SCM Core Text: Theological Hermeneutics Alexander S. Jensen, 2013-02-11 This book introduces theological hermeneutics by giving a historical account of the development of hermeneutical thinking It defines hermeneutics as the analysis of the obstacles to understanding The history of hermeneutical thinking and responses to obstacles is told here beginning with the allegorical interpretation of myths in Hellenism through to the contemporary view of the hermeneutical problem as universal Following the opening chapters on the history of hermeneutical thought the book presents an overview of the various contemporary hermeneutical schools of thought and shows their rooted ness in different parts of the hermeneutical tradition The focus is clearly on biblical interpretation however it does also take account of developments outside the field of theology as they influence the theological reflection on the hermeneutical problem The questions raised and the possible answers suggested in this volume will be of interest to students of other disciplines such as philosophy and literature

The Theological Project of Modernism Kevin W. Hector, 2015-06-25 Modernism s theological project was an attempt to explain two things firstly how faith might enable persons to experience their lives as hanging together even in the face of disintegrating forces like injustice tragedy and luck and secondly how one could see such faith and so a life held together by it as self expressive Modern theologians such as Kant Schleiermacher Hegel Ritschl and Tillich thus offer accounts of how one's life would have to hang together such that one could identify with it of the oppositions which stand in the way of such hanging together of God as the one by whom oppositions are overcome such that one can have faith that one's life ultimately hangs together and of what such faith would have to be like in order for one to identify with it too So understood modern theology not only sheds light on faith's potential role in enabling persons to identify with their lives but stands in unexpected continuity with contemporary contextual theologies This book offers clear careful readings of modernism's key figures in order to explain their relevance to practical concerns and to contemporary understandings of faith

Permanent Crisis Paul Reitter, Chad Wellmon, 2023-04-05 Any reader of the Chronicle of Higher Education can tell you that the humanities are in crisis Seen as irrelevant for modern careers and hopelessly devoid of funding humanistic disciplines seem at the mercy of modernizing forces driving the university towards academic pursuits that pull in grant money and direct students to lucrative careers But as Paul Reitter and Chad Wellmon show this crisis isn't new in fact it's as old as the humanities themselves Today's humanities scholars experience and react to basic pressures in ways that are strikingly similar to the response of their nineteenth century German counterparts In German universities of the 1800s as in those in the United States today humanities scholars felt threatened by the very processes that allowed the modern humanities to flourish such as institutional rationalization and the commodification of knowledge But Reitter and Wellmon also emphasize the constructive side of crisis discourse They claim that the self understanding of the modern humanities didn't merely take shape in response to a perceived crisis it also made crisis a core part of its project The humanities came into their own by framing themselves as a unique resource for resolving crises of meaning and value that threatened other cultural or social goods With this critical historical perspective Permanent Crisis can take humanists beyond the usual scolding exhorting and handwringing into clearer more effective thinking about the fate of the humanities Furthering ideas from Max Weber and Friedrich Nietzsche to Andrew Delbanco and William Deresiewicz Reitter and Wellmon dig into the notion of the humanities as a way to find meaning and coherence in the world

Theology as Performance Philip Stoltzfus, 2006-06-05 Theology as

Performance breaks new ground in the growing conversation between modern theology and philosophical aesthetics Stoltzfus proposes that significant moments in the Western development of the concept of God in particular as represented in the figures of Friedrich Schleiermacher Karl Barth and Ludwig Wittgenstein have been deeply influenced by concepts and approaches borrowed from the discipline of musical aesthetics Each thinker develops fundamentally different ways of writing about God that have in significant respects been derived from each one's reading and writing about music The aesthetic implications of Schleiermacher's so called subjectivist turn Barth's objectivist reaction and Wittgenstein's language game pragmatism can thus be fully understood only by attending to the musical culture and distinctly musicological discourses that gave rise to them Stoltzfus constructs two trajectories of thought with which to trace theological reflection upon music throughout the pre modern period the traditions of Orpheus and Pythagoras Schleiermacher's aesthetic approach then becomes a modern representative of the Orpheus trajectory and Barth's approach a representative of the Pythagoras trajectory Stoltzfus interprets Wittgenstein as putting forward a radical critique of these trajectories and pointing toward a third performative theological aesthetic method Theology as Performance offers a provocative rethinking of the aesthetic roots of modern theology Volume 6, Tome II: Kierkegaard and His German Contemporaries - Theology Jon

Stewart, 2017-03-02 This volume explores in detail Kierkegaard's various relations to his German contemporaries Kierkegaard read German fluently and made extensive use of the writings of German speaking authors Apart from his contemporary Danish sources the German sources were probably the most important in the development of his thought generally This volume represents source work research dedicated to tracing Kierkegaard's readings and use of the various German speaking authors in the different fields in a way that is as clearly documented as possible The volume has been divided into three tomes reflecting Kierkegaard's main areas of interest with regard to the German speaking sources namely philosophy theology and a more loosely conceived category which has here been designated literature and aesthetics This second tome of the present volume is dedicated to Kierkegaard's main theological influences In theology the German and the Danish traditions had long been closely connected via their common source Luther In Kierkegaard's time the main influence on theology was probably German philosophy and specifically Hegelianism Most of the German theologians were in some way in a critical dialogue with this movement Another important influence was Schleiermacher who visited Copenhagen in 1833 and was important for several Golden Age thinkers From his student days Kierkegaard kept abreast of the German theological literature from which he drew much inspiration Mapping Modern Theology Kelly M. Jungkeit, 2016-01-23 As stories of borders territorial disputes and migration have escalated in recent years so too space has emerged as a critical concept in theoretical literature This book explores the imagination of space at the dawn of modern liberal theology in the writings of Friedrich Schleiermacher Schleiermacher wrote against the backdrop of expanding European colonialism and nationalism providing a powerful ethics of space for a rapidly shrinking planet Selectively appropriated Schleiermachers spaces of modern theology can be a valuable contribution to contemporary attempts to theorize the importance of space and place in human geographies Differences in Identity in Philosophy and Religion Lydia Azadpour, Sarah Flavel, Russell Re Manning, 2020-04-02 This book explores the constitutive role alterity plays in identity formation in Western and Eastern traditions It examines the significance of difference in conceptions of identity across major philosophical and religious traditions in a global and comparative context considering Ancient Greek and Egyptian Chinese Islamic European and Japanese philosophies In addition the book opens up discussion of less dominant trends in philosophical thinking particularly the spaces between self same existence and otherness in the histories of philosophical and religious thought Chapters critique both essentialist and postmodern understandings of self constitution by questioning the ordinary narrative of identity construction across Western and non Western traditions The book also explores the construction of selfhood from a wide range of perspectives drawing upon individual philosophers including Plotinus Descartes Geulincx Hume de Beauvoir and Ueda as well as religious and philosophical movements including Confucian philosophy Zen Buddhism Protestantism and Post Phenomenology Differences in Identity in Philosophy and Religion represents a landmark study drawing together a range of approaches perspectives and traditions to explore how identity is constructed across the world
