Heritage Writing:

Heritage Writing Marie Thérèse Gass, 1996 Writing Your Heritage Deborah Dixon, 1993 This teaching guide is the result of 3 years of thinking trying rethinking and trying again with an assignment sequence in which one instructor attempted to address the personal as well as the academic needs of students in the Program of Intensive English at the University of California at Santa Barbara According to the guide many of these students Hispanics African Americans Asian Americans Native Americans and Caucasians lack fluency in written English and find writing onerous The guide states that the writing sequence combines reading short writing exercises and journal entries plus individual and group activities that culminate in a series of essay assignments It explains that this series focuses on the heritage and backgrounds of students and takes them from Noting Down journal writings through Looking Back personal recollection and family stories through Looking Into research projects and research papers to the Thinking Through thesis essay The guide states that the curriculum is structured so that each assignment builds not only on preceding exercises and essay assignments but also anticipates those that follow and includes an introduction to the student's notebook that synthesizes all that has been discussed written and experienced Appended are reading assignments a list of 13 library resources a list of 19 additional readings and a grading rubric NKA

Ethnic Positioning in Southwestern Mixed Heritage Writing Judit Ágnes Kádár, 2022-04-04 Ethnic Positioning in Southwestern Mixed Heritage Writing explores how Southwestern writers and visual artists provide an opportunity to turn a stigmatized identity into a self-conscious holder of valuable assets cultural attitudes and memories The problem of mixed ethno cultural heritage is a relevant feature of North American populations faced by millions Narratives on blended heritage show how mixed race authors utilize their multiple ethnic experiences knowledge archives and sensibilities They explore how individuals attempt to cope with the cognitive anxiety stigmas and perceptions that are intertwined in their blended ethnic heritage family and social dynamics and the renegotiation of their ethnic identity The Southwest is a region riddled by Eurocentric and Colonial concepts of identity yet at the same time highly treasured in the Frontier experiences of physical mobility and mental and spiritual journeys and transformations Judit Ágnes Kádár argues that the process of ethnic positioning is a choice made by mixed heritage people that results in renegotiated identities leading to more complex and engaging concepts of themselves

Interpreting Heritage Steve Slack, 2020-11-29 Interpreting Heritage is a practical book about the planning and delivery of interpretation that will give anyone working in the heritage sector the confidence and tools they need to undertake interpretation. Steve Slack suggests a broad formula for how interpretation can be planned and executed and describes some of the most popular and potentially challenging or provocative forms of interpretation. Slack also provides practical guidance about how to deliver different forms of interpretation while avoiding potential pitfalls. Exploring some of the ethical questions that arise when presenting information to the public and offering a grounding in some of the theory that underpins interpretive work, the book will be suitable for those who are completely new to interpretation. Those who already have some experience will benefit from tools, advice, and ideas to help build on their existing practice. Drawing upon the author's professional experiences of working within and for the heritage sector, Interpreting Heritage provides advice and suggestions that will be essential for practitioners working in museums, art galleries, libraries, archives, outdoor sites, science centres, castles, stately homes, and other heritage venues around the world. It will also be of interest to students of museum and heritage studies who want to know more about how heritage interpretation works in practice The Trace Factory Yves Jeanneret, 2020-06-03 The collection and treatment of traces, which reveal who we are and what we do, naturally piques our interest when it pertains to others and anxiety when it concerns ourselves. Do we truly know what a trace is? And if knowledge is power, how vulnerable are we in the public sphere? The demonstrability of a trace hides the complexity of the process that allows it to be produced, interpreted, and used. This book proposes a reasoned approach to the analysis of the trace as an object and as a sign. By following such an approach, the reader will understand how the media participates in the creation and deployment of traces and the issues raised by what can be traced on social media. The Trace Factory offers a historical perspective, returning to the founding theories of collecting and producing traces linked to knowledge and power in society. Observing technology and information through the prism of these theories, a large number of devices and their uses are evaluated. This book offers itself as a tool of thought and work for researchers, professionals, and social actors of all kinds who are confronted with the existence treatment and interpretation of the traces of society and culture Heritage Victoria Sackville-West,1919 Literary Disinheritance Najat Rahman,2008-01-01 Literary Disinheritance examines post nationalist articulations of home in the writing of the Palestinian poet Mahmoud Darwish and the Algerian writer Assia Djébar providing a rare comparative and interdisciplinary analysis of contemporary writers from the Mashreq and the Maghreb
