcomes for selected social groups such as Indigenous children migrants and refugees and gay lesbian and bisexual groups The book presents evidence using high quality and recent data With a focus on Australia the volume provides new insights into how context shapes life course pathways and outcomes and a contrast to work that typically focuses on

Europe and the United States It will be of value to anyone interested in understanding how family background and life course pathways influence social disadvantage Social and Economic Conditions of Student Life in Europe Christoph Gwosc, Kristina Hauschildt, Froukje Wartenbergh-Cras, Hendrik Schirmer, 2021-08-20 The project EUROSTUDENT has been delivering data on the social and economic conditions of student life in Europe for the past 20 years The current edition presents the data and results from the period 2018 to 2021 and is based on information provided by students from 25 countries in the European Higher Education Area EHEA The project also examines the social dimensions of studying at a higher education institute as well as in part the impact of COVID 19 The EHEA emphasised this social dimension in its 2020 Rome Communiqué it was therefore one of the key topics the project group focused on with the aim of inspiring education policy debates and establishing the basis for future research work The latest report therefore includes data on access to higher education and the respective conditions experienced by the students their willingness to relocate internationally to pursue their studies the quality of higher education courses and the planned courses of study The report is the EUROSTUDENT project's most important publication and is developed by a network of researchers and national ministry representatives as well as other stakeholders from all over Europe Seit 20 Jahren liefert das Projekt EUROSTUDENT Daten zu den sozialen und wirtschaftlichen Bedingungen für Studierende in Europa Der aktuelle Band präsentiert die Daten und Ergebnisse aus dem Zeitraum 2018/2021 die bei Studierenden in 25 Ländern des Europäischen Hochschulraums EHEA erhoben wurden Untersucht wurden dabei auch die gesellschaftlichen Dimensionen des Studiums sowie teilweise soziale Auswirkungen von COVID 19 Die soziale Dimension des Studiums die im Rom Communiqué der EHEA 2020 betont wurde ist ein zentrales Thema der Untersuchungen mit denen die Projektgruppe bildungspolitische Debatten anregen und die Basis für künftige Forschungsarbeit legen will Daher werden Daten zum Zugang zur höheren Bildung zu Studienbedingungen zur internationalen Mobilität der Studierenden zur Qualität von Studiengängen und zu geplanten Studienprogrammen aufbereitet Der Bericht ist die wichtigste Publikation des Projektes EUROSTUDENT das von einem Netzwerk aus Forscher:innen und Vertreter:innen nationaler Ministerien sowie weiterer Stakeholder aus ganz Europa erarbeitet wird Cradle to Grave:

Life-Course Change in Modern Sweden Jan O. Jonsson, Colin Mills, 2021-04-14 The empirical study of individuals' life course is one of the most promising areas of research within sociology today Increased availability of large scale longitudinal data and improved statistical methods have made it possible to address theoretically relevant questions about events such as entrance into the labour market job mobility divorce and death This book consists of studies capturing the life course from the cradle to the grave The research questions include long term consequences of childhood conditions family formation and school careers work and parental leave gender discrimination in job promotion divorce and occupational career persistence in poverty and the intriguing question of why the highly educated tend to survive everyone else The studies shed light on the relation between family and work on gender inequality social class differences welfare state redistribution and labour market processes They do this in a particular context namely Sweden in the post war period that is during the decades that formed one of the most advanced welfare states in modern history One chapter provides a descriptive account of institutional and life course change in Sweden during that period Most authors use the Swedish level of living surveys a unique data set providing ample opportunity to study social processes in a longitudinal perspective The book will therefore be of relevance to those with interests in the Swedish welfare state as well as those with theoretical and research interests in the reproduction of inequality

Fresh Perspectives on Later Life Learning Brian Findsen, 2018-10-29 Over the last decade there has been a resurgence of interest in what adults learn in their later years often described as beyond 65 and how this learning is linked to current personal social and global issues This learning commonly occurs in informal ways as seniors go about their daily lives This kind of informal learning can be supplemented by non formal education via participation in planned learning as members of organizations and less frequently in formal education structures such as universities This book highlights how older people are learning in a myriad of ways and conditions It covers everything from individualistic learning through to national issues of older adult education Fresh perspectives are provided on biographical insights into retirement and higher education how older people generate know how in the company of others and in cross cultural aspects such as Chinese elders in Hong Kong and Mori seniors in Aotearoa New Zealand In addition the links between health and learning are explored as well as the commitment universities in three countries have made to become age friendly This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Lifelong Education

Handbook of the Sociology of Education in the 21st Century Barbara Schneider, 2018-10-10 This handbook unifies access and opportunity two key concepts of sociology of education throughout its 25 chapters It explores today's populations rarely noticed such as undocumented students first generation college students and LGBTQs and emphasizing the intersectionality of gender race ethnicity and social class Sociologists often center their work on the sources and consequences of inequality This handbook while reviewing many of these explanations takes a different approach concentrating instead on what needs to be accomplished to reduce inequality A special section is devoted to new methodological work for studying social systems including network analyses and school and teacher effects Additionally the book explores the changing landscape of higher education institutions their respective populations and how labor market opportunities are enhanced or impeded by differing postsecondary education pathways Written by leading sociologists and rising stars in the field each of the chapters is embedded in theory but contemporary and futuristic in its implications This Handbook serves as a blueprint for identifying new work for sociologists of education and other scholars and policymakers trying to understand many of the problems of inequality in education and what is needed to address them

