From a Broken Web Catherine Keller,1988-11-09 Theological Anthropology in the Anthropocene Jan-Olav Henriksen,2022-12-14 The Anthropocene presents theology and especially theological anthropology with unprecedented challenges There are no immediately available resources in the theological tradition that reflect directly on such experiences Accordingly the situation calls for contextually based theological reflection of what it means to be human under such circumstances This book discusses the main elements in theological anthropology in light of the fundamental points a that theological anthropology needs to be articulated with reference to and informed by the concrete historical circumstances in which humanity presently finds itself and b that the notion of the Anthropocene can be used as a heuristic tool to describe important traits and conditions that call for a response by humanity and which entail the need for a renewal of what a Christian self understanding means Jan Olav Henriksen explores what such a response entails from the point of view of contemporary theological anthropology and discusses selected topics that can contribute to a contextually based position

A Postcolonial Self Hee An Choi,2015-09-01 A theologically informed look at the postcolonial self that forms as Korean immigrants confront life in the United States Theologian Choi Hee An explores how Korean immigrants create a new postcolonial identity in response to life in the United States A Postcolonial Self begins with a discussion of a Korean ethnic self Woori or we and how it differs from Western norms Choi then looks at the independent self the theological debates over this concept and the impact of racism sexism classism and postcolonialism on the formation of this self She concludes with a look at how Korean immigrants especially immigrant women cope with the transition to US culture including prejudice and discrimination and the role the Korean immigrant church plays in this Choi posits that an emergent postcolonial self can be characterized as I and We with Others In Korean immigrant theology and church an extension of this can be characterized as radical hospitality a concept that challenges both immigrants and American society to consider a new mutuality The Making of American Liberal Theology Gary J. Dorrien,2006-01-01 In this first of three volumes Dorrien identifies the indigenous roots of American liberal theology and demonstrates a wider longer running tradition than has been thought The tradition took shape in the nineteenth century motivated by a desire to map a modernist third way between orthodoxy and rationalistic deism atheism It is defined by its openness to modern intellectual inquiry its commitment to the authority of individual reason and experience its conception of Christianity as an ethical way of life and its commitment to make Christianity credible and socially relevant to modern people Dorrien takes a narrative approach and provides a biographical reading of important religious thinkers of the time including William E Channing Ralph Waldo Emerson Horace Bushnell Henry Ward Beecher Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Charles Briggs Dorrien notes that although liberal theology moved into elite academic institutions its conceptual foundations were laid in the pulpit rather than the classroom , Sin Boldly!

Ted Peters,2015-06-01 Can faith as trusting God make a difference Absolutely by relieving our anxiety over self justification and the need to scapegoat others Sin Boldly provides an experiential analysis of the contrast between self justification and justification by God We must pose the question how can the gospel of grace provide transformation for both fragile and broken souls This book proposes the following answer trusting in the God of grace relieves anxiety and provides a divine vocation that transcends our moral universe with the promise of forgiveness renewal and resurrection Reading from the Underside of Selfhood Lisa E. Dahill, 2009-01-01 Dietrich Bonhoeffer's example of self sacrificing discipleship has for over fifty years inspired Christians around the world in both their resistance to evil and their devotion to Jesus Christ Yet for some readers particularly those who suffer trauma abuse and other forms of violence Bonhoeffer's insistence on self sacrifice on becoming a person for others may prove more harmful than liberating For those already socialized into self abnegation uncritical applications of Bonhoeffer's teachings may reinforce submission rather than resistance to evil This study explores Bonhoeffer's understandings of selfhood and spiritual formation both in his own experience and writings and in light of the role of gender in psycho spiritual development The central constructive chapter creates a mediated conversation between Bonhoeffer and these feminist psychologists on the spiritual formation of survivors of trauma and abuse including not only dimensions of his thinking to be critiqued from this perspective but also important resources he contributes toward a truly liberating Christian spirituality for those on the underside of selfhood The book concludes with suggestions regarding the broader relevance of this study and implications for ministry The insights for spiritual formation developed here provide powerful proof of Bonhoeffer's continuing and concretely contextualized relevance for readers across the full spectrum of human selfhood

Bound to Sin Alistair McFadyen, 2000-08-15 This book tests the explanatory and descriptive power of the doctrine of sin in relation to two concrete situations sexual abuse of children and the holocaust Taking seriously the explanatory power of secular discourses for analysing and regulating therapeutic action in relation to such situations the book asks whether the theological language of sin can offer further illumination by speaking of God and the world together Through its discussion of abuse and the holocaust an engagement with Augustine original sin and feminism a fresh and sometimes surprising perspective is offered both on the theology of sin and on the pathologies under consideration The understanding of sin that emerges is centred on joyful worship of the trinitarian God This essay is more systematic and more theological than most practical pastoral or applied theology and more practical and concrete than most systematic or constructive theology It is a genuinely concrete systematic theology

