From Custodialism To Community A Theory Based Manuel For Transforming Institutions:

From Custodialism to Community Howard W. Polsky,Roni Berger,2003-08-28 From Custodialism to Community offers a critique of current residential care and a rationale and strategies for its transformation The authors discuss challenges presented to residential settings by developmental characteristics of adolescence specifically the power of the peer group as it encourages challenging authority The response to these challenges by a custodial model that dominates today s residential institutions are described and illustrated The shortcomings of the model are analyzed specifically the interlocking of a them us struggle between staff and residents and the violent and manipulative control of peer youth leaders over their peer followers An alternative model of building each institution as a community in which residents caregivers professionals and administrators are all fellow community members is discussed Strategies and techniques to achieve the desirable transformation are presented Implications for additional types of total institutions are also suggested The book is organized around thirty seven full page diagrams each conveying a central theme which is then elaborated in the text making the book reader friendly and appealing to a wide and diverse readership

Transformative Inclusive Education

Rick Freeze,2023-08-25 Inclusive education is a critical issue at the forefront of educators minds Transformative Inclusive Education tackles the subject by reimagining current practices in education and renovating teaching strategies This collection demonstrates that inclusion is an educational reform movement that can only succeed if educational institutions and practitioners rethink the meaning substance and purpose of education and adopt the new missions patterns of decision making understandings of teaching and learning pedagogies collaborative roles and classroom practices that flow directly from the inclusive reform movement Featuring contributions from a diverse array of scholars practitioners and people with disabilities this text weaves together the historical legal theoretical and pedagogical currents that underpin the implementation of inclusive education and speaks to current research in the field From there it moves forward with a practical trajectory and guide for enacting lasting effective change in schools to create an inclusive environment for all students The authors integrate concepts such as RTI UDL MTSS and SEL and address issues such as collaborative decision making positive approaches to behaviour academic scaffolding and inclusive technologies and teaching practices They also look beyond schools extending inclusive education to families and communities and integrating self advocacy in practice Including case studies realistic examples and activities for further learning and reflection this volume is a vital resource for undergraduate and graduate students in education FEATURES Provides a framework to redesign teaching practice and enact positive lasting change for truly inclusive schools Connects theory to larger pedagogical constructs such as experiential learning social construction of knowledge student engagement and authentic learning Contains resources for further reading and activity boxes with essential takeaways for student review
