Growing Up In New Orleans:

Growing Up Robby Gallaty, 2013-11-11 If you are serious about being a disciple of Jesus Christ really truly serious a discipleship group can help you achieve that goal Jesus established this model for us by forming and leading the first discipleship group and it worked The men who emerged from that group took the gospel to the world and ultimately laid down their lives for Christ Discipleship groups can create an atmosphere for fellowship encouragement and accountability building an environment where God can work In Growing Up How to Be a Disciple Who Makes Disciples Robby Gallaty presents a practical easy to implement system for growing in one's faith This guide offers a manual for making disciples addressing the what why where and how of discipleship D Groups as Gallaty calls them can teach you and others how to grow your relationship with God how to defend your faith and how to guide others in their relationships with God Growing Up provides you with an interactive manual and resource for creating and working with discipleship groups allowing you to gain positive information both for yourself and for others as you learn how to help others become better disciples for Christ

Growing Up American Min Zhou, Carl Bankston, 1998-01-22 Vietnamese Americans form a unique segment of the new U S immigrant population Uprooted from their homeland and often thrust into poor urban neighborhoods these newcomers have nevertheless managed to establish strong communities in a short space of time Most remarkably their children often perform at high academic levels despite difficult circumstances Growing Up American tells the story of Vietnamese children and sheds light on how they are negotiating the difficult passage into American society Min Zhou and Carl Bankston draw on research and insights from many sources including the U S census survey data and their own observations and in depth interviews Focusing on the Versailles Village enclave in New Orleans one of many newly established Vietnamese communities in the United States the authors examine the complex skein of family community and school influences that shape these children's lives With no ties to existing ethnic communities Vietnamese refugees had little control over where they were settled and no economic or social networks to plug into Growing Up American describes the process of building communities that were not simply transplants but distinctive outgrowths of the environment in which the Vietnamese found themselves Family and social organizations reformed in new ways blending economic necessity with cultural tradition These reconstructed communities create a particular form of social capital that helps disadvantaged families overcome the problems associated with poverty and ghettoization Outside these enclaves Vietnamese children faced a daunting school experience due to language difficulties racial inequality deteriorating educational services and exposure to an often adversarial youth subculture How have the children of Vietnamese refugees managed to overcome these challenges Growing Up American offers important evidence that community solidarity cultural values and a refugee sensibility have provided them with the resources needed to get ahead in American society Zhou and Bankston also document the price exacted by the process of adaptation as the struggle to define a personal identity and to decide what it means to be American sometimes leads children into conflict with their tight knit communities Growing Up American is the first comprehensive study of the unique experiences of Vietnamese immigrant children It sets the agenda for future research on second generation immigrants and their entry into American society

Home and Away Leigh Anne Howard, 2021-11-29 Home and Away explores how performative writing serve as a process that critically interrogates space place in relation to personal social cultural and political understanding By combining aesthetic expression and inquiry with critical reflection the contributors in this volume use a variety of narrative strategies autoethnography mystoriography creative cartography the lyric essay fictocriticism collage the screenplay and poetics to position place as the starting point for the aesthetic impulse The anthology showcases the power and potential of performative writing to illustrate the ways we interact with and in place provides examples of the ways one can express lived experience and demonstrates the ways discourses overlap while extending our understanding of identity and place whether one is home or away Although the chapters are fixed by their literary form in this volume many of chapters are best realized in a performance or shared publicly via an oral tradition This collection will be of great interest to students and scholars in performance communication studies and literature

