Growing Up In Dagbon:

Growing Up in Dagbon Christine Oppong, 1973 The Evolution of Childhood Melvin Konner, 2011-11-30 This book is an intellectual tour de force a comprehensive Darwinian interpretation of human development Looking at the entire range of human evolutionary history Melvin Konner tells the compelling and complex story of how cross cultural and universal characteristics of our growth from infancy to adolescence became rooted in genetically inherited characteristics of the human brain All study of our evolution starts with one simple truth human beings take an extraordinarily long time to grow up What does this extended period of dependency have to do with human brain growth and social interactions And why is play a sign of cognitive complexity and a spur for cultural evolution As Konner explores these questions and topics ranging from bipedal walking to incest taboos he firmly lays the foundations of psychology in biology As his book eloquently explains human learning and the greatest human intellectual accomplishments are rooted in our inherited capacity for attachments to each other In our love of those we learn from we find our way as individuals and as a species Never before has this intersection of the biology and psychology of childhood been so brilliantly described Nothing in biology makes sense except in the light of evolution wrote Dobzhansky In this remarkable book Melvin Konner shows that nothing in childhood makes sense except in the light of evolution Trying to Grow Martina Aruna Padmanabhan, 2002 This book explores the negotiations at the inter and intrafaces of knowledge and gender It analyses the construction of gender and knowledge to reveal how innovations in agriculture either transform existing gender relations or unfold a transcending potential The case studies on the cultivation of cowpeas onions and soybeans by Dagombas and Kusasis show that supposedly gender neutral agricultural innovations become contested fields when men and women are Trying to Grow The contextualisation and social connotation of a crop decides over women s participation in rural development The book throws a fresh light on the management of agricultural knowledge POLYGAMOUS WAYS OF LIFE PAST AND PRESENT IN AFRICA AND EUROPE | POLYGAME LEBENSWEISEN IN VERGANGENHEIT UND GEGENWART IN AFRIKA UND EUROPA Henry Kam Kah, Bea Lundt, 2020-01-01 Polygamy is a very complex phenomenon with a long tradition in Africa but also in Europe The anthology will contribute to the objectification of the discussion by portraying the variety of polygamous lifestyles showing the interconnections of family structure social and economic conditions cultural representations especially in fictive writing and oral tradition spiritual meaning and religious legitimation of this way of life between traditional belief Christianity and Islam Case studies from different countries in Africa south of the Sahara will be added by historic examples since antiquity in Europe up to the discussion in present times Turning Global Rights into Local Realities Afua Twum-Danso Imoh, 2024-07-15 Focusing on Ghana the first country in sub Saharan Africa to gain independence from European colonial rule and the first in the world to ratify the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child this book explores how dominant children s rights principles interact with the lived realities of a range of children s lives The author considers the changeability and inconsistencies of childhoods within this context and the factors that underpin these varied intersections including cultural norms British colonial legacy the influence of Christianity urbanization and social economic and political transformations Challenging one dimensional portrayals of childhoods in the Global South the author highlights the need for more holistic approaches to the study of children s lives and children s rights realization in Southern contexts The Simmons,2016-02-02 Moving Through and Passing On Yaa P.A. Oppong,2017-12-02 The Fulani are one of West Africa s most populous and geographically dispersed ethnic groups Commonly thought of as a pastoral people primarily engaged in cattle herding Fulani peoples are in reality highly differentiated in livelihood and patterns of mobility Despite having a long history of residence in Ghana Fulani are considered aliens in the eyes of the state and strangers by the various ethnic groups among whom they reside Among Fulani themselves differences of place circumstance and experience have generated parallel ambigoiities on matters of identity and survival In Moving Through and Passing On Yaa P A Oppong focuses on the Fulani of the Greater Accra region to offer the first detailed account of the lives of this transnational community in Ghana Based on eighteen months of ethnographic fieldwork Oppong develops detailed case studies and draws upon over two hundred in depth life histories to explore issues of mobility survival and identity among this spacially dispersed and diverse group Using perspectives and insights gained from oral life histories private and public ceremonies and ethnic associations she examines the sites and circumstances in which people profess to be the same or different from one another The markers of Fulani identity as recognized by Fulani and non Fulani alike are examined Oppong also explores the factors that allow them as a distinct ethnic category to maintain and perpetuate this identity and viability in Greater Accra The metaphoric analogy of construction sites is employed to define the explicit and implicit events and recurring processes through which people conceive of themselves as Fulani These locations and contexts of action include ethnic associations public gatherings and common rites of passage The recurring processes include genealogical reckoning of kinship and endogamous marriage transactions and the ways in which ties of descent and filiation are used to enha Politics of Social Change in Ghana B.

