Riddell,2023-09-03 Excerpt The way to Berrie Down Hollow lay along a lane winding and narrow not a prosaic lane bounded to right and left by low cropped unromantic hedges and scanty banks covered with coarse wiry grass where never a wild flower would dream of blooming but a delicious lane bordered by old elms and beech trees where were smooth bits of turf pleasantly suggestive of a gallop over the sward a lane by the sides whereof trailed brambles and the dark leaved ivy a lane where the hawthorn in the sweet May time when it opened its earliest buds stretched its white arms out across the grass striving to touch the passer by who idly paused to inhale its fragrance a lane where twined in picturesque disorder wild bryony and traveller s joy dog roses and honeysuckles the woody nightshade and the greater bindweed old man s nightcap as the children irreverently call it where the eye was refreshed by looking on soft cushions of moss and ferns graceful and drooping and cool where blossomed in their due season primroses and violets the wild hyacinth the blue speedwell delicious clumps of birds foot trefoil the pink cranesbill the wood strawberry and anemone ground ivy the hindering knot grass everywhere humble and everywhere green St John s Wort that balm of the warrior wound tufted vetch the creeping cinquefoil with many another wild flower which in the early days little hands love to gather which boyhood and manhood and middle age pass by unnoticed but which come back fresh and bright as ever to the memory of the old man too feeble to totter away to the shady lane to the warm sunny bank where the buds are springing and the flowers blooming and the lights and shadows flitting backwards and forwards coming and going coming and going just as they did half a century previously when he was young and strong and active like the best

In a Village Far from Home Catherine Palmer Finerty, 2000 What do most career women do after a successful run on Madison Avenue Catherine Finerty watched her friends settle into the country club life She opted instead for Mexico When the 60 year old widow loaded up her car and headed south what she found at the end of the road was far from what she expected Finerty settled into a comfortable house just outside of Guadalajara and although not a Catholic she soon immersed herself in Franciscan volunteer work It wasn t long before she found herself visiting small settlements hidden in the tropical mountains of western Mexico and it was in Jes s Mar a so isolated that one could only get there by mule or small plane that she found her new calling the village nurse With its bugs and heat no phones or running water the tiny town was hardly a place to enjoy one s retirement years but Finerty was quickly charmed by the community of Cora Indians and mestizos Armed with modest supplies a couple of textbooks and common sense she found herself delivering first aid advising on public health and administering injections And in a place where people still believed in the power of shamans providing health care sometimes required giving in to the magical belief that a hypodermic needle could cure anything Finerty s account of her eight years in Jes s Mar a is both a compelling story of nursing under adverse conditions and a loving portrait of a people and their ways She shares the joys and sorrows of this isolated world religious festivals and rites of passage the tragedy of illness and death in a place where people still rely on one another as much as medicine a flash flood that causes such havoc that even less than pious village men attend Mass daily And she introduces a cast of characters not unlike those in a novel Padre Domingo and his airborne medical practice the local bishop who frowns on Finerty's slacks Chela a mestiza from whom she rents her modest two room house complete with scorpions and the young Cora Indian woman Chuy from whom she gains insight into her new neighbors Blending memoir and travel writing In a Village Far from Home takes readers deep into the Sierra Madre to reveal its true treasure the soul of a people