Children, Youth, and Spirituality in a Troubling World, 2012-11 Editors Mary Elizabeth Moore and Almeda M Wright address the harsh challenging and delicate realities of children and youth who live as spiritual beings within a beautiful yet destructive world Providing a practical theological analysis of the spiritual yearnings expressions and challenges of children and youth in a world of rapid change dislocation violence and competing loyalties Children Youth and Spirituality in a Troubling World provides readers with a purposeful conversation on this important topic This book will serve as more than a collection it will be a genuine conversation which will in turn stir lively conversation among scholars theological students and Christian communities that seek to understand and respond more adequately in ministries to and with children and youth Contributors include Claire Bischoff Susanne Johnson Jennie S Knight Bonnie Miller McLemore Mary Elizabeth Moore Joyce Ann Mercer Veronice Miles Rodger Nishioka Evelyn Parker Luther E Smith Jr Joshua Thomas Katherine Turpin David White Almeda Wright and Karen Marie Yust

What's Wrong with Sin Derek R. Nelson, 2009-09-30 Neither Man Nor Beast Carol J. Adams, 1995-12-01 In 1990 The Sexual Politics of Meat was published In just a few years the book became an underground classic Neither Man Nor Beast takes Adams thought one step further It represents her collected reflections on animal rights vegetarianism and ecofeminism from the often difficult to locate sources in which many originally appeared and includes two important and completely new chapters More than a book of theory Neither Man Nor Beast is an enlightened call to action Topics covered include animal experimentation and patriarchal culture abortion rights and animal rights responding to racism in a human centered world ecofeminism and the eating of animals the need to integrate feminism animal defense and environmentalism the interconnected abuse of women children and animals institutional violence feminist ethics and vegetarianism a beastly theology the place of animals in God's universe A Living Tradition Dr. Mary Elizabeth Mullino Moore, 2013-09-17 This book engages in a critical recovery and reconstruction of the Wesleyan theological legacy in relation to current theological concepts and Christian practices with the intent to present opportunities for future directions The contributors address urgent questions from the contexts in which people now live particularly questions regarding social holiness and Christian practices To that end the authors focus on historical figures John Wesley Susanna Wesley Harry Hoosier and Richard Allen historical developments such as the ways in which African Americans appropriated Methodism and theological themes such as holistic healing work and vocation and prophetic grace The purpose is not to provide a comprehensive historical and theological coverage of the tradition but to exemplify approaches to historical recovery and reconstruction that follow appropriately the mentorship of John Wesley and the living tradition that has emerged from his witness Contributors W Stephen Gunter Richard P Heitzenrater Diane Leclerc William B McClain Randy L Maddox Rebekah L Miles Mary Elizabeth Mullino Moore Amy G Oden and Elaine A Robinson Christian Perspectives on Sexuality and Gender Elizabeth Stuart, Adrian Thatcher, 1996 This collection of articles present a variety of broadly Christian responses to issues such as sexuality and gender sexuality and spirituality gay and lesbian sexuality sexuality and violence sexuality and singleness and the family Toward a Better Worldliness Terra Schwerin Rowe, 2017-04-01 Five hundred years ago the Protestant Reformation inspired profound theological ecclesial economic and social transformations But what impact does the Protestant tradition have today And what might it have This volume addresses such questions focusing on the economic and ecological implications of the Protestant doctrine of grace In the late twentieth century a number of Protestant scholars countered Max Weber's famous work on Protestantism and capitalism by arguing that Calvin and Luther were prophetic critics of early capitalist practices While acknowledging the importance of this scholarship Terra Rowe argues that a more nuanced approach is necessary This narrative tends to purify Protestantism of capitalist beginnings and does not account for compelling arguments articulated by proponents of Radical Orthodoxy tying Protestantism and Protestant grace in particular to capitalism These debates now emerge with increasing urgency in the face of growing economic injustice and overwhelming evidence of an ecologically unsustainable economic system demonstrated most potently by climate change In the spirit of ecotheologies resonating with the best of the Reformation tradition this book develops a fresh reading of Luther's theology of grace and his economic ethics in conversation with current reflections on concepts of the gift and gifting practices

The Immanent Divine John J. Thatamanil, While traditional Christian thought and spirituality have always affirmed the divine presence in human life Thatamanil argues we have much to learn from non dualistic Hindu thought especially that of the eighth century thinker Sankara and from the Christian panentheism of Paul Tillich Thatamanil compares their diagnoses and prognoses of the human predicament in light of their doctrine of God or Ultimate Reality What emerges is a new theology of God and human beings with a richer and more radical conception of divine immanence a reconceived divine transcendence and a keener sense of how the dynamic and active Spirit at work in us anchors real hope and deep joy Using key insights from Christian and Hindu thought Thatamanil vindicates comparative theology expands the vocabulary about the ineffable God and arrives at a new construal of the problems and prospects of the human condition

Theory on Gender Paula England, 1993-01-01 How do various social theories explain gender inequality Are these theories infused with masculinist biases that need to be redressed with insights from feminist theory To address these questions this collection of original essays features prominent sociologists discussing the strengths and the limitations of the theoretical traditions within which they have worked Among the theoretical perspectives included are those of Marxism world system theory macrostructural theories rational choice theory neofunctionalism psychoanalysis ethno methodology expectation states theory poststructuralist symbolic interactionism and network theory Each of the chapter length essays of the first two sections provides an overview of the theory explains its implications for gender inequality reviews empirical research and comments upon sexist biases or other limitations of the perspective The final section contains chapters on feminist debates over methodology critical commentaries on the preceding papers by four feminist scholars and replies by the original authors