Talton,2010-01-04 With Ghana s colonial and postcolonial politics as a backdrop this book explores the ways in which historically marginalized communities have defined and redefined themselves to protect their interests and compete politically and economically with neighbouring ethnic groups Burning Matters Peter C. Little,2022 Global trade in electronic waste e waste has led to various waste management challenges and many regions of the Global South have suffered the toxic consequences In Burning Matters Peter C Little explores the complex cultural economic and environmental health politics of e waste work in Ghana He brings to light the lived experiences of Ghana s e waste workers as they navigate the health social and economic challenges of highly toxic e waste labor In particular Little engages the experiences of e waste workers who burn bundles of electrical cables to extract copper a practice that contaminates bodies and the urban environment and which has attracted international organizations seeking to mitigate risk and find quick tech solutions to this highly toxic e waste work A nuanced perspective on e waste burning and environmental politics in Africa at a time when global e waste generation and trade is at an all time high Burning Matters contends that e waste interventions devoid of ethnographic perspective and knowledge risk downplaying the vibrant complexities of e waste itself and the matters of social life and labor that matter most to Ghana s e waste workers

Female and Male in West Africa Christine Oppong, 2023-03-31 In the 1970s and early 1980s there was a lack of contemporary readily available studies of the informal relationships between the sexes their day to day activities and expectations and how these were altering especially in contexts in which there were radical demographic political and economic changes taking place Originally published in 1983 this volume documents the complexities and subtleties of the modes of interaction between women and men in one region of Africa It seeks to provide insights and understanding of changing social contexts and relationships based upon ethnographic field work carried out in the previous decade There are five sections The first is comparative presenting and analysing statistical data from the countries of the region including demographic profiles of fertility migration mortality as well as census and survey evidence on work patterns and education It provides the broad framework within which the individual case studies are located The theme of the first set of case studies is the traditional separation and interconnectedness apparent in the worlds of women and men in several culture areas in the spheres of arts and crafts music political roles language symbolism ritual domestic organization and resources and sexuality The second set focuses on the theme of domestic cooperation and conflict in production and consumption in particular the conflicting claims and expectations of men and women as spouses and kin The third set of essays is concerned with the relative resources and opportunities of females and males in schools and employment contexts in sexual encounters and in national community and domestic decision making processes The subjects of the final section include individualism autonomy and dependence of the members of one sex upon the other The increased individualism resulting from migration and the scattering of kin and the breakdown of cooperative work patterns between spouses and relatives is seen as leading to instances of both increased dependence on the one hand especially of women on men and increased opportunities for economic autonomy on the other The case studies span a wide range of socio economic conditions including studies of farmers traders fishermen and fishmongers factory and office workers the relatively rich and the relatively poor from many different ethnic groups and six countries The book was expected to be of interest to a wide range of readers in social science disciplines as well as to planners and administrators It should still prove to be particularly relevant to the needs of university students in the fields of women s studies African studies Black studies sex roles family relations sociology and anthropology Apprenticeship Michael William Coy,1989-01-01 This book examines the phenomenon of apprenticeship by exploring it as a social economic and educational institution Studies of apprenticeship in both craft occupations and supernatural specializations in Africa Latin America North America and Asia are offered The authors also look at apprenticeship as a method in anthropological field research Many of the contributors have apprenticed themselves in other cultural settings providing a unique marriage of subject and method in cross cultural research Esther N Goody provides a summary look at learning apprenticeship and the division of labor Theorizing Black Feminisms Abena P.
