Finding God In Physics Einstein's Missing Relative Why We And The Universe Exist:

Finding God in Physics Roy Masters, 1997 How Physics Found God John Hood, 2021-03-02 Quantum physics raises new questions about the universe and life. One of the most intriguing being does the universe create consciousness or does consciousness create the universe. Consciousness may be fundamental to the universe from objects as small as electrons to matter composed of molecules and perhaps even the universe itself. Quantum physics reveals that everything in the universe is interconnected. The more we learn about the universe the more we find that it is even more mysterious than we thought. Not only is the universe subject to laws of physics but it is also finely tuned for life to exist. Current concepts of the creation of the universe might be imperfect and the inclusion of new theories of biology into cosmic sciences could provide insights about consciousness and matter. The author presents arguments that the human mind is not physical matter part of the brain but functions outside of our body and is unified with a universal consciousness a Cosmic Mind or God. Many scientists now believe that at our most fundamental level human beings are packets of quantum energy constantly exchanging information with an inexhaustible sea of energy in the universe called the Zero Point Field or Akashic Field. And that human perception occurs because of interactions between the subatomic particles of our brains and the Zero Point Field. Could that Field be a Cosmic Mind or God. The topics of mind, soul and spirit are discussed. Are they the same. Could the mind exist outside of the body. Does the mind survive after death. What is death. In view of the global pandemic the author asks what are viruses. Could viruses have a purpose or are they just here by a chance of evolution causing misery and death to life on Earth. Could viruses be a tool of evolution. There seems to be an unrelenting force in play to create life on Earth. To some it is strictly an evolutionary process the gradual development of life from a simple form to a more complex form. However the probability of the countless inexplicable occurrences supporting the creation of life and its continued existence is enormously low. It seems more probable that something is guiding an inexorable progression in the development of life on Earth and perhaps in the universe. Other topics include how we sense our environment how atoms became animate what is consciousness autistic savant and genius relativity and time the bizarre quantum world is the universe composed of matter or energy is the universe a biocentric entity are humans special in the universe science and religion could other intelligent life exist in the universe and the final question has quantum physics found God.

GOD EINSTEIN EXISTENCE COSMOS

Lachlen Paul French, 2016-11-21 There is a quiet search for meaning in us as we live our lives. We know or perhaps feel that the mystery of existence in this marvelous universe has an orderly yet poetic resonance as Life cascades over the years and our many passages in living. We often look for science and spirituality to provide some relevance and meaningfulness in our depth of being. We subliminally long for those answers that will lift us up. Here they are. You found them. This moment is the new beginning we yearn for. Great minds who bless our journey like Jesus Einstein Gautama Gibrán Rumi Gandhi Samuel and others we hope will feed that hungering we have for understanding our place within the fullness of Divine Being and in our earthly existence Our beloved family and friends give tender meaning to our journey but we secretly desire the very highest could it be we have a connection in the deepest oneness with God You have indeed found it This is the joy of finding that elegant elevation The universe was made for hugs Be here now because it s only getting better Science and spirituality actually do unite perfectly Space and Spirit - Theories of the Universe and the Arguments for the Existence of God
