Governing Education:

Governing Education Benjamin Levin, 2005-01-01 Levin's unique combination of informed analysis with real stories of real events told by participants provides an incisive exploration of government in action

Governing Educational Spaces Hans-Georg Kotthoff, Eleftherios Klerides, 2015-12-14 The governance of education in many countries and regions of the world is currently in transition challenging histories remaking subjectivities and shaping possible futures This book provides an up to date analysis and discussion of the cutting edge theme of educational governance from an international comparative perspective The volume explores the landscape of educational governance in its broadest sense considering new forms of steering leadership and management assessment and evaluation teaching and learning knowledge creation and the realities and possibilities for different forms of political engagement The new spatial dynamics of education are explored in institutional settings such as schools and universities and via professional groupings such as teachers administrators and leaders The chapters in this book are based on the best peer reviewed papers and keynote speeches which were delivered at the XXVI Conference of the Comparative Education Society in Europe CESE in June 2014 in Freiburg Germany Comparative Education is uniquely situated to explore the emerging dynamics of educational governance within changing and newly emerging educational spaces because it provides the opportunity to learn more about different local national or regional educational processes and trajectories and to share knowledge about the logics ideologies and impacts of different techniques and regimes of governance across Europe and beyond Hans Georg Kotthoff is Professor of Comparative Education and School Pedagogy at the University of Education Freiburg Germany and President of the Comparative Education Society in Europe CESE since 2012 Eleftherios Klerides is Lecturer in Comparative Education and History of Education at the University of Cyprus and the Secretary Treasurer of the Comparative Education Society in Europe CESE

Governing through Standards: the Faceless Masters of Higher Education Katja Brøgger, 2018-11-09 This book offers an empirical and theoretical account of the mode of governance that characterizes the Bologna Process In addition it shows how the reform materializes and is translated in everyday working life among professors and managers in higher education It examines the so called Open Method of Coordination as a powerful actor that uses soft governance to advance transnational standards in higher education The book shows how these standards no longer serve as tools for what were once human organizational national or international regulators Instead the standards have become regulators themselves the faceless masters of higher education By exploring this the book reveals the close connections between the Bologna Process and the EU regarding regulative and monitoring techniques such as standardizations and comparisons which are carried out through the Open Method of Coordination It suggests that the Bologna Process works as a subtle means to circumvent the EU's subsidiarity principle making it possible to accomplish a European governance of higher education despite the fact that education falls outside EU's legislative reach The book's research interest in translation processes agency and power relations among policy actors positions it in studies on policy transfer policy borrowing and globalization However different from conventional approaches this study draws on additional interpretive frameworks such as new materialism

Governing Children, Families and Education M. Bloch, Thomas S. Popkewitz, K. Holmlund, I. Moqvist, 2016-09-27 This is a collection of essays that address the international changes in welfare policy The book discusses the new patterns of governing associated with the notions of welfare care and education that emerge during the late Twentieth and early Twenty first centuries The issues examined are among others the role of international donors and their emphasis on efficiency and lower social subsidies international migration and its impact on welfare policy inclusions and exclusions and national policy change While representing many different locations and traditions contributors work within a variety of critical theoretical perspectives that critique our cultural ways of reasoning about the care and education of the child the role and practice of the state and the social and cultural construction of citizenship and nationhood

Governing Education Paul C. Bauman, 1996 The purpose of this work is to clarify issues and opportunities associated with changes in educational governance The work of scholars practitioners advisory groups and citizens come together around the politics of education

Governing States and Localities Kevin B. Smith, Alan Greenblatt, 2016-11-30 The partisan and ideological polarization associated with federal government plagues states and localities too bringing with it significant implications for public policy and intergovernmental relations The trusted and proven Governing States and Localities guides students through these issues and continues its focus on the role economic and budget pressures play With their engaging journalistic writing and crisp storytelling Kevin B Smith and Alan Greenblatt employ a comparative approach to explain how and why states and localities are both similar and different in institutional structure culture history economy geography and demographics A great blend of high quality academic analysis and the latest scholarship the Sixth Edition is thoroughly updated to account for such major developments as state vs federal conflicts over immigration reform gun control and voter rights health and education reforms aimed at improving the effectiveness of state and local government service delivery and the lingering effects of the Great Recession

