The period of his most extensive research coincides almost perfectly with the professionalization of anthropology and de Angulo provides a link between those who are generally recognized as the most important figures of the day Franz Boas Alfred Kroeber and Edward Sapir The fields of salvage ethnography and linguistics which Boas emphasized were aimed at recording the culture language and myths of the Native groups before they became completely acculturated In keeping with these dictates de Angulo recorded data from thirty groups mostly in California which otherwise might have been lost In an unusual move for that time he also wrote fiction and poetry describing the modern lives of the people he studied something of little interest to Boas but of great interest today His most enduring work is Indian Tales a fictional synthesis of myths learned from various California Indians De Angulo s range of interests originality and expertise exemplified the curiosity and brilliance of those who pioneered American anthropology at this time Spirits of Defiance Kathleen Morgan Drowne, 2005 The Nation .1997 The The Co-operator, 1905 American Friend ,1925 The Family friend [ed. by R.K.