Creating Women's Theology Monica A. Coleman, Nancy R. Howell, Helene Tallon Russell, 2011-09-22 Creating Women's Theology engages women's questions Can women from different religious traditions engage one theological approach Can one philosophical approach support feminist religious thought What kind of belief follows women's criticism of traditional Christianity Creating Women's Theology offers a portrait of how some women have found room for faith and feminism For the last twenty five years women religion scholars have synthesized process philosophy with their feminist sensibilities and faith commitments to highlight the value of experience the importance of freedom and the interdependence of humanity God and all creation Cutting across cultural and religious traditions process relational feminist thought represents a theology that women have created This volume offers an introduction to process and feminist theologies before presenting selections from canonical works in the field with study questions This volume includes voices from Christianity Judaism goddess religion the Black church and indigenous religions Creating Women s Theology invites new generations of undergraduate seminary and university graduate students to the methods and insights of process relational feminist theology Christian Theology in Practice Bonnie J. Miller-McLemore,2012-02-02 For the past fifty years scholars in both pastoral and practical theology have attempted to recapture human religious experience and practice as essential sites for theological engagement redefining in the process what theology is how it is done and who does it In this book Bonnie J Miller McLemore shows how this trend in scholarship has led to an expanded subject matter alternative ways of knowing and richer terms for analysis in doing Christian theology Tracing more than two decades of her own search for a more inclusive discipline one that truly grapples with theology in the midst of life Christian Theology in Practice shows not only where Miller McLemore herself has traveled in the field but also how pastoral and practical theology has developed during this time Looking forward Miller McLemore calls on the academy and Christian congregations to disrupt conventional theological boundaries and to acknowledge the multiplicity of shapes and places in which the wisdom of God appears Event and Decision Roland Faber, Henry Krips, Daniel Pettus,2020-05-22 This book addresses the philosophies of Alain Badiou Gilles Deleuze and Alfred North Whitehead in relation to the concepts of event ontology and politics For Whitehead the event is the realization of becoming the actualization of the groundless ontological ground of creativity the process of self decision on possibilities yet undecided the aesthetic and ethical impulse of existence For Deleuze it is the expression of life without possession bodies without organs the virtual or actual reality of singularity and novelty For Badiou the event breaks from the situation in which we always count reality as one and multiplicity as united For all three thinkers the event necessitates a radical politics that critiques traditional ontologies of social bodies cultures and art The perspective that emerges from the book is of humanity constituted by but also constituting a multiplicitous event cycle each person and thing bringing their own personal event into their experience of an event outside of themselves The convergence of this multiplicity creates our complex world a complexity not defined as aporia or impossibility but rather infinity that is always already still creating Event and Decision offers the reader a live experience of this evental theory an experience that mirrors the event of three philosophers themselves And if the mirror you peer into shows you something foreign something different than what you know as yourself then this difference makes reading the book easy The only impossibility is to lose your way Men's Work in Preventing Violence Against Women Christie Cozad Neuger, James Newton Poling,2014-02-25 Promote effective partnerships between men and women to end domestic violence Men s Work in Preventing Violence Against Women examines the experiences of 12 practicing counselors who call on their religious training to form partnerships between men and women that promote an end to domestic violence In both religious and secular settings the bulk of the work done to end violence against women is done by women survivors who have become activists and advocates who have been touched by the witness of survivors Motivating and educating men to share the everyday work of domestic violence shelters rape crisis counseling and abuse prevention is essential This book challenges traditional images of masculinity exploring effective and ineffective methods of helping men face their own sexism and change their behavior toward the goal of ending domestic violence Each contributor to Men s Work in Preventing Violence Against Women approached the concept of man woman partnerships working to end domestic violence and sexual assault with the following questions in mind In your experience and social world have you seen creative partnerships between men and women that made a difference Have you seen men in counseling struggle to change their views on gender in order to become reliable allies in the fight to end violence against women How can religion become a resource for men working to become allies with women What strategies can men use to help end violence against women Men s Work in Preventing Violence Against Women includes contributions from Paul Kivel cofounder of the Oakland Men s Project and of Gvarim Bay Area Jewish Men Against Violence David Livingston author of Healing Violent Men A Model for Christian Communities Al Miles author of Domestic Violence What Every Pastor Should Know and Richard Wallace Jr editor of the Journal of Ministry in Addiction Recovery Haworth Each essay presents practical and theoretical ideas guidelines for partnerships and insightful information on sexual and domestic violence Topics addressed include Jewish male violence holding Christian men accountable for domestic violence shared experiences of batterers and the people who treat them premarital preparation the dynamics of power in pastoral care engaging Scripture with male abusers helping men become pro feminist Men s Work in Preventing Violence Against Women is an essential resource for counselors social workers clergy laypersons and anyone else working to end domestic violence and sexual abuse against women