Negotiating the Life Course Ann Evans, Janeen Baxter, 2012-10-23 Pathways through the life course have changed considerably in recent decades Many of our assumptions about leaving home starting new relationships and having children have been turned upside down It is now almost as common to have children prior to marriage as afterwards and certainly much more common to live together before marrying than to marry without first living together Women are more likely to remain in the labour force after having children and many families struggle with problems of work family balance at some stage in their lives particularly when they have young children But how much has really changed Is there really more diversity in how individuals transition through these life course stages or just variations at the margin with most people following a standard work and family life course This volume makes use of rich longitudinal data from a unique Australian project to examine these issues Drawing on broader theories of social change and demographic transitions in an international context each chapter provides a detailed empirical assessment of the ways in which Australian adults negotiate their work and family lives In doing so the volume provides important insight into the ways in which recent demographic social and economic changes both challenge and reproduce gender divisions

Remaking College Mitchell Stevens, Michael W.

Kirst, 2015-01-07 Between 1945 and 1990 the United States built the largest and most productive higher education system in world history Over the last two decades however dramatic budget cuts to public academic services and skyrocketing tuition have made college completion more difficult for many Nevertheless the democratic promise of education and the global competition for educated workers mean ever growing demand Remaking College considers this changing context arguing that a growing accountability revolution the push for greater efficiency and productivity and the explosion of online learning are changing the character of higher education Writing from a range of disciplines and professional backgrounds the contributors each bring a unique perspective to the fate and future of U S higher education By directing their focus to schools doing the lion s share of undergraduate instruction community colleges comprehensive public universities and for profit institutions they imagine a future unencumbered by dominant notions of traditional students linear models of achievement and college as a four year residential experience The result is a collection rich with new tools for helping people make more informed decisions about college for themselves for their children and for American society as a whole

Work Experience And Psychological Development Through The Life Span Jeylan T Mortimer, 2019-03-20 Throughout the modern era scholars have shown a continuing concern with the extent to which position in the occupational structure affects psychological development This book examines whether work experiences and age often considered as a proxy for stage in the work career interact such that the effects of occupational conditions on the person

Prevention and Early

Treatment of Depression Through the Life Course Vania Martínez, Claudia Miranda-Castillo, 2022-11-29 This book presents current evidence of new perspectives for the prevention and appropriate management of depression in people across the life course Special attention has been dedicated to facilitating factors for the development of health system capacity and the effectiveness of the different types of interventions The first part of the book reviews the innovations in global prevention and non pharmacological treatments for children adolescents and youths The second part reviews interventions for adults across the lifespan including older adults and caregivers Despite the efforts to tackle depression the COVID 19 pandemic directly or indirectly affected the mental health of the population including an increase in the incidence of depressive disorders which are underdiagnosed and undertreated in young and older people. Because of the characteristics of adolescence and older adulthood people can consider depression signs and symptoms as natural neglecting a proper diagnosis. To address these challenges in the clinical management of depression Prevention and Early Treatment of Depression Through the Life Course presents a life course perspective on the analysis and treatment of depression to help clinical psychologists psychiatrists and other mental health professionals understand the mechanisms associated with the onset of depression and identify develop proper evidence based treatments for different ages and in different circumstances.

The Structure of the Life Course: Standardized? Individualized? Differentiated? Ross Macmillan, 2005-07-14

Current debates in life course studies increasingly reference theories of individualization standardization and differentiation in the structure of the life course. This volume brings together leading scholars from a variety of fields to assess the theoretical underpinnings the empirical evidence and the implications of existing arguments. The contributions include comparative historical work demographic analysis and detailed survey research. The topics covered include historical cross cultural and racioethnic variation in the transition to adulthood the school to work transition educational careers retirement activity characteristics over the life span and the life course context of psychological well being. The various contributions expand our understanding of the contemporary life course and its implications. The authors offer innovative theoretical and methodological approaches that demonstrate the utility of holistic approaches to conceptualizing the life course and understanding its implications for modern society. Handbook of the Life Course Jeylan T. Mortimer, Michael J.

Shanahan, 2007-12-14 This comprehensive handbook provides an overview of key theoretical perspectives concepts and methodological approaches that while applied to diverse phenomena are united in their general approach to the study of lives across age phases. In surveying the wide terrain of life course studies with dual emphases on theory and empirical research this important reference work presents probative concepts and methods and identifies promising avenues for future research.

Short-term Counselling in Higher Education David Mair, 2015-11-19 As demand for counselling from students across Higher Education HE increases year on year counselling services are continually seeking to explore creative ways of working under the pressure that results from this rise in client numbers. One of the most frequent responses to increased demand is limiting the number of sessions that individual students may have.
