Though Divided George Alfred Henty,2020-04-30 It was a pleasant afternoon in the month of July 1642 when three young people sat together on a shady bank at the edge of a wood some three miles from Oxford The country was undulating and picturesque and a little more than a mile in front of them rose the lofty spire of St Helen s Abingdon The party consisted of two lads who were about fifteen years of age and a girl of ten The lads although of about the same height and build were singularly unlike Herbert Ripplinghall was dark and grave his dress somber in hue but good in material and well made Harry Furness was a fair and merry looking boy good humor was the distinguishing characteristic of his face his somewhat bright and fashionably cut clothes were carelessly put on and it was clear that no thought of his own appearance or good looks entered his mind He wore his hair in ringlets and had on his head a broad hat of felt with a white feather while his companion wore a plain cap and his hair was cut closely to his head It is a bad business Harry the latter said but there is one satisfaction that come what may nothing can disturb our friendship We have never had a quarrel since we first met at the old school down there six years ago We have been dear friends always and my only regret has been that your laziness has prevented our being rivals for neither would have grudged the other victory No indeed Herbert But there was never a chance of that You have always been Mr Gregory s prize boy and are now head of the school while I have always been in his bad books But as you say Herbert we have been dear friends and come what will we ll continue so We cannot agree on the state of the kingdom and shall never do so We have both taken our views from our parents and indeed it seems to me that the question is far too difficult a one for boys like us to form any opinion of it When we see some of the best and wisest in the land ranging themselves on either side it is clear that even such a wise noddle as yours to say nothing of a feather brain like mine cannot form any opinion on a subject which perplexes our elders and betters Friends Though Divided A. relate historical facts with absolute accuracy and to show how much of right and how much of wrong there was upon either side Upon the one hand the king by his instability bad faith and duplicity alienated his best friends and drove the Commons to far greater lengths than they had at first dreamed of
