Home And Exile:

Home and Exile Chinua Achebe, 2000-07-27 Chinua Achebe is Africa's most prominent writer the author of Things Fall Apart the best known and best selling novel ever to come out of Africa His fiction and poetry burn with a passionate commitment to political justice bringing to life not only Africa's troubled encounters with Europe but also the dark side of contemporary African political life Now in Home and Exile Achebe reveals the man behind his powerful work Here is an extended exploration of the European impact on African culture viewed through the most vivid experience available to the author his own life It is an extended snapshot of a major writer's childhood illuminating his roots as an artist Achebe discusses his English education and the relationship between colonial writers and the European literary tradition He argues that if colonial writers try to imitate and indeed go one better than the Empire they run the danger of undervaluing their homeland and their own people Achebe contends that to redress the inequities of global oppression writers must focus on where they come from insisting that their value systems are as legitimate as any other Stories are a real source of power in the world he concludes and to imitate the literature of another culture is to give that power away Home and Exile is a moving account of an exceptional life Achebe reveals the inner workings of the human conscience through the predicament of Africa and his own intellectual life It is a story of the triumph of mind told in the words of one of this century's most gifted writers

Home and Exile Lewis Nkosi, 1965 Essays in Migratory Aesthetics, 2015-06-29 This volume addresses the impact of human movement on the aesthetic practices that make up the fabric of culture The essays explore the ways in which cultural activities ranging from the habitual gestures of the body to the production of specific artworks register the impact of migration from the forced transportation of slaves to the New World and of Jews to the death camps to the economic migration of peoples between the West and its erstwhile colonies from the internal and external exile of Palestinians to the free movement of cosmopolitan intellectuals Rather than focusing exclusively on art produced by those identified as migrant subjects this collection opens up the question of how aesthetics itself migrates transforming not only its own practices and traditions but also the very nature of our being in the world as subjects producing as well as produced by the cultures in which we live The transformative potential of cultures on the move is both affirmed and critiqued throughout the collection as part of an exploration of the ways in which globalisation implicates us ever more tightly in the unequal relations of production that characterise late modernity This collection brings academic scholars from a variety of disciplines into conversation with practising visual and verbal artists indeed many of the essays break down the distinction between artist and academic suggesting a dynamic interchange between critical reflection and creativity Still Beating the Drum Lindy Stiebel, Elizabeth Gunner, 2005 Covers English literature and post colonial literature in English in 20th century South Africa

House of Truth & Bloke and His American Bantu Siphiwo Mahala, 2025-02-01 Siphiwo Mahala delves into the lives of iconic figures from South Africa's tumultuous past in this remarkable collection of plays The collection opens with The House of Truth which explores the complexity of Can Themba a fearless journalist playwright and poet living under an oppressive apartheid regime The one man play weaves together elements of Themba s life and career recreating the excitement and pathos of the DRUM era South Africa s first magazine for a black audience and his resident neighborhood Sophiatown in Johannesburg before it was destroyed by apartheid legislation Themba is brought back to life as an ordinary person with human flaws and attributes both tragic and inspirational In the second play Bloke and His American Bantu Mahala brings to life the extraordinary lives of Bloke Modisane a South African writer exiled in London and Langston Hughes the renowned American poet This two hander play celebrates their remarkable camaraderie and intellectual exchange Through a reimagined correspondence the play deftly explores how a simple friendship blossomed into a catalyst for international solidarity and cultural exchange across continents from Africa to the UK to America As a whole the plays explore the intersections of identity creativity and resistance With wit poise and unflinching honesty they bring to life the triumphs and struggles of these remarkable men who left an indelible mark on their worlds and celebrate the human spirit s capacity to persevere inspire and uplift

Chinua Achebe's Legacy James Ogude,2015-12-01 Chinua Achebe s novels and essays have always drawn our attention to issues of memory the story history and our own obligation to history as Africans Achebe constantly goes back to the authority of narrative the story and as the subsequent generations of African writers like Chimamanda Adichie keep returning to to celebrate Africa s many stories its moments of failure and triumph Achebe more than any other writer on this continent has inspired many and hopefully the African story tellers of the coming centuries irrespective of their location will continue to be inspired by him This collection of essays is an enduring tribute to this rich legacy of Achebe

Gender, Space and Time Dorothy Moss,2006-01-01 Drawing on the work of Henri Lefebvre and Barbara Adam Gender Space and Time is a brilliant study that offers a unique and original threefold conceptualization of how space and time is developed and applied in an empirical study of women s lives Author Dorothy Moss focuses on the everyday practice and experience of women higher education students at a community college in northern England Women s action is considered in relation to the complex and interconnected spheres of paid work home leisure community and higher education Through highlighting concepts of space and time the complex relationship between networks of power and personal action gains visibility Moss conceptualizes women as centers of action and demonstrates the ways in which they construct personal pathways connect different spheres of experience integrate new time demands into the multiple rhythms of their everyday lives and carve out personal space Gender Space and Time is a timely and compelling work certain to be of interest to scholars of sociology women s studies and anthropology

