A Terrifying Grace Rob Yule, 2017-04-28 Romance and sexual intimacy are among lifes highest joys How we handle our sexuality is an ultimate challenge particularly in todays sexualised global culture Rob Yule looks at a fascinating selection of romantic relationships from throughout Christian history from Augustine Abelard and Heloise and the Luthers to Billy and Ruth Graham and Pope Saint John Paul II Illustrating how challenging and far from straightforward the relationship of men and women is in real life he draws many insights for relationships and marriage today A Terrifying Grace explores the romantic relationships of leading Christians throughout history and how they handled sex and marriage What were their relationships and marriages like What did they believe or teach about sexuality and marriage Did their marriages or celibate lives live up to their professed beliefs How did they handle the joys pains temptations and responsibilities of their intimate relationships alongside their public life and witness Even great Christians have struggled to handle their intimate relationships We can learn much from them how to live with integrity in todays hypersexualised culture

Historical Affects and the Early Modern Theater Ronda Arab, Michelle Dowd, Adam Zucker, 2015-05-15 This collection of original essays honors the groundbreaking scholarship of Jean E Howard by exploring cultural and economic constructions of affect in the early modern theater While historicist and materialist inquiry has dominated early modern theater studies in recent years the historically specific dimensions of affect and emotion remain underexplored This volume brings together these lines of inquiry for the first time exploring the critical turn to affect in literary studies from a historicist perspective to demonstrate how the early modern theater showcased the productive interconnections between historical contingencies and affective attachments. Considering well known plays such as Shakespeare's Antony and Cleopatra and Thomas Dekker's The Shoemaker's Holiday together with understudied texts such as court entertainments and examining topics ranging from dramatic celebrity to women's political agency to the parental emotion of grief this volume provides a fresh and at times provocative assessment of the historical affects financial emotional and socio political that transformed Renaissance theater. Instead of treating history and affect as mutually exclusive theoretical or philosophical contexts the essays in this volume ask readers to consider how drama emplaces the most personal unspeakable passions in matrices defined in part by financial exchange by erotic desire by gender by the material body and by theatricality itself. As it encourages this conversation to take place the collection provides scholars and students alike with a series of new perspectives not only on the plays emotions and histories discussed in its pages but also on broader shifts and pressures animating literary studies today.

Engendering Psychology Florence Denmark, Vita Carulli Rabinowitz, Jeri A. Sechzer, 2016-01-08. Engendering Psychology's treatment of issues is based solidly on scientific evidence and presented in a balanced manner. The text combines a developmental and topical approach. Denmark Rabinowitz and Sechzer explore the concept of gender as a social construction across the lines of race ethnicity class age and sexual orientation pulling from the exciting new scholarship that has emerged over the last few years. Thoughtful discussion questions emphasize critical thinking skills as well as encourage students to open a dialogue with both their professors and their peers. This text will help readers understand the concept of gender as a social construct in contrast to the concept of sex which denotes biological differences. Upon completing this text readers will have a deeper understanding of women and the knowledge that woman is a diverse and multifaceted category.
