Meaning and Being in Myth Norman Austin, 2010-11-01 Norman Austin has organized his analysis of classical Greek myths around Lacan's dichotomy between ineffable Being and the meanings imposed upon Being by culturally determined signifiers The primary signifiers in myth the gods as projections of contradictory meanings impel human consciousness in contradictory directions toward heroic self realization on the one hand and into the fear guilt and despair resulting from failure on the other The gods both reveal and occlude that which they signify the signified ultimately Being itself Austin includes one chapter on the father's ghost in Shakespeare's Hamlet and another on Albert Camus's The Stranger as examples of the power of mythical archetypes to reveal and occlude Being even when the apparatus of gods has been excluded Despite their pessimism ancient myths also affirm that the paradoxes are not insoluble Austin concludes by outlining the profile of the Universal Self intimated in myth religion and philosophy as the joint venture of the world realized in consciousness consciousness realized in consciousness and consciousness realized in the world
