Stories That Keep Popping Into My Head Ed Boyd, 2014-05 Remember the one about Stories That Keep Popping Into My Head represents mostly humorous incidents and experiences that Ed Boyd recalled and collected for this book The collection of stories is meant to stir the imagination and create a few belly laughs Says the author These stories that popped into my head are here for senior citizens who have lived with similar stories They are fluent meant to entertain Escape is a funny story about my little mother five foot two who takes the mouse by the tail the cat by the scruff of his neck and tosses both out onto the back porch Taking the Cure features two drunks father and son where the son takes the cure because of what the father said The recollections by this retired psychologist could fill a book Ed Boyd lives in Melrose Massachusetts This is his first book Publisher's website <http://sbprabooks.com> Ed Boyd The Poetry of Raymond Carver Sandra Lee Kleppe, 2016-02-24 Best known as one of the great short story writers of the twentieth century Raymond Carver also published several volumes of poetry and considered himself as much a poet as a fiction writer Sandra Lee Kleppe combines comparative analysis with an in depth examination of Carver's poems making a case for the quality of Carver's poetic output and showing the central role Carver's pursuit of poetry played in his career as a writer Carver constructed his own organic literary system of autopoetics a concept connected to a paradigm shift in our understanding of the inter relatedness of biological and cultural systems This idea is seen as informing Carver's entire production and a distinguishing feature of Kleppe's book is its contextualization of Carver's poetry within the complex literary and scientific systems that influenced his development as a writer Kleppe addresses the common themes and intertextual links between Carver's poetry and short story careers situates Carver's poetry within the love poem tradition explores the connections between neurology and poetic memories and examines Carver's use of the elegy genre within the context of his terminal illness Tellingly Carver's poetry which has aroused slight interest among literary scholars is frequently taught to medical students This testimony to the interdisciplinary implications of Carver's work suggests the appropriateness of Kleppe's culminating discussion of Carver's work as a bridge between the fields of literature and medicine The Realist Short Story of the Powerful Glimpse Kerry McSweeney, 2007 An aesthetic perspective on the short fiction of Chekhov Joyce Hemingway O'Connor and Carver Taking a distinctively aesthetic approach to the genre of realist short fiction Kerry McSweeney clusters the work of five

masters Anton Chekhov James Joyce Ernest Hemingway Flannery O Connor and Raymond Carver to offer a poetics of the form for students and scholars At the center of this argument is the notion that the realist short story is a glimpse powerful and tightly focused into a world that the writer must precisely craft and in which the reader must fully invest Selecting writers from different generational national and cultural backgrounds McSweeney chooses writers based on their commitment to the realist representation of experience and their shared belief in the importance and efficacy of the short story form By considering their efforts in tandem he develops a means to assess the strategies and claims of realist short fiction McSweeney demonstrates that when the comments these writers have made about their work are assembled and critically scrutinized the result is an aesthetic critical model as opposed to more interpretative models that focus attention on the determination or indetermination of meanings He suggests that a fully adequate reading of a realist short story involves the integration of three components the enjoyment and contemplation of the story in and of itself affective receptivity or a response to the story s emotional content and cognitive activity or the reflective consideration of the story s conceptual implications In individual chapters on Chekov Joyce Hemingway O Connor and Carver this presentational model is applied to widely known and often anthologized readings from each writer McSweeney brings into sharp focus the distinctive features of each piece makes qualitative discriminations and assesses the profitability of other critical models He concludes with an invitation to test the mettle of his approach in reading other realist short story writers