Iran Hamid Dabashi,2016-10-05 In this unprecedented book Hamid Dabashi provides a provocative account of Iran in its current resurrection as a mighty regional power Through a careful study of contemporary Iranian history in its political literary and artistic dimensions Dabashi decouples the idea of Iran from its colonial linkage to the cliché notion of the nation state and then demonstrates how an aesthetic intuition of transcendence has enabled it to be re conceived as a powerful nation This rebirth has allowed for repressed political and cultural forces to surface redefining the nation s future beyond its fictive postcolonial borders and autonomous from the state apparatus that wishes but fails to rule it Iran s sovereignty Dabashi argues is inaugurated through an active and open ended self awareness of the nation s history and recent political and aesthetic instantiations as it has been sustained by successive waves of revolutionary prose poetry and visual and performing arts performed categorically against the censorial will of the state

Reading Postcolonial Theory Bibhash Choudhury,2016-02-26 This book is an essential introduction to significant texts in postcolonial theory It looks at seminal works in the moments of their making and delineates the different threads that bind postcolonial studies Each chapter presents a comprehensive discussion of a major text and contextualises it in the wake of contemporary themes and debates The volume Studies major texts by foremost scholars Edward W Said Chinua Achebe Albert Memmi Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak Paul Carter Homi Bhabha Frantz Fanon Ashis Nandy Robert J C Young Ngugi wa Thiongo and Sara Suleri Shifts focus from colonial experience to underlying principles of critical engagement Uses accessible jargon free language Focused engaging and critically insightful this book will be indispensable to students and scholars of literary and cultural studies comparative literature and postcolonial studies

Returning Cycles Charles Fisk,2001 This compelling investigation of the later music of Franz Schubert explores the rich terrain of Schubert s impromptus and last piano sonatas Drawing on the relationships between these pieces and Schubert s Winterreise song cycle his earlier Der Wanderer the closely related Unfinished Symphony and his story of exile and homecoming My Dream Charles Fisk explains how Schubert s view of his own life may well have shaped his music in the years shortly before his death Fisk s intimate portrayal of Schubert is based on evidence from the composer s own hand both verbal song texts and his written words and musical vocal and instrumental Noting extraordinary aspects of tonality structure and gestural content Fisk argues that through his music Schubert sought to alleviate his apparent sense of exile and his anticipation of early death Fisk supports this view through close analyses of the cyclic connections within and between the works he explores finding in them complex musical narratives that attempt to come to terms with mortality alienation hope and desire Fisk s knowledge of Schubert s life and music together with his astute and imaginative attention to musical detail helps him achieve one of the most difficult goals in music criticism to capture and verbalize the human content of instrumental music

Caribbean Literature in Transition, 1920-1970: Volume 2 Raphael Dalleo,Curdella Forbes,2021-01-14 The years between the 1920s and 1970s are key for the development of Caribbean literature producing the founding canonical literary texts of the Anglophone Caribbean This volume features essays by major scholars as well as emerging voices revisiting important moments from that era to open up new perspectives Caribbean contributions to the Harlem Renaissance to the Windrush generation publishing in England after World War II and to the regional reverberations of the Cuban Revolution all feature prominently in this story At the same time we uncover lesser known stories of writers publishing in regional newspapers and journals of pioneering women writers and of exchanges with Canada and the African continent From major writers like Derek Walcott V S Naipaul George Lamming and Jean Rhys to recently recuperated figures like Eric Walrond Una Marson Sylvia Wynter and Ismith Khan this volume sets a course for the future study of Caribbean literature

Remaking Literary History Helen Groth, Paul Sheehan, 2009-10-02 History is always written wrong and so always needs to be rewritten George Santayana Enquiries into the relationship between literature and history continue to stir up intense critical and scholarly debate Alongside the new hybrid categories that have emerged out of this ferment life writing ficto criticism history from below and so on there has been a welter of new literary histories new ways of tracking the connections between the written word and the historically bound world This has resulted in renewed discussion about distinguishing the literary from the non literary about dialogues taking place between different national literatures and about ascertaining the relative status of the literary text in relation to other cultural forms Remaking Literary History seeks to clarify the diversity of issues and positions that have arisen from these debates Central to the book's approach is a rigorous and constructive questioning of the past across disciplinary boundaries This is carried out through four detailed and engrossing sections that explore the relationship between memory and forgetting what it means to be subject to history the upsurge of interest in trauma and redemption and the question of historical reinvention which demonstrates how the overwriting of history continues to reinvigorate the literary imagination As well as readers of literature and history Remaking Literary History will be of interest to students of literary theory legal studies and cultural and media studies