entertainer But to jazz aficionados he was one of the most important musicians of our times not only a key figure in the history of jazz but a formative influence on all of 20th century popular music Set against the backdrop of New Orleans Chicago and New York during the jazz age Collier re creates the saga of an old fashioned black man making it in a white world He chronicles Armstrong s rise as a musician his scrapes with the law his relationships with four wives and his frequent feuds with fellow musicians Earl Hines and Zutty Singleton He also sheds new light on Armstrong s endless need for approval his streak of jealousy and perhaps most important what some consider his betrayal of his gift as he opted for commercial success and stardom A unique biography knowledgeable insightful and packed with information it ends with Armstrong s death in 1971 as one of the best known figures in American entertainment Sign My Name to Freedom Betty Reid Soskin,2018-02-06 In Betty Reid Soskin s 96 years of living she has been a witness to a grand sweep of American history When she was born in 1921 the lynching of African Americans was a national epidemic blackface minstrel shows were the most popular American form of entertainment white women had only just won the right to vote and most African Americans in the Deep South could not vote at all From her great grandmother who had been enslaved until her mid 20s Betty heard stories of slavery and the times of terror and struggle for black folk that followed In her lifetime Betty has watched the nation begin to confront its race and gender biases when forced to come together in the World War II era seen our differences nearly break us apart again in the upheavals of the civil rights and Black Power eras and finally lived long enough to witness both the election of an African American president and the re emergence of a militant racist far right The child of proud Louisiana Creole parents who refused to bow down to Southern discrimination Betty was raised in the Bay Area black community before the great westward migration of World War II After working in the civilian home front effort in the war years she and her husband Mel Reid helped break down racial boundaries by moving into a previously all white community east of the Oakland hills where they raised four children while resisting the prejudices against the family that many of her neighbors held With Mel she opened up one of the first Bay Area record stores in Berkeley both owned by African Americans and dedicated to the distribution of African American music Her volunteer work in rehabilitating the community where the record shop began eventually led her to a paid position as a state legislative aide helping to plan the innovative Rosie the Riveter WWII Home Front National Historical Park in Richmond California then to a second career as the oldest park ranger in the history of the National Park Service In between she used her talents as a singer and songwriter to interpret and chronicle the great American social upheavals that marked the 1960s In 2003 Betty displayed a new talent when she created the popular blog CBreaux Speaks sharing the sometimes fierce sometimes gently persuasive but always brightly honest story of her long journey through an American and African American life Blending together selections from many of Betty s hundreds of blog entries with interviews letters and speeches Sign My Name to Freedom invites you along on that journey through the words and thoughts of a national treasure who has never stopped looking at herself the nation or the world with fresh eyes Race: My Story & Humanity's Bottom Line Lauren Joichin Nile,2014-01-20 Lauren Joichin Nile introduces what she believes is humanity's racial bottom line with a compelling account of her personal experiences growing up in 1950's and 60's segregated New Orleans. In so doing she posits what she believes is humanity's universal racial story. Lauren explains how starting out from Southern Africa, fully formed human beings over thousands of years walked out of Africa, populated the entire rest of Planet Earth, and over 2,000 generations physically adapted to their new environments, gradually taking on the appearance of the many races of modern day humanity, making all of us literally one biologically related human family. She then provides an abbreviated account of some of the most significant events of humanity's racial history and an explanation of how that history has affected the American racial present. She also analyzes a number of controversial topics, including whether there are truly superior and inferior races. Finally, Lauren shares what she believes are the specific actions that humanity must take in order to heal from our wretched racial past, realize that across the planet we all truly can love one another, and as a species walk into a wiser, more empathetic, compassionate human future. Lauren Joichin Nile is an author, keynote speaker, trainer, and licensed attorney who specializes in assisting organizations in increasing their emotional intelligence, compassion, and productivity. The goal of her work with organizations is to help create environments in which understanding and kindness are valued, and as a result, every person is equally welcomed and uniformly appreciated, irrespective of all demographic differences. The goal of Lauren's speaking and training in the greater society is to help the human species grow in both wisdom and compassion.

Growing Up in San Francisco: More Boomer Memories from Playland to Candlestick Park Frank Dunnigan,2016 From football games at Kezar Stadium to a perfectly broiled Zim burger, San Franciscans have fond memories of the decades after World War II. Dressing up for a movie at the Fox Theatre on Market Street, catching the train at the old S P Station on Third and Townsend, taking the streetcar downtown to see magnificent displays in the Emporium's windows, or spending a day at Golden Gate Park, the outside lands of San Francisco were teeming with youngsters, and the young at heart alike. Western Neighborhoods Project columnist and San Francisco native Frank Dunnigan offers a charming collection of nostalgic vignettes about the thriving Western communities of unforgettable people and places that defined generations.

Growing Up Jim Crow Jennifer Ritterhouse,2006-12-13 In the segregated South of the early twentieth century, unwritten rules guided every aspect of individual behavior, from how blacks and whites stood, sat, ate, drank, walked, and talked, to whether they made eye contact with one another. Jennifer Ritterhouse asks how children learned this racial etiquette, which was sustained by coercion and the threat of violence. More broadly, she asks how individuals developed racial self-consciousness. Parental instruction was an important factor, both white parents' reinforcement of a white supremacist worldview and black parents' oppositional lessons in respectability and race pride. Children also learned much from their interactions across race lines. The fact that black youths were often eager to stand up for themselves despite the risks suggests that the emotional underpinnings of the civil rights movement were in place long before the historical moment when change became possible Meanwhile a younger generation of whites continued to enforce traditional patterns of domination and deference in private while also creating an increasingly elaborate system of segregation in public settings Exploring relationships between public and private and between segregation racial etiquette and racial violence Growing Up Jim Crow sheds new light on tradition and change in the South and the meanings of segregation within southern culture
