From Being To Doing The Origins Of The Biology Of Cognition:

From Being to Doing Humberto R Maturana, Bernhard Pörksen, 2004-09-01 At the beginning of the last century physicists revolutionised the scientific view of the world Today biologists are radically transforming our understanding of the processes of life and cognition Probing the mysteries of the mind they have been able to prove that in the act of knowing the observer and the observed subject and object are inextricably enmeshed The world we live in is not independent from us we literally bring it forth ourselves One of the protagonists of this new kind of thinking is the internationally renowned neurobiologist and systems theorist Humberto R Maturana who was interviewed for several weeks by Bernhard Poerksen journalist and communication scientist In this book they explore the limits of our cognitive powers discuss the truth in perception the biology of love and give all in all an introduction to systemic thinking that is down to earth imaginative and rich in anecdote

From Being to Doing Humberto R. Maturana, Bernhard Poerksen, 2004 Neurobiologen og systemteoretikeren Humberto R Maturana f 1928 anskueligg r sin filosofi og teorier gennem samtale og anekdoter og samtidig dannes et billede af personen Maturana og hans livsanskuelse The Animal Who Writes Marilyn M. Cooper, 2019-02-15 Writing begins with unconscious feelings of something that insistently demands to be responded to acted upon or elaborated into a new entity Writers make things that matter treaties new species software and letters to the editor as they interact with other humans of all kinds As they write they also continually remake themselves In The Animal Who Writes Cooper considers writing as a social practice and as an embodied behavior that is particularly important to human animals The author argues that writing is an act of composing enmeshed in nature cultures and is homologous with technology as a mode of making The Palgrave

Vermaas, Stéphane Vial, 2018-03-02 This volume presents 25 essays on the philosophy of design With contributions originating from philosophy and design research and from product design to architecture it gives a rich spectrum of state of the art research and brings together studies on philosophical topics in which design plays a key role and design research to which philosophy contributes Coverage zooms in on specific and more well known design disciplines but also includes less studied disciplines such as graphic design interior architecture and exhibition design In addition contributors take up traditional philosophical issues such as epistemology politics phenomenology and philosophy of science Some essays cover philosophical issues that emerge in design for instance what design can do in addressing societal problems while other essays analyze main stream philosophical issues in which design is part of the argument as for instance abduction and aesthetics Readers will discover new research with insightful analyses of design research design thinking and the specificity of design Overall this comprehensive overview of an emerging topic in philosophy will be of great interest to researchers and students

Words Made Flesh Justine Bakker, David Kline, 2025-06-03 The first sustained treatment of religion and religions in the scholarship of a prominent Caribbean thinker Sylvia Wynter is a profoundly transdisciplinary scholar whose works span an impressive array of theory literature science anthropology philosophy and religious studies as well as different forms including essays plays a novel and a 935 page unpublished manuscript entitled Black Metamorphosis New Natives in a New World Whatever the medium Wynter frequently engages religion as a relevant category of analysis from reflections on Christianity Islam and Rastafarianism to the category and role of religion as a universal aspect of human social production Wynter's writings have received enthusiastic attention by scholars in Black studies Caribbean theory critical race theory literature and philosophy But until recently little scholarly writing exists that directly engages the topic of religion in her corpus Words Made Flesh seeks to fill this gap by focusing exclusively on religion religions and religiosity in her work Bringing together scholars that provide a wide variety of theoretical perspectives on religion political theology social theory and science studies this book offers an in depth engagement with one of the most innovative and important thinkers of the last forty years and illustrates how Wynter's writing has significant implications for the study of religion and religion's relationship to colonialism race humanism science and political theology

MIND and LOVE: The Human Experience Lloyd Fell, 2011-01-04 The new scientific paradigm of embodied mind or situated cognition is percolating into popular mind science but its fundamentals autopoiesis and structural coupling have never been thoroughly explained Combines the paradigm shift in biology initiated by Maturana and Varela with the recent rush of ideas in social neuroscience to create what hopes to be a refreshingly new explanation of the way our mind works in our everyday experience and reveals the most common blind spots in what we thought we knew about our mind These blind spots are spoiling our individual lives and harming our prospects for peaceful coexistence and care of our environment e.g. the mistaken ideas that meaning is transferable that decisions come from conscious awareness or that knowledge is a commodity The biological significance of love and the value of embracing uncertainty and respecting the unknown point to a very hopeful vision for our future This is a scientific explanation of mind leavened with process philosophy also invoking spirituality without any religious connotation

Australian Critical Decisions Ann Genovese, 2018-02-02 The 1980s was a time of significant social political and cultural change In Australia law was pivotal to these changes The two High Court cases that this book explores Koowarta v Bjelke Petersen in 1982 and the Tasmanian Dams case in 1983 are famous legally as they marked a decisive reckoning by the Court with both international law and federal constitutionalism Yet these cases also offer a significant marker of Australia in the 1980s a shift to a different form of political engagement nationally and internationally on complex questions about race and the environment This book brings these cases together for the first time It does so to explore not only the legal legacy and relationship between Koowarta and Tasmanian Dams but also to reflect on how Australians experience their law in time and place and why those experiences might require more than the usual legal records The authors include significant figures in Australian public life some of whom were key participants in the cases as well as established and respected scholars in law history Indigenous and environmental studies The book offers a combination of personal recollections of the cases the drama of how they were brought before the courts and decided as well as a consideration of the cases ongoing significance in Australian life This book was previously published as two special issues in the Griffith Law Review