Being English Sayan Chattopadhyay, 2021-11-29 This book critically examines the cultural desire for anglicisation of the Indian middle class in the context of postcolonial India It looks at the history of anglicised self fashioning as one of the major responses of the Indian middle class to British colonialism The book explores the rich variety of nineteenth and twentieth century writings that document the attempts by the Indian middle class to innovatively interpret their personal histories their putative racial histories and the history of India to appropriate the English language and lay claim to an English identity It discusses this unique quest for Englishness by reading the works of authors like Michael Madhusudan Dutt Rabindranath Tagore Cornelia Sorabji Nirad C Chaudhuri Dom Moraes and Salman Rushdie An important intervention this book will be of interest to scholars and researchers of postcolonial studies Indian English literature South Asian studies cultural studies and English literature in general

Forced Migration and Global Processes Francois Crepeau, Delphine Nakache, Michael Collyer, Nathaniel H. Goetz, Art Hansen, 2006-03-28 Migration is at the center of much of the discussion on globalization Migrants move across borders and thus defy state centered traditions Migration is often caused or influenced by aspects of global change the transformation of the world economy with the expansion of free trade the modification of the world balance of power and the challenge of global insecurity the emergence of the global environment as an important political issue and the redefinition of the role of communities in shaping identities when faced with networks of migrants and diasporas Forced Migration and Global Processes considers the crossroads of forced migration with three global trends development human rights and security This expert collection studies these complex interactions and aims to help determine what solutions may alleviate most of the human suffering involved in forced migrations

Tell Me Africa James Olney, 2015-03-08 James Olney demonstrates that autobiography because it provides the most direct narrative enactments of the ways motives and beliefs of a culture is an excellent way to approach African literature After a general discussion of the African ethos each chapter takes up the autobiographical literature of a specific group in African society and treats it as both an expression of a personal vision and as a revelation of a permeating social reality Originally published in 1974 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Unhomely Empire Onni Gust, 2020-11-12 This book examines the role of Scottish Enlightenment ideas of belonging in the construction and circulation of white supremacist thought that sought to justify British imperial rule During the 18th century European imperial expansion radically increased population mobility through the forging of new trade routes war disease enslavement and displacement In this book Onni Gust argues that this mass movement intersected with philosophical debates over what it meant to belong to a nation civilization and even humanity itself Unhomely Empire maps the consolidation of a Scottish Enlightenment discourse of home and exile through three inter related case studies and debates slavery and abolition in the Caribbean Scottish Highland emigration to North America and raising white girls in colonial India Playing out over poetry political pamphlets travel writing philosophy letters and diaries these debates offer a unique insight into the movement of ideas across a British imperial literary network Using this rich cultural material Gust argues that whiteness was central to 19th century liberal imperialism s understanding of belonging whilst emotional attachment and the perceived ability or inability to belong were key concepts in constructions of racial difference

Reclaiming Difference Carine M. Mardorossian, 2005 In Reclaiming Difference Carine Mardorossian examines the novels of four women writers Jean Rhys Dominica UK Maryse Condé Guadeloupe USA Edwidge Danticat Haiti USA and Julia Alvarez Dominican Republic USA showing how their writing has radically reformulated the meanings of the national geographical sexual and racial concepts through which postcolonial studies has long been configuring difference Coming from the anglophone francophone and hispanophone Caribbean these writers all stage and identify with transcultural experiences that undermine the usual classification of literary texts in terms of national and regional literatures and by doing so they challenge the idea that racial and cultural identities function as stable points of reference in our unstable world Focusing on the transformations that have taken place in postcolonial studies since the field began to focus on theory Mardorossian highlights not only how these writers make use of the styles of creolization and hybridity that have dominated Caribbean and postcolonial studies in recent years but also how they distinguish themselves from the movement's leading figures by offering new articulations of the ties that link race and nation to gender and class She illuminates how these writers extend the notion of hybridity away from racial and cultural differences in isolation from each other to a set of crisscrossing categories that challenge our simpler normative figurations For scholars in postcolonial studies Caribbean studies literary feminist studies and studies in comparative literature Reclaiming Difference represents a new phase in postcolonial studies that calls for a fundamental rethinking of the field's terminology and assumptions

South Africa's Renegade Reels L. Modisane, 2012-12-28 Despite incredible political upheavals and a minimal national history of film production movies such as Come Back Africa 1959 uDeliwe 1975 and Fools 1998 have taken on an iconic status within South African culture In this much needed study author Litheko Modisane delves into the public critical engagements around old renegade films and newer ones revealing instructive details both in the production and the public lives of South African movies oriented around black social experiences This illuminates the complex nature of cinema in modern public life enriching established methodologies by expanding the cultural and conceptual boundaries of film as a phenomenon of textual circulation

Passions of the Earth in Human Existence, Creativity, and Literature Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2012-12-06 Literature reveals that the hidden strings of the human passionate soul are the creative source of the specifically human existence Continuing the inquiry into the elemental passions of the soul and the Human Creative Soul pursued in several previous volumes of this series the present volume focuses on the passions of the earth bringing to light some of the primogenital existential threads of the innermost bonds of the Human Condition and mother earth In Tymieniecka's words the studies purpose to unravel the essential bond between the living human being and the earth a bond that lies at the heart of our existence A heightened awareness of this bond should enlighten our situation and help us find our existential bearings