Fabricating Quality in Education Jenny Ozga, Peter Dahler-Larsen, Christina Segerholm, Hannu Simola, 2011-12-22 This book argues that data and their use constitute a form of governance of education It highlights the ways in which education is steered and managed so that a European education policy space is fabricated through data which travel across national systems and which enter and restructure provision to make it measurable comparable and governable

Modernising School Governance Andrew Wilkins, 2016-06-10 Modernising School Governance examines the impact of recent market based reforms on the role of governors in the English state education system A focus of the book concerns how government and non government demands for strong governance have been translated to mean improved performance management of senior school leaders and greater monitoring and disciplining of governors This book addresses fundamental questions about the neoliberal logic underpinning these reforms and how governors are being trained and responsibilised in new ways to enhance the integrity of these developments Drawing on large scale research conducted over three years the book examines the impact of these reforms on the day to day practices of governors and the diminished role of democracy in these contexts Wilkins also captures the economic and political rationalities shaping the conduct of governors at this time and traces these expressions to wider structural developments linked to depoliticisation decentralisation and disintermediation This book addresses timely and original issues concerning the role of corporate planning and expert handling to state education at a time of increased school autonomy shrinking local government support oversight and tight centralised accountability It will appeal to researchers and postgraduate students in disciplines of education sociology political science public policy and management It will also be of interest to researchers and policy makers from countries with similar or emerging quasi market education systems

Quality and Qualities: Tensions in Education Reforms Clementina Acedo,Don Adams,Simona Popa,2012-09-07 Quality and Qualities Tensions in Education Reforms is a provocative call for understanding and further exploring the elusive concept of quality in education Although education quality has acquired high priority in the past few decades the multiplicity of conceptualizations of quality also reflects the concerns and foci of multiple stakeholders Coming to an understanding of quality education involves careful analysis of the context from which any particular reform or program emerges and of the continuing struggle to define and achieve it Two main questions persist who benefits from particular policies focused on quality And what are the potential tradeoffs between a focus on quality equitable distribution of education and inclusion of various traditional expectations This book explores notions of quality as understood within various systems of national formal and nonformal education Also it considers the tensions that arise with the introduction of new standardized notions of quality in relation to international measures and educational reforms in developing countries In all cases specific national issues and concerns compete with global agendas Challenges to quality that are given particular attention in the book chapters include changing definitions of quality high expectations for education and issues with implementation and the introduction of English as a means to achieve quality in a globalizing world Special attention is also given to possible actions that support a more equitable education without ignoring the requisite of quality The final chapter suggests three models choices for seeking higher quality and guiding the educational future of nations

Intimate Accounts of Education Policy Research Camilla Addey,Nelli Piattoeva,2021-09-30 What do we actually do when we research education policy and governance Why do we tame the messy hinterland of research into smooth accounts and what do we lose in the process In this volume distinguished scholars in education policy and governance research discuss how the practice of methods is messy subjective and provisional They approach methodology as riddled with tensions doubts troubles and mundane decisions Scholarship in this book shifts from recording the methodological hinterland to putting it to productive use as resources for thinking about the researched world and about research itself This methodological openness helps to examine how research reproduces scholars metaphysics how research is a deeply embodied process encompassing all senses how scholars concerns interfere in the worlds they study but also how these equally interfere with researchers By challenging smooth methodological accounts which conceal the complex and provisional nature of research this book offers new approaches in education policy and governance research that are more generative insightful and sincere Offering new ways of thinking about research methodologies the book will be of great interest to researchers academics and post graduate students in the fields of education research and education theory as well as social scientists interested in research methodologies more broadly

Governing the Child in the New Millennium Kenneth Hultqvist, Gunilla Dahlberg, 2001 This edited collection looks at the changes to the status of the child and childhood wrought by globalization

Gender, Governance and Feminist Analysis Christine M Hudson, Malin Rönnblom, Katherine Teghtsoonian, 2017-07-14 This edited volume presents critical scholarship analysing governance practices in diverse jurisdictions in Europe and North America at multiple scales and in relation to several different arenas of policy and practice The contributors address shortcomings in the mainstream literature on governance within the discipline of political science The volume as a whole is marked by geographical and topical diversity However what the individual chapters have in common is that each considers whether and how gender racialized identity and or other axes of marginalization are visible within the conceptualizations and or practices of governance under discussion Drawing together insights and conceptual tools from both feminist and post structuralist frameworks in analysing governance practices this volume will be of great interest to scholars and graduates who engage with feminist and or post structural analysis of policy and governance It will also be of use to critical policy scholars in anthropology geography sociology and women s studies
