Growing Up With America An Anthology:

Growing Up with America, 1941 Growing Up America Susan Eckelmann Berghel, Sara Fieldston, Paul M. Renfro, 2019 Growing Up America brings together new scholarship that considers the role of children and teenagers in shaping American political life during the decades following the Second World War Growing Up America places young people and their representations at the center of key political trends illuminating the dynamic and complex roles played by youth in the midcentury rights revolutions in constructing and challenging cultural norms and in navigating the vicissitudes of American foreign policy and diplomatic relations The authors featured here reveal how young people have served as both political actors and subjects from the early Cold War through the late twentieth century Age of Fracture At the same time Growing Up America contends that the politics of childhood and youth extends far beyond organized activism and the ballot box By unveiling how science fairs breakfast nooks Boy Scout meetings home economics classrooms and correspondence functioned as political spaces this anthology encourages a reassessment of the scope and nature of modern politics itself

Ray Hiner, Joseph M. Hawes, 1985 Growing Up in America offers substantial and dramatic evidence that the history of childhood has come of age Its authors demonstrate the breadth and depth of interest as well as high quality of work in a field that is finally attracting the attention it deserves Strongly influenced by new social history and its concern for the powerless and inarticulate Growing Up in America provides illuminating insights on children from infancy to adolescence and from the colonial period to present The very title of this fine and enormously instructive anthology of essays makes its quiet but important point that children grow up in a particular nation rather than in a family or home isolated from the influence of social cultural political and historical forces An admirably diverse and instructive collection Georgia Historical Quarterly Growing Up Ethnic in America Maria Mazziotti Gillan, Jennifer Gillan, 1999-11-01 Stories navigating the complicated terrain of race in America from acclaimed writers like Toni Morrison E L Doctorow Sandra Cisneros Sherman Alexie and Amy Tan The editors who brought us Unsettling America and Identity Lessons have compiled a short story anthology that focuses on themes of racial and ethnic assimilation With humor passion and grace the contributors lay bare poignant attempts at conformity and the alienation sometimes experienced by ethnic Americans But they also tell of the strength gained through the preservation of their communities and the realization that it was often their difference from the norm that helped them to succeed In pieces suggesting that American identity is far from settled these writers illustrate the diversity that is the source of both the nation's great discord and infinite promise These beautiful stories radiate with the poignant ingenious ways young people come to
